March 5: Andhra—41, Bihar—20, Himachal Pradesh—2, Nagaland—1, Orissa—20, Punjab—13, Haryana—9, Uttar Pradesh—55, Chandigarh—1, Dadra and Nagar Haveli—1, and Delhi—7.

March 6: Jammu and Kashmir—1, Kerala—10, Maharashtra—17 (including five Greater Bombay seats), Nagaland—1, and Rajasthan—21.

March 7: Jammu and Kashmir—2, Mysore—14, Tamil Nadu—13, Manipur—1, and Tripura—2.

March 10: West Bengal—40.

April 18: Nagpur.

May 16: Mandi.

June 6: Ladakh.

Weight of Ballot Papers: Ballot papers printed for the elections weighed in all 862 tonnes.

No. of Polling Stations: There were 342,980 polling stations — an increase of 75,425 over the 1967 general election.

Personnel Engaged: A total of nearly 1·36 million personnel were engaged for the elections.

Cost of Poll: The poll cost Rs. 150 million — 200 per cent more than the expenditure incurred in the 1967 general election.

Increase in Electorate: The electorate increased in 1970 by 20,855,185. In 1967 it was 250,591,106 and in 1971 it became 271,446,291.

Women Voters: In the first general election in 1952, only 28,132,000 (37·1 per cent) out of the 77,286,000 women voters went to the polling booths.

But, 51,128,000 out of the 94,461,000 men voters exercised their franchise, constituting 55 per cent.

In the 1967 general election, 66,264,000 out of the 119,434,000 women voters and 86,460,000 out of the 129,569,000 men voters registered their votes — 55·5 per cent and 66·7 per cent respectively.

While there was a sharp rise of 18·4 per cent in the number of women voters between 1952 to 1967, the increase in the case of men voters was only 11·7 per cent during this period.

The gap in the percentage of votes polled by men and women in 1952 was 17·9. This narrowed down in the subsequent general elections — 15·5 in 1962 and 11·2 in 1967.

This gap decreased further in the 1971 election when 81 million women voters cast their votes.

INDUSTRIAL OPPORTUNITIES IN INDIA

IN the 1972 Directory we had published similar details of Grinding Wheels; Midget Electrodes; Graphite Criucibles and Silicon Carbide Crucibles; Graphite Electrodes and Anodes; Polyols; Silicones and Bi-axially Oriented Polystyrene film.

Following is a new list of items with attractive potentials as prepared by the Indian Investment Centre, Jeevan Vihar, Parliament Street, New Delhi 110001.

TYPEWRITERS

According to the assessment prepared by the Planning Commission some time back the indigenous demand for the various types of typewriters at the end of the Fourth Plan has been estimated to be of the order of 100,000 nos. per year.

Present Position : The total licensed capacity of 4 firms engaged in the production of typewriters is 86,400 nos. per annum. One of the firms, J. K. Business Machines Ltd., Calcutta, who are manufacturing portable typewriters have, however, gone out of production.

Production : The total production (in Nos.) of typewriters during 1969 was 28,373 and during 1970 it was 38,525.

Firms now in production of typewriters together with the names of their collaborators in brackets are : 1. Remington Rand of India Ltd., 3, Council House Street, Calcutta 700001 (Sperry Rand Corporation, USA); 2. Rayala Corporation Pvt. Ltd., 25A, Mount Road, Madras 600032 (Facit A. B., Sweden); 3. Godrej & Boyce Mfg. Co. Pvt.

Ltd., Lalbaug, Bombay 400012 Veb Optima, East Germany (since terminated).

Additional Capacity Approved : Having regard to the increased demand for typewriters during the coming years Government of India have issued letters of intent to the following firms for capacities indicated against each :

Name of the firm	Name of the item	Capacity per annum in Nos.
Remington Rand of India Ltd., Faridabad.	Portable typewriters	15,000
Mohan M. Shah, Andhra-Pradesh.	Electric typewriters	24,000
P. R. Ramachandran, Madras.	Portable typewriters	15,000
S. Sheshadri, Allahabad.*	Standard, Portable and Electric typewriters	15,600

* Foreign collaboration approved.

Exports : Typewriter is a fairly labour oriented item and therefore offers good scope for exports. A beginning has already been made in exports as can be seen from the following figures of exports (in Rs. '000) 1968–69 : 538 ; 1969–70 : 331 ; 1970–71 : 940.

Raw Materials : The main raw materials required for the manufacture of typewriters are various types of steel, in the form of strips, sheets and wires, seamless tubes and primary nickel. These would account for approximately 15 per cent of the cost of the finished product. Except for primary nickel and cold rolled steel strips indigenous capacity exists for other raw materials.

Scope : Taking into account the increase in demand for typewriters, potential for export , and also the gestation period for this industry, there seems to be still scope for setting up fresh capacity in this field.

Plant Size : It is considered that a unit with a capacity for the manufacture of 12,000 typewriters per annum would be an economic one. Such a unit would involve a total investment of Rs. 4 million, of which the capital goods would be of the order of Rs. 3 million comprising Rs. 2 million worth of imported capital goods and Rs. 1 million worth of capital goods from indigenous manufacturers.

Policy

According to the Guidelines on Foreign Collaboration and Investment, typewriters figure in list 1 (A) wherein foreign investment as well as technical collaboration is permissible. However, Government will give greater importance to proposals which are predominantly for the manufacture of portable typewriters and electric typewriters.

SEWING MACHINES

Sewing machine, as the name implies, is a mechanical device, hand or foot/electrically operated, used for sewing cloth, canvas and leather goods.

Present Position : There are at present five units in the organised sector engaged in the manufacture of sewing machines with a total annual installed capacity of 533,500 nos. The names of the firms and their respective installed capacity in brackets are : 1. Jay Engineering Works Ltd., 183A, P. A. Shah Road, Calcutta 700031. (300,000) ; 2. Sansar Machines Pvt. Ltd. (formerly known as Mahabir Export and Import Co. Pvt. Ltd.), Shahdara, Delhi 110032, (72,000) ; 3. Rita Mechanical Works, Ludhiana 141001. (33,500) ; 4. British Machinery Supplies Co., Faridabad. (28,000) ; 5. Jay Engineering Works Ltd., Sanatnagar. Hyderabad 500018. (100,000).

Production : The total production of sewing machines (in Nos.) in the organised sector during the year 1970 was 177,961 and during 1971 it was 337,632.

As sewing machine is a fairly labour-intensive product, a number of small scale units have taken up the production of this item. Most of the small scale units, however, have specialised in the manufacture of sewing machine components though some of them also assemble sewing machines. According to a rough estimate, there are more than 200 such units in the small scale sector. These are mainly located in Punjab, Uttar Pradesh and Delhi. The capacity of the units in the small scale sector manufacturing complete sewing machines is reckoned at 0·2 million nos. Thus the total installed capacity for sewing machines both in the organised and small scale sectors works out to approximately 0·73 million Nos.

Demand : The domestic sewing machine, being a common consumer product, has become almost an essential item in every household. With the increase in population and increase in per capita income, the demand for domestic sewing machines is steadily on the increase. Similarly, there has been an increase in the demand from the industrial sector as well. With the establishment of more and more units for ready-made garments and leatherwear, the estimated demand at the end of the Fourth Plan period is reckoned at 0·6 million nos. and this is expected to increase at an average rate of 15 per cent per annum during the Fifth Plan period. The demand for sewing machines by the end of the Fifth Five Year Plan is, therefore, expected to be of the order of 1·05 million nos. There would thus be a significant gap to the extent of about 0·3 million nos. There is, therefore, still scope for new units to come up even to meet the domestic requirements for sewing machines.

Economic Unit : Having regard to the need to have a proper research and development organisation within the unit in order to keep abreast of the developments in this field in the international market, it is considered that a unit should have a capacity for the manufacture of 50,000 sewing machines per annum. It is also suggested that such a unit should not only go in for the manufacture of domestic sewing machines but also plan substantial capacity for the manufacture of industrial sewing machines for which there is no capacity whatsoever at present. The investment involved for the establishment of such a unit would, to a large extent, depend upon the plans to organise ancillary units for the manufacture of some of the components. It would be advisable for the parent unit to confine itself to the manufacture of some of the more important components such as Bobbin Case Face Plate Link with Stud Needle Bar, Oscillating Rack Shaft, Shuttle and Carrier with Spring, Square Rollers, Thread Take-Up lever and offload the rest of the components for production to the ancillary units, mostly in the small scale sector. By doing so, the investment of the parent unit could be reduced considerably increasing its competitive position not only in the domestic market but also in the international market. The parent unit would however be solely responsible for providing new designs, testing facilities, technical advice, quality control etc., so that the responsibility for maintaining quality could rest fully with the parent unit.

Bulk of the machinery required for the manufacture of sewing machines is manufactured indigenously. Special purpose machinery used in the production of a number of components is also manufactured indigenously.

Raw Materials: The principal raw materials required for the manufacture of sewing machines are: pig iron, steels of various specifications, teak ply, painting and polishing materials. These are available indigenously, although at present there is some difficulty regarding the availability of special steels.

Exports: Indian sewing machines and parts are being exported to a number of countries i.e. Afghanistan, Nepal, Burma, Malaysia, Middle East, Singapore, U.K. and Canada. Recently there has been a good demand for certain sewing machine components from Japan also. There are still a number of countries e.g. France, Italy, Australia, Korea, Thailand and Brazil where markets can be explored for Indian sewing machines. The total exports of this item from India during the last three years were (in Rs. million): 1968-69: 4·58; 1969–70: 7·47; 1970–71: 2·58.

Government's Policy: Imports of sewing machines (domestic type) and sewing machine parts are banned. The present policy permits foreign collaboration for the manufacture of industrial sewing machines (such as lock stitch, chain stitch, zig zag stitch, button hole stitch, over-edge stitch, Hat back stitch, button sewing stitch and cross stitch) up to the speed range of 8,000 stitches per minute.

PRINTING MACHINERY

The printed word has assumed considerable importance as a means of mass communication with the increasing literacy of the people of the country on one hand and the increased requirement for printed material from the expanding industrial sector on the other. The demand for printed materials of all types such as newspapers, periodicals, books, illustrated literature, advertising material, attractive packaging covers etc. has increased calling for the establishment of additional facilities for printing. There are approximately 23,500 to 24,000 presses in India in operation. Approximately forty per cent of these presses employ personnel varying between 1 and 10 and thirty-six per cent employ between 11 and 25. The number of printing presses employing more than 1,000 persons is hardly 50.

Present Position: The following six units are at present manufacturing Printing Machinery of the simpler type in the organised sector:

1. Printers House (Pvt.) Ltd., 10 Scindia House, New Delhi 110001; 2. Printers Engg. Co., Metro Estate, S. G. Barve Marg (West), Kalina, Bombay 400029; 3. Gujarat Machinery Manufacturers Ltd., Station Road, Karamsad Distt. Kaira, Gujarat; 4. India Machinery Co. Ltd., Makada Road, Das Nagar, Howrah 711105; 5. Maya Engineering Works (Pvt.) Ltd., Russa Road, South Tollygunge, Calcutta; 6. Britannia Engineering Co. Ltd., Titagarh, 24-Parganas, West Bengal.

In addition to the above units in the private sector, Hindustan Machine Tools went into production in August this year when it commenced production of automatic letter press printing machines in collaboration with Nebiolo of Italy. The public sector unit has an installed capacity valued at approximately Rs. 35 million. Progressively the capacity of this unit will go up to Rs. 98 million by the middle of the Fifth Plan.

Production and Imports: The total installed capacity of the firms in the private sector for printing machinery is approximately Rs. 10 million. Production during 1970 and 1971 was Rs. 3·3 million and Rs. 3·5 million respectively. The under utilisation in the capacity is not due to lack of offtake but is mainly due to the limited range and types covered by the indigenous manufacturers.

Import Policy: As indigenous production is limited both in terms of range and type, most of the requirements for printing machinery are made through imports. The types of machines imported during 1969–70 and 1970–71 were as follows:

Type of Machinery	Value Rs. Million 1969–70	1970–71
Type casting & Setting machines ..	7·70	6·40
Offset Rotary printing machine presses	13·70	18·80
Proof presses	0·12	0·27
Rotary presses	4·31	10·12
Printing presses N.E.S. & parts ..	46·64	41·70
Total	72·47	77·29

Demand: According to the assessment made on the requirements of printing machinery by the Working Group Panel, it is estimated that by the end of 1973–74 demand for various types of printing machines would be of the order of Rs. 120 million. The details regarding the requirements of various types of equipment in broad categories are given below:

Type	Nos.	Approximate value (Rs. million)
Platen presses	1,200	1·4
Stop cylinder letter presses ..	500	30·0
Two revolution letter presses ..	200	15·0
Rotary letter press printing machines	10	6·0
Offset (sheet fed and web fed) machines	250	25·0
Proofing presses	1,000	2·5

To the above figures should be added the requirement of various spare parts and allied equipment, the demand for which would be anything between Rs. 40 and Rs. 50 million by 1973–74.

Raw Material: Most of the machines required for the production of printing machines are conventional medium to heavy machine tools such as centre, turret and capstan lathes, horizontal vertical and universal milling machines, surface grinders, universal grinders and gear hobbing machines. By and large these are available indigenously.

The basic raw materials required are pig Iron, M.S. Plates and Bars, Alloy Steels including forging quality steels, cold drawn M.S. Bars and certain non-ferrous metals.

Process of Manufacture: Facilities required for the manufacture of printing machinery are more or less similar to what would be available in a heavy machine shop. Manufacture of printing machinery could, therefore, be taken up by some of the existing manufacturers having heavy machinery as part of their diversification programme.

Scope for additional capacity : As there is wide gap between the demand and the approved capacity, there is still scope for further expansion in this field. Some of the specific items for which there is need to establish additional capacity are lino-type composing and casting machines, inter-type composing machines, rotary machines, offset printing machines, binding and box-making machines.

Exports: Like all machinery items, "printing machinery" is also a labour intensive item and offers good scope for exports. Even with the limited range of production that has been established, the industry has been in a position to export printing machines to a value of Rs. 0·3 million annually.

Government's Policy : Printing machinery is a non-scheduled industry and does not therefore require a licence under the Industries Development and Regulation Act, 1951. However, being a CORE industry, schemes relating to the manufacture of printing machinery are required to be approved by the Government. Foreign technical collaboration is permitted for the manufacture of printing machinery. It is included in list 1 (B) of the guidelines on Foreign Investment and Collaboration.

HIGH TENSION INSULATORS

The demand for high tension insulators is increasing at a very rapid rate because of the country's intensified development programmes for power generation and transmission and for communication facilities such as the expansion of telephone and telegraph networks. It is estimated that the demand for high tension insulators would rise to about 25,000 tonnes by 1973–74. In order to meet this growing demand it has been proposed to create a capacity of 31,250 tonnes by 1973–74.

There is considerable demand for disc insulators of high electro-mechanical strength of above 25,000 lbs. transformer bushings, post insulators above 66 KV and solid core insulators for railway tracks. There is very little production of these items at present in India.

Status of the Industry : At present there are 7 units in production, with a total annual installed capacity of 16,620 tonnes against a licensed capacity of 21,560 tonnes. They are :

1. Allied Ceramics Pvt. Ltd., 91, Dharamtala St., Calcutta ; 2. Bengal Potteries Ltd., 45, Tangra Road, Calcutta ; 3. High Tension Insulator Factory, P.O. Namkum, Ranchi, Bihar ; 4. Jaya Shree Textiles and Industries Ltd., Rishra, West Bengal ; 5. Mysore Porcelains Ltd., Malleswaram, Bangalore 560012 ; 6. Seshasayee Industries Ltd., Vadalur, Tamil Nadu ; 7. W. S. Insulators of India Ltd., Dhun Bldg., Mount Road, Madras 600002.

The production in tonnes of H.T. insulators during last three years was as follows : 1968 : 13,280 ; 1969 : 15,435 ; 1970 : 17,450.

Imports: India is importing major requirements of special type insulators such as solid core insulators, bushings, etc. The import, in this category is of the order of Rs. 3·5 million a year.

Raw Material : There are extensive deposits of good quality China clay found in all parts of India. Some of the deposits of china clay found in the States of Bihar, Andhra Pradesh and Kerala are of superior grade.

The following raw materials, namely quartz, feldspar, limestone and components like malleable castings and line hardware are also available in the country.

Ball clay is still required to be imported for manufacturing special types of High Tension Insulators although there are deposits of good plastic fine clay in Gujarat and Bihar which are now being exploited for commercial production.

Plant Size : A unit with a starting capacity of 2,000 tonnes per year could operate economically, for which the total investment is estimated at Rs. 3·5 million to Rs. 4·0 million on plant and machinery. Of this, foreign exchange for import of plant and equipment needed would be about Rs. 1·8 million to Rs. 2·0 million. To this the cost of land, building etc. amounting to Rs. 1·0 million should be added.

The raw material requirement in tonnes of the plant will be : China clay : 600 ; Ball clay : 750 ; Quartz : 600 ; Feldspar : 600 ; Stains and colours such as iron oxide, chrome oxide etc. : 15.

Components like malleable castings and line hardware can be bought from outside.

Government's Policy: As from the figures given above it will be seen that there is scope for setting further capacity in this field. Since the cost of imported equipments will exceed the exemption limit provided under the revised industrial licensing policy, it will be necessary to obtain an industrial licence under Industries (Development and Regulation) Act, 1951 for establishing a unit.

This industry is included in list 1 (A) of the Guidelines for Foreign Collaborations according to which both financial and technical collaboration will be permitted by the Government of India.

LEATHER FOOTWEAR

Leather industry has played a vital role in our national economy and export of leather items has been an important source of foreign exchange earning to the country. The pattern of leather exports has, however, undergone a change during the past decade with the rising contribution of finished and semi-finished leather in place of raw hides and skins. Among the various leather products, footwear has gained increasing importance in recent years in export markets.

The Demand and Existing Position : The demand for leather footwear during the Fourth Plan period has been estimated at 200 million pairs against which the present production is of the order of 156 million pairs.

The following units are at present engaged in the manufacture of leather footwear in the organised sector :

1. Bata Shoe Co. (Pvt.) Ltd., Batanagar, 24-Parganas, West Bengal ; 2. Bata Shoe Co. (Pvt.) Ltd., Dighaghat, Bihar ; 3. Bombay Footwear Pvt. Ltd., Deonar, P.O. Chembur, Bombay 400077 ; 4. Carona Sahu Co. Ltd., 143 M. Gandhi Road, Bombay 400001 ; 5. Chrome Leather Co. Pvt. Ltd., P.O. Chromepet, Madras 600044 ; 6. National Tannery Co. Ltd., 1 Middleton St., Calcutta 700016 ; 7. Prime Products Ltd., P.B. No. 80, Kanpur 208001 ; 8. Tannery & Footwear Corpn. of India Ltd., $^{13}/_{400}$, Civil Lines, Hazari Bungalow, Kanpur 208001.

The contribution of these eight large scale units in this field is approximately 15·9 million pairs, accounting for 10 per cent of total output while the bulk of production is from the small scale and cottage units.

In addition to the domestic demand, there is also potential market for leather footwear in foreign countries. Export of leather footwear as compared to other items made of leather during the past few years is indicated below:

(Value in Rs. Million)

Description	1968–69	1969–70	1970–71	Percentage increase or decrease in 1970–71 over 1969–70 exports
Leather & Leather Manufactures	800	980	800	18% decrease
Leather footwear	70	70	90	30% increase

Exports of leather footwear has thus increased appreciably although the export of other leather products as a whole has suffered a setback in 1970–71.

Although India has the largest cattle population in the world with 240 million heads of cattle, the country's share in the total world trade in footwear amounting to roughly Rs. 5,000 million constitutes barely 2 per cent. There is, therefore, considerable scope for boosting up our exports in this field.

The principal tanning centres in India are Madras and Calcutta while Agra is an important centre for the manufacture of shoes. Almost the entire production export of EI leather and 60 per cent of the wet blue production and export is from Madras. There is, however, good scope for the establishment of leather and leather footwear units in many other States in the country where equal facilities for raw material supply and accessibility to ports are available.

Raw Material: The important raw materials required for the manufacture of leather footwear are chrome tanned upper leather, sole leather, rubber soles boots and shoes grindery, adhesives, threads etc., which are available indigenously. The following units are at present engaged in the manufacture of chrome tanned uppers from hides and calf skins: 1. Bata Shoe Co. (Pvt.) Ltd., Batanagar, 24-Parganas, West Bengal; 2. Prime Products Ltd., P.B. No. 80, Kanpur 208001; 3. Chrome Leather Co. Pvt. Ltd., Chrompet, Madras 600044; 4. Gordon, Woodroffe Leather Mfg. Co. Pvt. Ltd., Pallavaram, Madras 600043; 5. National Tannnery Co. Ltd., 1 Middleton St., Calcutta 700016; 6. Sreenivas & Co., 10 Sydenham Road, Periamet, Madras 600003; 7. Tannery & Footwear Corpn. of India Ltd., 13/400 Civil Lines, Hazari Bungalow, Kanpur 208001; 8. Western India Tanneries Ltd., Dharavi, Bombay 400017.

In addition there are hundreds of small scale units in various States producing chrome upper leather and other raw materials required in the manufacture of leather footwear.

Investment Opportunities: Since the gap between the demand at the end of Fourth Plan and the present production is about 40 million pairs, there is vast scope for the setting up of a number of medium scale as well as small scale mechanised units within the country. In recognising the higher employment potential per unit of investment in small scale sector, Government of India has reserved the development of this industry in small scale sector except for expansion of the existing units and new units for exports. The manufacture of leather footwear requires an industrial licence under Industries (Development & Regulation) Act, 1951 if the investment on plant and machinery exceeds Rs. 750,000. No foreign collaboration (Financial and/or Technical) is considered necessary for this industry. However, for highly export-oriented projects, envisaging export of 75 to 100 per cent of production, foreign collaboration may be considered on merits.

Plant Size: The economic capacity for a mechanised unit is of the order of 100,000 pairs per annum. The investment on plant and machinery would be about Rs. 450,000 out of which machinery worth Rs. 300,000 is to be in a position to provide jobs to about 60 persons.

BABY FOOD AND WEANING FOOD

Baby Food: The estimated demand for infant milk food by 1973–74 is of the order of 45,000 tonnes against which the present licensed and installed capacity is as follows:

	Licensed capacity (Tonnes)	Installed capacity (Tonnes)
Gujarat	13,250	13,250
Uttar Pradesh	6,500	6,500
Punjab	3,728	1,005
TOTAL	23,478	20,755

In addition, Government of India has approved a capacity of 11,409 tonnes of infant milk food in the following pattern:

Indian Dairy Entrepreneurs Ltd., Jaipur — 2,500 tonnes; Geoffrey Manners and Co. Pvt. Ltd., Magnet House, Ballard Estate, Bombay 400001 — 2,500 tonnes; Infant Foods Pvt. Ltd., New Delhi — 2,500 tonnes; Haryana Dairy Development Corporation, Haryana—1,500 tonnes; Lt. Col. Murais, Landons Road, Madras 600010 — 2,409 tonnes; Total 11,409 tonnes.

There is, therefore, good scope for allowing additional capacity for the manufacture of infant milk food.

1. Food Specialities (P) Ltd., G. T. Road, Moga 142001, Punjab; 2. Glaxo Laboratories (I) Ltd., Dr. A. Besant Road, Worli, Bombay 400018; 3. Hindustan Levers Ltd., Etah, U.P.; 4. Hindustan Milk Food Manufacturers Ltd., Patiala Road, Nabha, Punjab; 5. Kaira Dist. Co-operative Milk Producers' Union Ltd., Anand 388001, Gujarat; 6. Pradeshik Co-operative Dairy Federation Ltd., 29, Park Road, Lucknow 226001, U.P.

Production of infant milk food in the organised sector during the last few years was as follows:

Year	Installed Capacity (Tonnes)	Production (Tonnes)
1969	16,933	15,588
1970	19,233	15,677
1971	20,983	16,591

Weaning Food: The demand for weaning food is estimated to be of the order of 25,000 tonnes by 1973–74 against which the following capacity has been licensed and installed :

State	Licensed capacity (Tonnes)	Installed capacity (Tonnes)
Maharashtra	360	360
Gujarat	6,000	—
Uttar Pradesh	3,000	—
Punjab	450	450
TOTAL	9,810	810

In addition, the scheme of Kaira Dist. Co-operative Milk Producers' Union Ltd., Anand has been approved for the manufacture of 6,000 tonnes of weaning food based on soya flour apart from the scheme of Shri Pratap Singh B. Rana, Goa for the manufacture of weaning food with a capacity of 1,500 tonnes per annum.

The following firms are at present engaged in the manufacture of weaning food in the organised sector : 1. Food Specialities Ltd., Moga 142001, Punjab ; 2. Glaxo Laboratories (I) Ltd., Dr. Annie Besant Road, Worli, Bombay 400018.

Production of weaning food during the last three years was as follows :

Year	Installed Capacity (Tonnes)	Production (Tonnes)
1969	620	389
1971	810	1,005

Raw Material: The major raw material required in the manufacture of infant milk food and weaning food is fluid milk. As sufficient quantities of milk might not be available in the vicinity of the factory, it may be necessary to meet a portion of the requirements by use of skim milk powder at least for the initial years.

Machinery : The following firms are engaged in the manufacture of dairy machinery : 1. A. P. V. Engg. Co. Pvt. Ltd., 2 Jessore Road, Dum Dum, Calcutta ; 2. Larsen & Toubro Ltd., L and T House, Dougal Road, Ballard Estate, Bombay 400001 ; 3. Vulcan Laval Ltd., Indian Mercantile Chamber, Mustafa Bldg., Nicol Road, Bombay 400001.

Plant Size : A project with a capacity of 10 tonnes per day of baby food and weaning food would involve a total capital outlay of approximately Rs. 10 million on plant and machinery out of which equipment to the value of Rs. 1·5 — Rs. 2·0 million may have to be imported.

The raw material requirements for a plant with the above capacity would be on the following pattern : Fluid Milk : 50,000 litres — 60,000 litres per day ; Skim Milk Powder : 700 tonnes — 800 tonnes per annum ; Cotton Seed Flour : 100 tonnes — 150 tonnes per annum ; Soya Flour : 100 tonnes — 150 tonnes per annum.

Government's Policy: Creation of further capacity in this field is likely to be encouraged, provided raw material supply is assured to the satisfaction the Government. Government, would prefer the entrepreneurs to develop production of milk through cattle improvement activities and not to draw milk from the milk shed areas earmarked by the State Governments for their programmes. No foreign collaboration is required in the manufacture of infant milk food as suitable knowhow has been developed indigenously.

This is one of the ideal industry for development in the co-operative sector.

STARCH

Starch may be regarded as a chain polyglucosidic macromolecule in its structure. Besides being the major constituent of the average diet, it has innumerable industrial applications in various fields such as manufacture of textiles, paper, adhesives, paints, detergents etc.

In India, starch is made from either tapioca or maize. The processes pertaining to these two differ slightly.

Process of Manufacture: (a) Starch from Maize : Corn is cleaned and softened in warm water containing sulphur dioxide. The kernels are then degerminated and the separated germ is floated away because of its oil content. Subsequently the hull and fibre particles are removed and the starch gluten suspension flows into centrifugal separators to separate starch from gluten. Thus the important by-products in this process are gluten and maize oil.

(b) Starch from Tapioca : After being pulped and washed, the starch milk from the roots and tubers of the plant is expelled by squeezing of pulp. Then the pulp is treated with sulphur dioxide and sent through a continuous horizontal centrifuge. The mixture is then separated and sieved and the milk is again passed through and sent for separation.

Demand : With the existing and potential requirements for starch in textile, paper and other industries, there is good scope for this item in India. Starch is also the main raw material needed in the manufacture of lactose which is currently imported to the value of about Rs. 4·5 million per annum. With the increased indigenous availability of starch for the manufacture of lactose and other glucose products, valuable foreign exchange could be saved by reducing import of these products. To meet the divergent requirements for this item, Government has estimated a production target of 500,000 tonnes by 1973–74.

Status of the Industry : Against this target, the licensed and the installed capacity for this product is as follows :

State	Licensed Capacity	Installed Capacity
Gujarat	114,000	114,000
Tamil Nadu	6,000	6,000
Andhra Pradesh	6,000	6,000
Punjab	6,000	6,000
Haryana	12,600	12,600
Kerala	42,000	20,000
Madhya Pradesh	4,000	4,000
TOTAL	190,600	168,600

Apart from this, letters of intent have been issued to three parties with a total capacity of 30,450 tonnes per annum.

Most of the units engaged in this field (see index for Starch manufacturers) are manufacturing starch primarily for textile industries. Thus manufacture of starch for specialised applications in paper and other industries is likely to be particularly encouraged by the Government.

Raw Material : The primary raw materials required are maize/tapioca and sulphur. Tapioca is mainly grown in the State of Kerala, whereas the cultivation of maize is spread throughout several States like Andhra Pradesh, Bihar, Maharashtra, Mysore, Orissa, Tamil Nadu, Uttar Pradesh, Assam and Gujarat.

The total production of maize during 1971–72 was 5·02 million tonnes and a target of 8·0 million tonnes for production of maize by 1973–74 is envisaged. Similarly the total production of Tapioca during 1971–72 was 5·94 million tonnes.

All the other raw materials except sulphur, are available in the country.

Plant Size: A plant with capacity of 9,000 tonnes/annum (30 tonnes per day) is considered to be an economic unit. This will involve a total capital outlay of about Rs. 5·5 million including machinery of the value of Rs. 3·0 to 3·5 million. Of this, foreign exchange component for plant and equipment would be of the order of about Rs. 0·4 to 0·5 million. As most of the machinery is being manufactured indigenously, only those specialised items like dewatering equipment need to be imported.

The major raw material requirements of a plant with the above capacity is : Maize : 15,000 tonnes per annum ; Sulphur : 60–70 tonnes per annum.

Government's Policy: This item has been included under the category of "maize products" in the list of 123 items issued by the Government of India, where there is likely to be sustained demand and scope for investment, Government is, therefore, likely to encourage setting up of further units in this field.

The total investment for a 30 tonnes/day starch plant being below Rs. 10 million and the foreign exchange for import of capital equipment and raw material being within the permissible limits of relaxations with regard to industrial licensing, as announced by the Government of India, the establishment of such a unit will not ordinarily require an industrial licence, under the Industries (Development & Regulation), Act, 1951.

INDIAN JOINT VENTURES ABROAD

Policy : An effort to set up Indian joint ventures abroad began in the sixties. This was done to increase India's exports and to foster economic co-operation between developing countries. Earlier India's equity participation was limited to export of machinery, equipment and technical know-how. In 1972 rules provided for the inclusion of expenses of structurals, steel and construction materials as well, if the equity value fell short of the necessary capital required to keep the Indian holding at a higher level. The rules allow minority participation by Indian companies.

Range : By now 150 Indian joint ventures have been approved to be set up in 35 countries of Asia, Africa, Latin America and even in Great Britain, Germany and Canada. The largest number (22) is in Malaysia — of which four were finalised in January 1973. Thirty-seven units have already gone into production, 61 are under implementation and 50 proposals have been abandoned.

Engineering industry constitute the bulk of such ventures, and textile machinery, sugar mill machinery, plant machinery, cement plants, soap, vanaspati, paper, automobile and cycle parts, garments and glass are manufactured by them. There are also steel-rolling mills, jute mills, and hotels. An asbestos cement and a hardboard unit has been set up in Canada and India is collaborating in setting up factories for oil engines, rice hulling machines and hose clips in West Germany.

Achievement : Joint ventures abroad have earned more than Rs. 79·6 million in foreign exchange for India. Rs. 68·3 million have been earned by the export of machinery and raw materials. The returns on dividends earned, know-how and technical fees, however, is delayed. The Rs. 11·4 million earned has been reported by only 10 projects.

Prospects : India is at an advantage compared to the developed countries in offering to participate in joint ventures because of lower costs and suitability of technology as regards developing countries where such ventures are executed.

Besides, the usual advantages that accrue from creating a market for Indian capital goods and the recurrent exports, the joint ventures can also skirt quota and tariff restriction imposed by countries like the members of the European Economic Community which show a preference for Africa and other developing regions.

Investment : The total Indian capital investment abroad is not expected to exceed Rs. 180 million while foreign investment in India is well over Rs. 15,000 million.

ALCOHOL INDUSTRY

WINE, SPIRIT & BEER

The liquor industry in the organised sector was set up at the turn of the last century although some units were started much earlier. The Indian liquor industry today manufactures wine, potable alcohol such as whisky, brandy, rum and gin and the breweries manufacture beer.

LOCATION OF THE INDUSTRY

The industry is located all over the country with the major units in the States of Himachal Pradesh, Uttar Pradesh, West Bengal, Andhra Pradesh and Mysore. Recently units have been set up in Bihar, Maharashtra and Goa. At present most of the units are in the private sector and there are proposals to set up units in the public sector also. The liquor industry in each State is subjected to rigorous controls enforced by the Excise Department of the State Governments. Manufacture and distribution of these products are directly controlled by the State Governments.

Production : Production of liquor in 1971 was 59,968 kilolitres.

EXPORTS

Export of Indian liquor in the last 3 years is given below :

(Value in Rs.)

	1969–70 April/ March	1970–71 April/ March	1971 April/ December

Others	20,427	23,568	19,503

IMPORTS

Under the existing import policy established importers are permitted quota licences upto 4 per cent. The basic period for the purpose of calculating the quotas have been from 1951-52 to 1968-69. The imports for the last 3 years is given below :—

PROHIBITION

The AICC under the chairmanship of Dr. Sushila Nayyar adopted a resolution on November 5, 1968 advising all State Governments, and particularly Congress Governments, to endeavour to bring about complete prohibition and to draw up a programme so that the policy be implemented in a period of seven years beginning October 2, 1969.

This directive, however, received a major set back in recent years since the State Governments found that they were losing revenue on one side and incurring heavy expenditure on the enforcement of the policy. As a result there was a gradual shift away from prohibition. Now only Gujarat has total prohibition and the rest of the States have either partial prohibition or are totally wet.

INDUSTRIAL ALCOHOL

It is a very valuable material in the manufacture of acetone, acetic acid, ether, chloroform, ethyl acetate polyethylene, styrene, polystyrene, etc. It is also necessary as a solvent in the manufacture of fine chemicals, medical preparations, toilets, etc. Since the last war, its importance has increased. It is now essential in the manufacture of ammunition and of artificial rubber.

According to the Tariff Commission, there were 19 distilleries with a total production of 60,000 kilo litres at the time of independence. In 1965, there were 60 distilleries in the country with a capacity of 275,000 kilo litres. Of these 37 were attached to sugar factories, and the rest were independent units.

Its production by 65 distilleries with an installed capacity of 322,445 kilolitres shrank from 253,392 kilolitres in 1970 to 253,000 kilolitres in 1971. The output is feared to have declined further in 1972, in spite of the number of the distilleries going up to 90 and the capacity up to 500,000 kilolitres, owing to drought conditions, and the 15 to 20 per cent fall in sugar cane crop.

The Government had to import about 40,000 tonnes of alcohol in 1972 and may have to import an equal amount this year to keep the alcohol based industries running.

AUTOMOBILE INDUSTRY

BRIEF HISTORY

Leading foreign manufacturers, recognising the scope, established assembly plants at Bombay, Calcutta and Madras. But, with Independence, two Indian factories — the Premier Automobiles Ltd. and Hindustan Motors Ltd. — were set up for progressive manufacture rather than for assembly from imported components. In 1953, acting on the recommendations of the Tariff Commission, Government made the then limited market available only to units having a genuine programme for progressive manufacture and terminated the activities of assemblers not offering manufacturing programmes and, at the same time, restricted the number of makes and models to be produced to a minimum so as to ensure economic volume of output. Again, on the recommendations made by the Tariff Commission in 1956, Government granted protection to the Industry for ten years with priority for manufacture of commercial vehicles, increased production of diesel vehicles and expansion of capacity of existing units. The ad hoc Committee, appointed by Government in 1959 under the Chairmanship of Mr. L. K. Jha, endorsed the recommendations of the Tariff Commission.

The automobile industry depends upon its ancillaries for the manufacture and supply of over 50 per cent of the 5,000 components that go to make an automobile.

LOCATION OF THE INDUSTRY

The bulk of the automobile and ancillary manufacturing units are located in Maharashtra and Tamil Nadu. Of the 17 manufacturers of automobiles, including tractors and two-cum-three wheelers, 5 are in Maharashtra, 4 in Tamil Nadu, with Andhra Pradesh, Bihar, Gujarat, Haryana, Madhya Pradesh, Mysore, Punjab and West Bengal having one each. The pattern of location of the 139 automobile ancillary manufacturing units is 55 in Maharashtra, 32 in Tamil Nadu, 11 in Delhi, 10 in West Bengal, 9 in Haryana, 7 in Gujarat, 5 in Mysore, 5 in Punjab, 3 in Andhra Pradesh, 1 in Madhya Pradesh and 1 in Rajasthan.

No. of Persons Employed : The industry offers immense employment potential both for workmen as well as technicians. The main vehicle sector employs over 52,000 in direct employment and the ancillaries in this sector are engaging the services of over 40,000 people in their manufacturing centres. Total employment brought about by this sector today is around 3·3 million.

Capital Investment : The capital investment in the automobile industry today is Rs. 2,540 million and in the ancillary industry Rs. 600 million. The investment both in the automobile dealer network and the spare parts trade is approximately Rs. 1,000 million.

G. N. P. of the Industry : The value of the automobile industry's products and services is in the region of Rs. 24,000 million, which constitutes approximately 8 per cent of the total industrial production of the country.

(k) excludes China; A: Passenger cars — motor vehicles usable as cars seating less than eight persons; B: Commercial vehicles.

Installed Capacity : Of the automobile industry at the end of 1970 was 62,500 commercial vehicles, 39,500 passenger cars, 10,000 jeeps and 104,500 other vehicles (motor cycles, three-wheelers, mopeds etc.); there has not been an appreciable increase in the installed capacity.

Cost Structure : The industry continued to suffer from high cost of production as in the earlier year. Raw materials accounted for 59·3 per cent of the total value of production and salaries and wages for 14·1 per cent. depreciation cost and other expenses accounted for 7·0 per cent and 13·5 per cent respectively.

Defence Vehicles : The Defence establishments manufacture Shaktiman trucks through an agreement with M.A.N. of West Germany and Nissan 1-ton trucks and Nissan (Jonga) jeep type vehicles. The vehicle factory at Jabalpur was established in 1969 for the manufacture of 6,000 Shaktiman 3-tonne trucks and 7,200 Nissan trucks and petrol vehicles per annum. From the information available the current rate of production of Nissan trucks and Nissan petrol vehicles is 200 nos. and 100 nos. per month, respectively.

GENERAL

Ancillary Products : Items like tyres, tubes, batteries, rubber parts, upholstery material and paints were all obtained from indigenous sources when the industry switched over from mere assembly of vehicles to manufacture. There are more than 150 units in the recognised automobile ancillary sector producing all spare parts and components required except for a few items. The production of various categories of spare parts and components during the year 1968-1970 by value are as under :—

(Rs. in million)

	1968	1969	1970
Engine Parts	291	327	408
Electrical Parts ..	64	81	86
Drive, Transmission and Steering Parts ..	129	164	195
Suspension and Braking Parts	174	195	235
Equipment	44	52	54
Chassis and Body Parts	32	32	55
Miscellaneous	108	110	144
Total	842	961	1,177

About 70 firms, in addition, are engaged in the manufacture of storage batteries, ball and roller bearings, leaf springs, H.T. bolts and nuts and tyres and tubes which are not classified exclusively as automobile ancillaries.

Research, Development and Training: Research and testing facilities for automobiles and automobile ancillaries are available at the Central Mechanical Engineering Research Institute, Durgapur, the Indian Institute of Science, Bangalore 560012, the National Test House, Alipore, and the National Metallurgical Laboratory, Jamshedpur, which have been utilised by some automobile and ancillary manufacturers. (See the chapter on Research for the addresses.)

In cooperation with the C.S.I.R. an Automotive Research Association has been incorporated. Product testing and development is likely to commence during 1973.

Manufacturing Units : The country now has seven approved manufacturers of automobiles, one manufacturer of engines and five manufacturers of motorcycles, scooters and three-wheelers. The names of manufacturers and the products manufactured by them are as under :

Automobile Manufacturers

Hindustan Motors Ltd., Uttarpara. Hindustan Ambassador cars, and Hindustan trucks & buses in the range of 1 tonne to 7½ tonnes.

Premier Automobiles Ltd., Bombay. Fiat cars, and Dodge and/or Fargo trucks and buses in the range of 1 tonne to 7½ tonnes.

Standard Motor Products of India Ltd., Madras. Standard Herald Mark III cars and Standard 1 tonne Trucks.

Ashok Leyland Ltd., Madras. Leyland Comet trucks and buses, Beaver, Hipo and Jumbo trucks in the range of 5 tonnes to over 16 tonnes.

Tata Engg. & Locomotive Co. Ltd., Bombay. Tata trucks and buses in the range of 5 tonnes to 9 tonnes and 3-axle 10 tonnes Dumpers.

Mahindra & Mahindra Ltd., Bombay. Kaiser Jeeps and ¾ tonne FC 150 and FC 160 Trucks.

Bajaj Tempo Ltd., Poona. Tempo Hanseat 3-wheeler and Tempo Viking and Matador 4-wheeler in the ¾ tonne to 1.6 tonnes range.

Engine Manufacturer :

Simpson & Co. Ltd., Madras, P6 V and P6/354 vehicular diesel engines.

Motorcycles, Scooter, Moped & Three Wheeler Manufacturers :

Bajaj Auto Ltd., Poona. Bajaj Scooters and three-wheelers.

Escorts Ltd., New Delhi. Rajdoot motorcycles and Scooters.

Enfield India Ltd., Madras. Enfield Motorcycles and Scooters and three-wheelers.

Ideal Jawa (India) Pvt. Ltd., Mysore. Jawa "YAZDI" Motorcycles.

Pearl Scooters, Ludhiana (Punjab). Pearl Yamaha Scooters
Mopeds India Ltd., Tirupati (A.P.). Suvega Mopeds.

Saund Zweirad Union (India) Pvt. Ltd., New Delhi. Vicky Mopeds.

Tractor Manufacturers

Escorts Ltd., New Delhi. Escort Tractors.

Escorts Tractors Ltd., New Delhi. Ford Tractors.

Hindustan Tractors Ltd., Baroda. Hindustan Tractors.

International Tractor Co. of India Ltd., Bombay. International Tractors.

Eicher Tractors Ltd., Haryana. Eicher Tractors.

Tractors & Farm Equipment Ltd., Massey Ferguson Tractors.

Associations : 1. Association of Indian Automobile Manufacturers, Army & Navy Building, M. Gandhi Road, Bombay-400001. 2. All India Automobile & Ancillary Industries Association, 80, A. Besant Road, Bombay-400018.

Publications : (1) 'Automobile Ancillaries and Accessories', (Bi-Monthly), 20, Noble Chambers, Parsee Bazar St., Bombay-400001. (2) 'Automobile News' (monthly), Arun Chambers, J. FOURTH FIVE-YEAR PLAN

The targets for various categories of vehicles and ancillaries in the Fourth Five-Year Plan are as under :

	1971-72	1972-73	1973-74
(a) Commercial Vehicles	65,000	75,000	85,000
(b) Cars	55,000	65,000	75,000
(c) Jeeps	13,000	14,000	15,000
(d) (i) Motorcycles, Scooters & Mopeds	150,000	175,000	200,000
(ii) Autorickshaws	8,000	9,000	10,000
(e) Tractors	31,000	36,000	40,000
(f) Ancillaries (Rs. in million)	1,150	1,400	1,700

The above estimates do not cover the automobile industry in the Defence Sector. The target of production of commercial vehicles and jeeps in the Defence Sector is 6,000 nos. and 7,000 nos., respectively. At the existing price level, the demand for passenger cars is likely to be 74,000 in 1974 and 129,000 in 1980.

CEMENT INDUSTRY

BRIEF HISTORY

Cement, though it may not have been known by that name, is an ancient building material. Evidence of its use is believed to have been found in the Indus civilisation of Mohenjo-daro. The Greeks are also known to have made extensive use of it, but it is to the Romans that the credit must go for having evolved concrete from cement.

Although cement was first manufactured in India near Madras in 1904, it was not until 1914 that the foundations of a stable Indian cement industry were really laid. In October 1914, the first bag of cement was packed at Porbandar by the Indian Cement Company Ltd. (Agents: Tata Sons & Co.). This company then had a capacity of only 1,000 tonnes. Today there are 49 units in the country and the capacity is nearly 18 million tonnes.

LOCATION OF THE INDUSTRY

The State-wise break-up of the units is as follows:

Andhra Pradesh 6, Assam 1, Bihar 7, Gujarat 5, Haryana 2, Jammu & Kashmir 1, Kerala 1, Madhya Pradesh 5, Maharashtra 1, Mysore 5, Orissa 2, Rajasthan 4, Tamil Nadu 7, and Uttar Pradesh 2.

Public Sector: Out of these 49 units 8 are in the public sector. The break-up of these is as follows:

Assam: Assam Cements Ltd.; Jammu & Kashmir: J & K Mining and Mineral Corporation; Madhya Pradesh: The Cement Corporation of India Ltd., Mandhar; Mysore: Mysore Iron & Steel Ltd.; Orissa: The Industrial Development Corporation of Orissa Ltd.; Tamil Nadu: Tamil Nad Cements; Uttar Pradesh: U. P. Government Cement Factory, one at Churk and the other at Dalla.

New Units: At Urkunta (Mysore and)Bokajan (Assam) are almost ready for commissioning and investigations for one plant at Paonta (Himachal Pradesh) and the other at Dehra Dun have been completed by the Cement Corporation.

No. of Persons Employed: About 60,000 including workers in quarries. During 1970 there were 20 disputes and the man-days lost were about 18,000.

Capital Investment: In 1970 it was estimated to be Rs. 2,750 millions.

Contribution to Gross National Product: In 1970 it was Rs. 750 million (Approx.).

Ranking in the World Market: India is the 9th largest cement producer in the world. The first eight countries are the USSR, USA, Japan, West Germany, Italy, France, U.K. and Spain.

PRODUCTION AND CONSUMPTION

In 1970 the cement production was 13·9 million tonnes and the ex-factory value of the product was Rs. 1,390 million.

1971 production was 14,893,957 tonnes and the 1972 production is estimated to be 15·7 million tonnes.

Regional Anomaly: The cement industry faces a peculiar problem of transport. Cement factories are largely concentrated in the southern and western regions of the country because high grade limestone is more abundantly available there, whilst the demand for cement is higher in the northern and eastern regions.

The northern region contributes 17·6 per cent to the total production and needs 27·5 per cent of the total consumption. The eastern region produces 17·8 per cent and consumes 21·3 per cent. The corresponding figures for the western region are 28·3 per cent production and 26·0 per cent consumption and in the southern region 36·3 per cent is produced and 25·2 per cent consumed.

1971–72	193,156	24,922,564

Export Incentives: Prior to April 1968 no export subsidies were available on exports of cement. It was only in 1968 that the Government announced a subsidy of 25 per cent on the f.o.b. realisation from the Market Development Fund and a further subsidy of Rs. 6 per tonne was sanctioned by the Cement Controller. In April, 1968, the State Trading Corporation took over the organisation of cement exports. All such exports are to be routed through the S.T.C. now. Government also gives cash assistance from the Cement Regulation account upto Rs. 17·50 per tonne depending upon the destination of the market.

GENERAL

As the production was short of requirements, statutory control on the price and distribution of cement was imposed as early as 1956 and it continued upto 1965. For a period of two years cement was decontrolled, but the price and distribution were regulated by an organisation of the manufacturers. The Government control was reintroduced in 1968 and is continuing, this time through the respective State Governments.

Meanwhile there was a very encouraging response to the Government's decision to license further capacities on an urgent basis. As many as 28 applications were received by the Ministry of Industrial Development till September 15, 1971 the last date for submission of applications.

The applications, which were for expansion of existing capacity, setting up of new units or for modernisation when licensed, were expected to add about seven million tonnes of cement a year to the production.

A few of these applications were from larger industrial houses. Since cement falls within the heavy investment sector (a cement unit requires an investment of more than Rs. 50 million) the applications were to be scrutinised after clearing the monopoly angle.

Training and Research: Industry has set up a research institute called the Cement Research Institute of India at M-10, South Extension II, Ring Road, New Delhi 110016. A well equipped laboratory project with training facilities for scientists will be available at Faridabad, 32 kms. from New Delhi. Basic research in cement technology will be undertaken in the laboratory. The whole project is estimated to cost about Rs. 20 million and is to be completed in 5 years. First phase costing about Rs. 10 million is likely to be completed towards the end of 1973.

FOURTH FIVE-YEAR PLAN

The Fourth Plan target for production is 18 million tonnes. As against a capacity of 19·5 million tonnes at the end of 1972, the installed capacity at the end of 1974 is likely to rise to 26·6 million tonnes and the demand to 19·15 million tonnes.

FILM INDUSTRY

THE Indian film industry ranks first in the world in terms of production, with an average of about 400 films a year. The industry earns annually about Rs. 1,200 million. Of this, about Rs. 60 million is in foreign exchange.

The industry employs about 200,000 persons. There are about 1,800 independent producers, most of them with units either too small or too unwieldy for economic working.

Motion pictures constitute the biggest source of entertainment and recreation to millions in India. Highly speculative in character, films are generally made to please the largest number of people and not for the sake of art or cinematic values.

No. of theatres and cinema houses : With only 7,500 theatres (of which 2,600 are touring cinemas) there is an acute shortage of exhibition facilities. With this shortage, a handful of distributors and exhibitors are able to exercise control over the release of films, creating an artificial imbalance.

The number of cinema houses available — 11 for a population of one million — is among the lowest in the world. Acute paucity of cinema houses adds to the uncertainties of the film production business with theatre rentals on the increase and being unrelated to the draw at the box office of the picture screened.

Finance : It is procured at exhorbitant rates of interest and projects are formulated on the basis of saleability of the stars, the director or the music director. Distribution prices are computed on the estimated realisation on the names of the stars, music director and director of the film.

Films are generally made on borrowed money by independent producers who neither own a studio, nor have any security to offer for borrowed money. Interest rates of financiers are as high as 36 per cent to 60 per cent per annum.

The result is that several projects tend to remain incomplete, for lack of finances or other reasons. Of the 700 films launched in 1969, only 320 were completed and released. Of these, only 10 per cent paid a profit. Another 20 per cent broke even. The rest were flops.

Earnings : There has been a phenomenal increase in box office collections from Rs. 360 million in 1958 to about Rs. 1,600 million in 1971. Of the total box office intake 54 per cent goes to the exchequer by way of taxes and imposts. The exhibitor gets 27 per cent, the producer 15 and the distributor 4 per cent. The distributor is the one who generally has the biggest financial stake in a film, next to the producer.

Experimental Films : There have been remarkable experiments in cinema in the last few years, starting with Basu Bhattacharya's "Uski Kahani" (1966), Mrinal Sen's "Bhuvan Shome" (1969), Basu Chatterji's "Sara Akash" (1969), Basu Bhattacharya's "Aadhe Adhure" and "Anubhav," Narayan Chakravorty's "Dibratir Kabiya" (1969), Rajinder Singh Bedi's "Dastak" (1971), Satyajit Ray's "Pratidwandi" (1970), Tapan Sinha's "Apan Jan," (1968), Mrinal Sen's "Interview" (1970), Tapan Sinha's "Sagina Mahato" (1970), D. K. Jayakantan's "Unnai Pol Oruvan" (1964), Girish Karnad's "Samskara", P. N. Menon's "Olavum Theeravum" (1969) and "Kuttiedathi" (1970).

Awards: The "Bharat", "Urvashi" and "Phalke" awards have been instituted under the National Awards Scheme of the Government of India (see chapter on "Awards"). The State Governments of Maharashtra, Gujarat, Kerala, Mysore and Tamil Nadu have also instituted their own annual State awards for films.

Filmfare Awards: Were instituted in 1953 and the first presentation was made in 1954. These awards are given annually by the Filmfare magazine of Bennett, Coleman & Co., Ltd. Bombay, publishers of the Times of India and Allied Publications. (For list of Award winners see chapter on "Awards".)

Government Support : A very wide ranging, extensive base for promoting the growth and quality of Indian films has been built up since 1947. Several support and service institutions have been created towards this end which are listed below.

Films Division : 24, Dr. Gopalrao Deshmukh Marg, Bombay 400026 : The Films Division of the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting produces and distributes newsreels, documentaries and other films for the information, education and instruction of the people. Till the end of 1971–72, the Films Division had produced 1,610 newsreels and 1,769 documentaries. The Division produces nearly 200 films a year in English and 14 in Indian languages.

Film Finance Corporation, "White House," 91, Walkeshwar Road, Bombay 400006 : Set up by the Government of India to provide finance for the production of films of good quality and standard, the FFC has also undertaken a scheme for financing the purchase of production and projection equipment and construction of art theatres.

Chairman : B. K. Karanjia.

Film and Television Institute of India, Law College Road, Pune 411004 : The Institute trains all categories of film technicians and artistes. It offers diploma courses in film direction, acting, screenplay writing, photography, sound recording, sound engineering and film editing. Situated in idyllic Prabhatnagar, it has extensive facilities for outdoor shooting, a processing laboratory and well-equipped studios. These facilities are made available to regular producers on hire.

Television training courses have been started in New Delhi. At present the courses are in the nature of in-service training.

National Film Archives of India, Film and Television Institute of India, Pune 411004 : The Archive preserves national and international cinema heritage for study, research and reference. It also channelises the diffusion of film culture in the country. It has acquired a vast collection of Indian and foreign films, books, periodicals, disc records, wall-posters and booklets on films. Notable among its acquisitions are several silent films made in the early days of the Indian film industry.

The Archives have set up a distribution library with selected Indian and foreign film classics for the benefit of film societies, and film study groups in the country.

Children's Film Society, Hingorani House, Dr. Annie Besant Road, Bombay 400018 : Set up by the Government of India to produce, acquire, distribute and exhibit films of special interest to children and juvenile audiences, the Society draws its major funds from an annual grant-in-aid. It also earns revenue from commercial and non-commercial screening of its films, sale of prints etc. The Society arranges shows in schools, clubs, factories, colonies, etc. on an annual membership fee of Rs. 50 and hire charges of Rs. 25 per programme. The Society's films are shown by the Central and State Governments through their publicity vans in rural areas. It has so far produced over 80 films.

Chairman : Nandini Satpathy. Secretary : H. C. Srivastava.

Central Board of Film Censors, 91, Walkeshwar Road, Bombay 400006 : A statutory body set up under the Cinematograph Act, 1952, the Board sanctions films for public exhibition. During 1971, the Board examined 2,862 films. It granted 1,694 'U' and 12 'A' certificates to Indian films and 1,137 'U' and 62 'A' certificates to imported films. Certification was refused in 11 cases. The total length excised from the films was 7,905·49 metres.

Chairman : V. D. Vyas.

Indian Motion Pictures Export Corporation Ltd. (IMPEC), D. Shivsagar, Dr. Annie Besant Road, Bombay 400018 : Set up by the Government of India under the State Trading Corporation, the IMPEC canalises exports of Indian films. It has prepared an operational plan for three years, with an investment of Rs. 20 million by 1973-74 to capture about 50 per cent of the all-India export trade in films.

Chairman : A. M. Tariq.

IMPORT OF FILMS

The Union Ministry of Foreign Trade decided not to renew the agreement with the Motion Pictures Export Association of America (MPEAA) when it expired on June 30, 1971. American films can now be imported only by IMPEC, a subsidiary of the State Trading Corporation.

The imports relate mostly to developed cinefilms, feature films, advertising shorts and news reels of which Rs. 3·56 million worth were imported in 1970-71 and Rs. 2·27 million worth in 1971-72.

FILM ASSOCIATIONS

Indian Motion Picture Producers' Association, Sandhurst Bldg., Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel Road, Bombay 400004 : Premier organisation of motion picture producers, studio owners and others, the IMPPA's main object is to safeguard their interests. All problems connected with film production and disputes arising therefrom are taken care of by IMPPA. The IMPPA also acts as the central agency for registration of film titles, procurement of raw stock, carbons and other studio requirements.

President : Bakshi Ram Prakash Chibber ; Vice-President : Malikchand Kochar ; Hon. Treasurer : R. H. Wadia ; Secretary : I. K. Menon.

Film Producers' Guild of India Ltd., Shantshree, S. S. Rao Road, Bombay 400012 : Established in 1954, the Guild has a membership of 70 active, regular producers. The organisation looks after all their problems as also difficulties arising out of film production. It makes representations to the Union and State Governments seeking redress of their grievances as also against levies, impositions and taxes. It also ensures regular supplies of materials required in the business of film production.

President G. P. Sippy ; Vice-Presidents : Subodh Mukerji, Atma Ram.

Cinematograph Exhibitors' Association of India, Flat No. 22/23 B, Vellard View, Tardeo Road, Bombay 400034: Established on July 1, 1942, the CEAI is registered under the Indian Companies Act. Its main objectives are to help develop the exhibition trade in films and to cooperate with distributors and their organisations to ensure smooth exhibition of films. The organisation takes measures conducive to the interests and welfare of members, in coordination with various interests in the film industry The CEAI has over 800 members on its rolls.

President : B. D. Bharucha. Secretary : I. K. Menon.

Indian Motion Picture Distributors' Association, Moghul Lane, Off Sitladevi Temple Road, Mahim, Bombay 400016 : The IMPDA ensures coordination between exhibitors and distributors of motion pictures and takes care of the interests of distributors, in particular. It seeks to bring in self-regulation in the business of film distribution and fair trade practices. It has a membership of 250.

President : Sadashiv J. Rao Kavi.

MAN-MADE FIBRE INDUSTRY

BRIEF HISTORY

The Industry in India is hardly 25 years old. First unit to manufacture viscose rayon filament yarn, The Travancore Rayons Ltd., was incorporated in 1945. The actual production started in 1950.

In 1664 Robert Hooke predicted the possibility of Viscose-fibre, but the reality came into being only in 1884 when the father of rayon industry, Count Hilarie de Chadonnet, produced rayon from nitro-cellulose solution. Commercial production started in France in 1891. But the development of polymer 66 and 6 in nylon is comparatively young and was discovered in Germany in 1938.

In 1941, chemists J. R. Whinfield and J. T. Dickson discovered polyester. I.C.I. developed and produced the fibre commercially in U.K. and became an exclusive licencee for polyester fibre throughout the world except U.S. In the earlier days it was the cellulosic synthetic fibre which made the market, but in the last 20 years the more versatile non-cellulosic synthetic fibres have made tremendous head-way.

In 1951, one unit was producing about 2,500 tonnes of rayon filament yarn in India. Today, there are 9 units engaged in the manufacture of rayon and acetate filament yarn with a total capacity of 38,000 tonnes per annum. There are two units producing rayon staple fibre with a production capacity exceeding 70,000 tonnes per annum. There are also three units which produce rayon tyre cord with a total capacity of 19,000 tonnes per year. There are fifteen units which produce synthetic filament, staple and tyre cord while letters of intent have been issued to sixteen units. On the fabrics side, the production is estimated to be 1,000 million metres.

More than Rs. 2,800 million have been invested in this industry. It employs directly about 30,000 persons and provides raw material for the operation of 110,000 power looms and more than 400,000 handlooms.

Production Targets for Manmade Fibres, by 1973-74:

The overall production of synthetic fibres may go up to 45,000 to 50,000 tonnes per annum by 1974. Planned estimate for total production of cellulosic and synthetic yarn for 1973–74 is 217,000 tonnes. The break up of 1973–74 estimate is as follows: Rayon filament 64,000 tonnes; Rayon staple 90,000 tonnes; Nylon filament rayon and other industrial yarn 29,000 tonnes; Polyester filament and staple 22,000 tonnes; Acrylic fibre 12,000 tonnes; and man-made fabrics 1,500 million mts.

Synthetics account for 41 per cent of the world textiles. World production of man-made fibres has gone up from 9,000 tonnes in 1912 to 9·4 million tonnes in 1971 comprising 3·5 million tonnes of rayon and 5·9 million tonnes of synthetics.

Per Capita World Consumption of man-made fibre in 1969 (the latest available) was as under: (figures in kg.) U.S.A. 11·4; Netherlands 10·7; Canada 8·8; U.K. 7·5; Germany 9·1; Sweden 9·3; Denmark 7·3; Japan 6·3; France 5·6; South Africa 4·1; Spain 3·7; Italy 4·0 and India 0·2. Per capita world consumption of man-mades has risen from 0·8 kg. in 1951 to 3·2 kg. in 1971.

EXPORTS

The exports of rayon, synthetic and mixed fabrics of leading varieties were as follows :—

Rayon : 9,228,540 mts. (valued at Rs. 16,789,314) in 1969 ; 12,483,727 mts. (valued at Rs. 25,598,826) in 1970 ; 17,960,896 mts. (valued at Rs. 40,454,058) in 1971.

Synthetic Fabrics : 320,764 mts. (valued at Rs. 1,383,173) in 1969 ; 2,081,706 mts. (valued at Rs. 11,323,748) in 1970 ; 2,732,521 mts. (valued at Rs. 14,781,838) in 1971.

Mixed Fabrics : 1,775,284 mts. (valued at Rs. 8,570,134) in 1969 ; 1,911,384 mts. (valued at Rs. 5,968,423) in 1970 ; 2,380,969 mts. (valued at Rs. 9,617,632) in 1971.

Exports of Rayon and Synthetic Fabrics

Year	Qty. mts.	Value Rs.
1969	11,324,588	26,742,620
1970	16,476,817	42,890,997
1971	23,074,359	64,858,528

Non-Fabric Exports : Tyre yarn worth Rs. 11,392,073 (1,546,929 kg.), tyre cord worth Rs. 59,923 (6,826 kg.) and other non-fabric items worth Rs. 12·2 million were exported from India in 1971–72. These figures are provisional.

Total Export : During 1971–72, exports of man-made textiles and allied items aggregated Rs. 98·4 millions. Of these exports of rayon and synthetic textiles alone were Rs. 78·4 millions showing an improvement of 43 per cent over the last year.

Export Promotion Council: The Silk and Rayon Textiles Export Promotion Council (Resham Bhavan, 78, Vir Nariman Road, Bombay-1) is playing a key role in encouraging the industry to adapt its production pattern to suit the requirements of export markets. The research and development bill of the Council is devoted specifically to this cause.

RAW MATERIALS

The main raw material pulp is currently being imported for viscose rayon filament manufacture. The viscose staple production is based on domestic pulp. The capacity of the first rayon grade pulp mill in Kerala is 66,000 tonnes per year. A 20,000 tonnes per year capacity pulp mill has recently gone into production in South India and another unit of 33,000 tonnes per year is under construction in Mysore State.

Caprolactum (for cylon-6, staple fibre and tyre cord) and DMT and ethylene glycol (for polyester staple fibre and filament yarn) are raw materials required for the production of synthetic fibres now being imported.

Gujarat Refinery, however, will shortly have an abundant supply of benzene, which is proposed to be used for the manufacture of caprolactum and naphtha for DMT. Two plants are under construction for the production of DMT., one by Petrochemical Corporation of India, and the other by Gujarat State Fertiliser Corporation due to start by 1973. The Corporation plant will have a capacity of 24,000 tonnes of DMT a year, while the GSFC plant will produce 20,000 tonnes. The Corporation will also instal another plant to produce acrylonitrile (24,000 tonnes per year). By 1974 it will start producing propylene (30,000 tonnes) which could be converted into polypropylene, which can be meltspun directly for the production of cheap but sturdy industrial fibre.

GENERAL

Taxes : A high level of taxation is one of the main problems of the industry. The burden of excise duty alone on nylon yarn has been raised progressively from Rs. 6 in 1967 to Rs. 35 per kg. in the last budget. The Government has also raised the duty on caprolactum from 60 per cent to 65 per cent. It is estimated that the total incidence of duty and taxes at the consumer end runs as high as 30 per cent to 40 per cent of the retail price.

Fifth Plan : The annual demand estimated for the man-made fibre industry made by the Association of Man-made Fibre Industry is 295 million kg. of cellulosics and 115 million kg. of synthetics, while the Association of Synthetic Fibre Industry places it at 172 million kg. of cellulosics and 182 million kg. of synthetic by the end of the Fifth Plan.

Research And Training : The Silk and Art Silk Mills' Research Association, SASMIRA- Dr. Annie Besant Road, Worli, Bombay 400025, conducts research and offers training facilities for various diploma courses to students who have passed the matriculation standard.

A group of Synthetic Fibre industry has submitted a science and technology plan (for the development of the man-made fibre industry in India) to the Government, with an outlay of Rs. 375 millions in the Fifth Plan. This would ensure direct employment of about 200 scientists and technologists.

Glass : India manufactures almost all varieties of glass, like containerware, sheet glass, wired and figured glass, tableware, lampware, fibre glass, laboratory glass, glass tubing, optical and ophthalmic glass, bangles, beads, etc. The present production of glass is of the order of 350,000 tonnes, out of which containers and flat glass account for 175,000 and 80,000 tonnes respectively. The total investment is around Rs. 600 million and the value of production about Rs. 500 million. The industry provides employment to nearly 80,000 workers. The 1970-71 exports amount to Rs. 18.48 million, mostly consisting of flat glass, penicillin vials, vacuum flasks, bangles and beads. The imports amount to Rs. 18.13 million. There are about 70 units with a combined capacity of 410,000 tonnes. A number of new items have been included in the range of laboratory glass-ware, like sintered glassware and shells for mercury vapour lamps.

A public sector ophthalmic glass plant having a capacity of 300 tonnes per annum was set up by the Government of India at Durgapur, West Bengal, with Soviet assistance. The factory started production of spectacle glass blanks in 1969.

At present, glass bottles and jars are in very short supply and steps are therefore being taken to increase their production to 300,000 tonnes by 1973-74, mostly by automatic forming methods. The demand for flat glass in 1973-74 is estimated to be 20 million sq. metres.

Soap : The organised sector contains some 43 units with an installed capacity of 213,000 tonnes per annum, though all of these are not in actual production, while the cottage sector contains over 3,000 units scattered throughout the country.

The following figures give the production in tonnes in the organised sector. 1965 : 160,000 ; 1966 : 170,000 ; 1967 : 180,000 ; 1968 : 190,000 ; 1969 : 220,000.

PACKAGING INDUSTRY

Many new materials have been manufactured and made available to the industry and new uses have been developed for existing materials. The materials that are now available are paper and paper based products, metal containers and foils, glass, plastics rigid and flexible, cellulose films, textiles including jute and woven plastics and wood.

It may be mentioned that a great deal remains to be achieved both qualitatively and quantitatively, in addition to the production of packaging materials like polypropylene and polyesters, which are so essential for improved packaging.

Paper and Paper-Based Products : Among all packaging materials, paper and paper-based products continue to occupy a predominant place. Paper-based materials used for packaging include bleached and unbleached kraft, glassine, tissue paper, boards of various types, corrugated and solid fibreboards, and large variety of converted items like wax coated, plastic coated, bitumen coated etc. etc.

Although the exact production and consumption data are not available in many of the converted items, significant increases have been achieved in recent years. Some speciality items like glassine, grease-proof paper, etc. are now being manufactured indigenously. Multi-wall paper sacks for heavy-duty packaging applications are rapidly coming into use. Several varieties of coated papers are being produced for special packaging needs as also waxed board containers and cartons for frozen foods.

Corrugated and solid fibreboard boxes have replaced the conventional wooden boxes as transport containers because of their light weight and satisfactory strength.

The estimated demand of paper for packaging is given below :

	1968-69 tonnes	1973-74 tonnes
Paper for bags and wrappers	101,385	235,690
Labels	15,015	32,435
Paper board cartons	65,065	138,440
Corrugated board	48,000	92,000
Solid fibreboard	3,280	15,100
Straw board	29,360	53,780
	262,105	567,445

There are, however, several areas in which this sector is lagging behind the developed countries. They include mainly production of parchment paper for use in packaging of biscuits, etc., sack kraft paper and high strength kraft for producing corrugated fibreboard of good strength characteristics.

Tinplate : Tinplate containers are used in milk products, processed fruits, coffee, biscuits, confectionery, vanaspati, petroleum products, paints, pesticides, etc. It has been estimated that the Demand for this will increase from about 132,000 in 1968-69 to about 223,000 tonnes by 1973-74, a growth of 70 per cent if free availability is ensured.

Tinplate has, however, been on the banned list for the last one decade resulting in a shift to plastics and paper in certain areas.

With the commissioning of the electrolytic tinning lines at Rourkela Steel Plant, Orissa, this situation is likely to ease considerably. However, the industry has to consider seriously the manufacture of continuously annealed lower substance tinplate, 2 CR tinplate as well as tin-free steel which are increasingly used in advanced countries because they are cheaper.

Aluminium : Light weight, non-toxicity, excellent barrier properties, high reflectivity and good printability have made aluminium in various forms enter the packaging field in a big way. The packaging industry requires aluminium, basically as foil for flexible packages, slugs for collapsible and rigid tubes and sheets for caps and closures.

Aluminium foil in appropriate gauges is used as tea chest lining, taggers, caps for milk bottles, capsules, labels, wraps and pouches. Other applications include items like soap and toilet wraps, butter and cheese, contraceptives, photo films, dehydrated food, and defence packaging. It is understood that a fair quantity of foil is also exported. The Estimated Consumption of foil by packaging industries in 1967-68 was 4,100 tonnes which was an appreciable increase over the previous year i.e. 3,750 tonnes in 1966-67, and the Estimated Demand for 1973-74 is over 7,500 tonnes.

Consumption of aluminium slugs by the packaging industries in 1968-69 amounted to 1,200 tonnes and the estimated consumption in 1973-74 is about 2,100 tonnes. The traditional sources of demand for aluminium slugs have been collapsible and rigid tubes for packaging of pharmaceuticals and toilet preparations. A good demand for aluminium aerosols and aluminium tubes for packing of certain chemicals such as optical whitening agents are envisaged. The estimated demand for 1973-74 is 2,320 tonnes.

Aluminium container sheet finds its application for the fabrication of pilfer-proof closures, screw caps and seals for medicinal vials and, to a limited extent, for pharmaceutical ointment containers. In 1967-68 the consumption of aluminium container sheets by the packaging industry was 1,500 tonnes. Substantial increase in consumption has been envisaged during the coming years.

Cellulosic Films : Cellulose films enjoy quite a popular place among packaging materials. On account of their sparkling clarity, transparency, machineability, oil and grease-proofness and their good water vapour and gas barrier properties. It is used as a direct wrap for items like textiles, biscuits, confectionery, certain pharmaceutical preparations, etc., as a carton or bottle overwrap ; in bag or pouch form ; and as a component of many flexible laminates.

The Demand for this film has been estimated at about 10,000 tonnes in 1973-74, as against a Consumption of 6,000 tonnes in 1968-69. Although the industry has made rapid strides, production of newer types like PVDC coated films, high yield varieties and films that give tailored protection are yet to be introduced.

Plastics : The important plastics made in India are the thermoplastics polyethylene (low & high density), polyvinylchloride and polystyrene, and the thermosets like U.F., M.F., and P.F. The Annual Consumption of plastics in the field of packaging is estimated at over 20,000 tonnes. Advantages are chiefly flexibility, easy mouldability, unbreakability, light weight, attractive and hygienic appearance and water-vapour impermeability.

Plastics are available in the form of films, laminates, coatings, bags, moulded containers, etc. for variety of packaging applications. However, India has yet to produce certain important types like PVDC, polypropylene and polyester.

The estimated demand for the important plastics for packaging is as follows :

	1968-69 (tonnes)	1973-74 (tonnes)
Polyethylene (L.D. & H.D.) ..	14,400	47,000
Polystyrene	540	1,200
PVC	—	10,000
Thermosets	300	450
	15,240	58,650

Glass : In spite of its fragility, still holds its place as a choice material for packaging a variety of products. Major users are milk and non-cocoa based milk foods, preserved fruits and vegetables, carbonated and alcoholic beverages, toiletries and pharmaceuticals. They combine attractiveness with hygienic and impermeable characteristics required for preserving the quality of the products. Total Production of glass bottles and vials amounted to about 153,300 tonnes in 1967-69 and the Demand in 1973-74 is estimated at nearly 250,000 tonnes.

Here again special varieties like thermal, shock-resistant and light weight glass are yet to be manufactured in India.

Jute and Wood : They are long established packaging materials which find extensive use in many applications. The Estimated Demand for jute in 1968-69 was 950,000 tonnes and in 1973-74 will be 6,090,000 tonnes. Jute has in recent years been facing serious competition from multi-wall paper sacks and plastic sacks more particularly on account of barrier properties. All the same jute industry is striving hard to impart protective properties to jute fabric by laminating with materials like plastics, paper, etc. Laminated jute bags are now the material of choice for the packaging of fertilizers, chemicals and the like.

Demand of wood is given in the table at the end of the chapter.

Ancillary Materials : The ancillary materials needed by the packaging industry are adhesives, cushioning materials, strapping materials, wire nails, printing inks, lining components, lacquers, solders, etc. etc. Most of these materials are now available in India and are used to advantage in the packaging field for improving the functional properties, attractiveness and transport-worthiness of the packages, while some synthetic resins and lacquer components for specialised applications, are still to be imported.

Packaging Machinery : It is in the field of packaging machinery that there is need for improvement, as lack of suitable machinery is impeding the productivity of industrial and consumer goods. Packaging machinery includes machines for production of basic packaging materials and for converting these into finished packages, machinery for filling and sealing, handling and storage, printing, testing, etc.

World Position : Table on next page gives comparison of India's status in this field, with that of some of the advanced countries.

Country	Population (millions)	G.N.P. billions US $	Packaging materials estimated sales billions of US$

Indian Institute of Packaging : (Address: 254-C, Dr. A. Besant Road, Prabhadevi, Bombay-400025) Objects (a) conducting research and development of new materials and better use for existing materials (b) tendering consultancy services in the selection of the right type of packaging and (c) to train personnel in the field of packaging technology.

The United Nations Industrial Development Organisation has started devoting its attention to the problems of packaging in the developing countries. It has sponsored an ambitious expansion project for the Indian Institute of Packaging. This project envisages foreign exchange expenditure of US $580,000 to be borne by the UNIDO besides rupee expenditure of Rs. 9·3 million to be borne by the Government of India and the industry. The implementation of this project will mark the beginning of a big leap forward enabling the Institute to serve the industry in a much bigger way.

PAPER INDUSTRY

BRIEF HISTORY

THE word paper comes from Papyrus a reed growing on the banks of River Nile in Egypt, yet the art of paper making is popularly known to have been invented by the Chinese as early as the third or second century before the Christian era. In India the tradition of making paper by hand can be traced only to the 8th Century A.D. Paper making was considered to be one of the premier domestic cottage industries before the commencement of the British rule. The still existing valuable manuscripts, official documents and rare miniature paintings stand as testimony to the durability and high quality of our indigenous paper made in ancient and mediaeval times. In India the first paper factory was started in Bengal in the latter half of the 18th century by a Christian missionary. The hundred years that followed never saw the laying of a firm foundation for the industry. It was only in 1867 that a real beginning was made when a modern paper mill was established at Bali in Bengal.

LOCATION OF THE INDUSTRY

There are 59 paper and paper board units in the private sector. The Statewise breakup is as follows :

Andhra Pradesh 2, Bihar 2, Gujarat 7, Haryana 4, Kerala 2, Madhya Pradesh 4, Maharashtra 13, Mysore 5, Orissa 3, Tamil Nadu 3, Uttar Pradesh 3 and West Bengal 11.

There are three rayon grade pulp units all in the private sector situated each in Kerala, Tamil Nadu and Mysore. One paper grade pulp factory is situated in Gujarat.

Public Sector : National Newsprint and Paper Mills Ltd., at Nepanagar, Madhya Pradesh is the only unit that produces newsprint in the country and is able to meet only 20 per cent of the demand.

Security Paper Mill at Hoshangabad, 45 miles from Bhopal, Madhya Pradesh, set up in 1968 in collaboration with a British firm manufactures annually 28,000 tonnes of special quality paper for currency and bank notes.

No. of Persons Employed : About 65,000. Number of mandays lost through strikes and industrial disputes during 1969 were 279,000.

Ranking in the World Market : India ranks 20th among the paper producing countries in the world.

There are about 36 paper mills in the small-scale sector producing about 64,500 tonnes of paper annually which is only 9 per cent of the total output.

The gap between the production capacity and utilization in India and those in other countries during 1968–69 are shown in the table below :

Country	Pulp Production ('000 tonnes)	Per Capita Consumption (kgs.)	No. of Paper Board Mills
U.S.A. ..	33,300	227·25	795
Canada ..	14,240	140·62	126
Japan ..	5,690	73·48	650
Australia ..	730	56·24	90
India ..	710	1·58	58

The bulk of the production comprises printing and writing paper. The table below shows the production trends of the main four items.

('000 tonnes)

Year	Installed Capacity (Total)	Production (Total)	Printing and Writing	Wrapping	Special Varieties	Boards
1969..	768	706·56	415·44	145·92	20·52	124·68
1970..	868	758·13	454·88	159·21	15·16	128·88
1971..	868	780·82	463·94	163·13	27·99	125·74
1972..	868	803·54	482·12	176·78	32·14	112·49

By-Products : There are 30 units manufacturing straw and mill boards. 7 manufacturing Carbon paper, 3 manufacturing duplicating stencils and one unit manufacturing cardiograph paper. One new unit manufacturing speciality papers such as tissues, foil lining, airmail etc., has been commissioned in 1972.

DEMAND BY 1975

The demand projection for all types of pulp by 1975 in India is about 2 million tonnes. The demand for various types of paper is given in the table below. These are based on the presumption that the population of the country will constantly show a rise of 2·4 per cent annually for the period 1965–75 reaching 625 million at the end of the decade.

Item	Per Capita (in kg.)	Total Demand
Writing & Printing Paper	1·63	1,018,750
Industrial Papers ..	0·87	543,750
Newsprint..	0·50	312,500
Total	3·00	1,875,000

It is estimated that there would be all-round increase of 62 per cent in the world demand for paper and paper products by 1975 as compared with 1960–62, a moderate rise (23 per cent) in North America, substantial growth (double or more than double) in Europe, Asia and America, and rapid increase of over two and half times in the U.S.S.R.

FOURTH FIVE-YEAR PLAN

The following targets of capacity and production have been recommended for the Fourth Plan by the Paper and Pulp Development Council.

(In tonnes)

Item	Capacity	Production
Paper and Paper Boards	1,130,000	960,000
Newsprint..	300,000	260,000
Paper Grade Pulp ..	150,000	120,000

The Planning Commission has accepted the target in respect of paper and paper boards. In the case of newsprint the target is 165,000 tonnes for capacity and 150,000 tonnes for production. No target indication is made in the Fourth Plan draft for pulp.

Crash Programme : In order to overcome the acute paper shortage in the country as well as to meet the Fourth Plan target the Ministry of Industrial Development and Internal Trade has set up a 'Crash Programme' which aims at an additional production of 130,000 tonnes of paper by the end of 1972–73. Fifteen applications by the existing units to expand their installed capacity through balancing equipment have been sanctioned which will provide an additional output of 100,000 tonnes. The Capital Goods Committee has sanctioned Rs. 80 million worth of foreign exchange for the import of balancing equipment.

In the private sector licences have been issued to set up 3 new units each with a capacity to produce about 70,000 tonnes of paper, 14 with a total capacity to produce 220,400 tonnes of paper and a unit in Himachal Pradesh to produce 60,000 tonnes of newsprint annually.

In the State sector letters of intent have been issued to (1) West Bengal Industrial Development Corporation to set up a small paper mill at Jhargram in Midnapore district. (2) Punjab Government to set up a unit in the bet area of the Ravi and the Beas rivers. (3) A joint venture of Assam and Bihar Governments in collaboration with a private party at Jogighopa in Goalpara district of Assam to produce 120 tonnes of pulp and 90 tonnes of paper per day. (4) Maharashtra Government to set up a newsprint plant in the co-operative sector near Sangli with a capacity of 200 tonnes per day. This will be the first newsprint factory in the country using bagasse as raw material.

Hindustan Paper Corporation Ltd. : Registered Office situated at B-20, Greater Kailash-1, New Delhi-110048 was established in June 1970 with a capital of Rs. 600 million to start four plants in the public sector to meet the growing paper need of the country. One of these plants will be located in the Nowgong District of Assam with a capacity of producing 80,000 tonnes of pulp and 50,000 tonnes of paper per year. Another plant will be located in Nagaland with 30,000 tonnes capacity to produce paper annually. The third plant will be set up in Kerala at Vellur near Vaiken in Kottayam district to produce 75,000 tonnes of newsprint per annum. The fourth plant will be set up in Cachar District of Assam to produce 75,000 tonnes of paper annually.

According to present projections, however, the units already planned and licensed will still not meet the future demand and the Government feels that an additional capacity of about 200,000 tonnes should be created now to meet part of the demand in the Fifth Plan period.

EXPORT AND IMPORT

While the total imports of newsprint, dissolving pulp, long fibre chemical pulp and certain paper products during the past few years range between Rs. 250 to Rs. 350 million annually, the paper industry in India has made some headway in the context of exports too. Presently exports in the line mainly comprise printing and writing paper (coated), kraft, packaging and cigarette papers which are of the order of Rs. 20–25 million annually. During 1960–70 export of paper and paper products stood at Rs. 48·8 million.

Exports and Imports during 1971-72.

Item	Value in Rs.
	Export	Import
Newsprint..	—	275,852,335
Printing and Writing Paper	7,623,900	10,261,594

Packing & Wrapping ..	194,412	1,191,407

Import Duties were raised on paper machinery from 10 per cent to 30 per cent in February 1971, thereby pushing up sharply costs of setting up paper mills. Paper is a highly capital-intensive industry and a mill with a capacity of 150 to 200 tonnes a day involves an outlay of about Rs. 250 million.

GENERAL

Hand-made paper : There are 314 units producing hand-made paper. There are 3,407 full-time workers, 558 part-timers and 149 casual hands in this industry. The output of hand-made paper in 1970-71 was 3,071 tonnes.

Paper Mill Plant : The planned development of the paper and pulp industry is dependent upon the indigenous manufacture of paper making machinery. Four such units are producing all the machinery required in the country, with an import content of 50 to 60 per cent. Besides these there are several other units categorised as ancillaries making only certain parts of the machinery.

Training : Paper technology is taught at (1) Birla Institute of Technology and Science, Pilani, Rajasthan (Degree); (2) Forest Research Institute, Dehra Dun, Uttar Pradesh (Diploma); (3) Institute of Paper Technology, Saharanpur, Uttar Pradesh (Diploma and Certificate).

Research : Forest Research Institute, Dehra Dun, Uttar Pradesh is the only well-equipped research body. However, many large mills conduct research for their own requirements.

Raw Material : Besides bamboo, which is now extensively used for paper making, the need for tapping other sources has been felt. These are sugarcane bagasse, tropical hardwood, coniferous woods, jute sticks and cereal straws. Chemicals required for this process are already being made indigenously.

PETRO-CHEMICAL INDUSTRY

THE hydro-carbon building blocks for the manufacture of a large group of organic chemicals and intermediates finding functional applications in plastics and resins, synthetic rubber, synthetic fibre, agro chemicals, dyestuffs, pharmaceuticals and innumerable organic intermediates, are either the family of olefin hydro-carbons (ethylene, propylene, butadiene) or the family of aromatic hydro-carbons (benzene, toluene, xylene). Traditional sources of such raw materials—mainly fermentation alcohol derivatives from sugar molasses—will be barely sufficient to supply more than one-third of the Fourth Plan requirement of ethylene and can not meet demand for any of the raw materials—propylene and butadiene. Coal carbonisation plants, the traditional sources of benzene and xylene, will be adequate to meet only 30 per cent of the total quantity required in the Fourth Plan. The alternate source for these hydro-carbon building blocks is petroleum-based raw materials (natural gas and naphtha).

India's demand for plastics, synthetic fibres, synthetic detergents and raw materials for the manufacture of agrochemicals, dye-stuffs, pharmaceuticals and other innumerable organic intermediates has been increasing at a very rapid rate and the potential for future growth, particularly in the context of substantial imports of these and other materials such as ferrous and non-ferrous metals, industrial fibres like cotton and wool, vegetable oil, rubber, paper etc. which can be substituted technically and economically by the synthetic chemical, is tremendous.

GROWTH

The first integrated petro-chemical complex was commissioned in India by Union Carbide India Ltd. in December, 1966. This is located in Trombay and its 60,000 tonnes per annum naphtha cracker unit draws supply of naphtha from the neighbouring ESSO Refineries. The establishment of the second naphtha cracker was also in Bombay (Thana) by National Organic Chemical Industries Ltd. This unit inaugurated in January, 1968 is designed to process 225,000 tonnes of naphtha per year obtained through a pipeline across the Thana creek from the Burmah-Shell Refineries. The third naphtha cracker with a likely throughput of 455,000 tonnes per annum is planned to be set up by Indian Petro-Chemicals Corporation near Vadodara. The supply of naphtha is proposed to be drawn from the adjacent Gujarat Refineries at Koyali. Indian Petro-chemicals Corporation will also utilise a special fraction naphtha of 120,000 tonnes per annum from the Gujarat Refineries for producing aromatic chemicals (o-xylene, p-xylene and mixed xylenes) by catalytic reformation and isomerisation and 453,000 tonnes of naphtha per annum for the production of a number of olefin streams. In addition, for the time being, the IPCL is also taking preliminary steps to implement the refinery-cum-petro-chemical complex in Assam and a polyester filament yarn unit in Gujarat.

The Gujarat Refineries started the operation of their Udex plant in December, 1968, for the production of benzene and toluene.

A new Rs. 50 million plant set up by Nagpal Ambadi Petro-Chem. Refining Ltd. has gone on stream in September 1971, for the manufacture of a variety of special petroleum products.

The estimated demand for various basic organic chemicals by 1973-74 and the existing approved capacities are indicated below :

(In Tonnes)

Item	Production requirements by 1973-74	Approved capacity
Benzene	139,600	100,000
Xylene
(a) Mixed	3,000	3,000
(b) Ortho	25,000	21,000
(c) Para	17,000	17,000
Ethylene	215,650	230,000
Propylene	87,600	105,000

MAJOR USES AND TARGETS

The major uses of such synthetic chemicals have been studied in detail to establish the rate of growth of consumption as set out in the Fourth Plan.

(a) Thermoplastic: Plastics represent one of the most dynamic sectors of the petro-chemical industry. The wide range of plastic material available today, their versatile applications, low cost, large number of processes by which they can be converted into different end-products and almost unlimited supply of raw materials from petroleum feed-stocks are some of the major factors contributing to a very impressive growth in the demand throughout the world.

During the recent years, production of plastics has surpassed that of non-ferrous metals like zinc, copper and aluminium in many countries. The plastics today are the biggest outlet for petro-chemicals.

In India, as in many other developing countries, the main applications of plastics are in the consumer goods, packaging and to a limited extent in the building industry. The industrial and engineering applications have been very much limited because of inadequate availability of suitable plastic materials. The demand at the end of the Fourth Plan is expected to reach about 200,000 tonnes as indicated below :

(In Tonnes)

Item	Production requirements by 1973-74	Approved capacity
PVC resins	80,000	86,400
Polyethylene (low density) ..	58,000	59,092
Polyethylene (high density)..	30,000	20,000
Polystyrene	35,000	17,500
Polypropylene	7,000	15,000

(b) Synthetic Fibres: India imports every year over Rs. 1000 million worth of cotton, wool, manilla, sisal and synthetic fibres to meet the present domestic demand of the established textile industry for manufacture of cloth, knitted garments, blankets, tyre cord and other industrial cordage for manufacture of ropes, tents, camouflage nets, nursery nets, fishing nets, industrial filter cloth and industrial fabrics, carpets etc. The important petro-chemical based synthetic fibres, the manufacture of which has been conceived in India, are polyester, polyamide and acrylic fibre. The production programme is as follows:

(In Tonnes)

Item	Production requirements by 1973-74	Approved capacity
Nylon filament, tyre cord and other industrial yarns ..	29,000	26,000
Polyester filament staple fibre	22,000	30,500
Acrylic fibre	12,000	11,500

(c) Synthetic Rubber: The consumption of natural and synthetic rubber has been increasing steadily commensurate with the increase in production of automobile tyres and tubes, bicycle tyres and tubes, conveyor and other industrial belting, hoses, etc. The Fourth Plan demand for all types of rubber has been estimated at about 175,000 tonnes per annum. Domestic production of natural and reclaimed rubber is targeted to reach 115,000 tonnes leaving a deficit of 60,000 tonnes. At present, there is only one synthetic rubber plant manufacturing SBR with a capacity of 30,000 tonnes per annum. The deficit of 30,000 tonnes per annum is proposed to be made up by the production of 20,000 tonnes of high cis polybutadiene and 10,000 tonnes of SBR. The possible increase in the production of SBR rubber by maximum utilisation of the existing plant and machinery is being pursued. It is proposed to set up a second synthetic rubber unit for the manufacture of high cis polybutadiene as one of the downstream units of the Gujarat Petro-chemical complex.

(d) Synthetic Detergents: A significant quantity of vegetable oil is used in the manufacture of soaps. There has been a steady shortfall between the domestic production and consumption of vegetable oils resulting in substantial imports. A major proportion of the vegetable oils used in the manufacture of soaps can be substituted by synthetic detergents. The production requirements of detergent alkylate for Fourth Plan have been set at 12,500 tonnes per annum.

(e) Miscellaneous Chemicals: The manufacture of synthetic plastics, fibres, rubbers etc. require a large number of other chemicals such as caprolactum, acrylonitrile, dimethyl terephthalate, chlorinated hydrocarbons, alkylene oxides, alcohol, 2-ethyl hexanol, phthalic anhydride etc. The Fourth Plan production requirements for some of these chemicals related with the growth of petrochemical industry in India are indicated below :

(In Tonnes)

Item	Production requirements by 1973-74	Approved capacity
Acetic acid	36,800	17,300
Acrylonitrile	18,200	24,000*
Caprolactum	34,000	20,000
Carbon black	60,000	59,000
DMT	26,000	24,000
Ethanolamines	2,500	5,900
Ethylene oxide	17,500	12,000
Maleic anhydride	4,000	6,000
Octanol	23,000	9,600
Phthalic anhydride ..	24,000	18,600
Propylene oxide (derivatives)	5,000	—

PETROLEUM INDUSTRY

BRIEF HISTORY

REAL foundation of oil industry in the public sector was laid only during the Second Plan period (1956–61) when the Government of India launched a planned programme of exploration, production refining and distribution. The Oil and Natural Gas Commission was set up in 1956. It was only after success in exploration that the Government of India decided to create a Ministry of Petroleum and Chemicals in 1963.

Oil exploration had been started by Assam Oil Company/Burmah Oil Company and their associates as early as the last decade of the 19th Century, confined to the Upper Assam region. From 1949 to 1960 the Standard Vacuum Oil Company explored the West Bengal Basin first alone and then with the Government of India as the Indo-Stanvac Petroleum Project.

The sedimentary areas exist practically all over the country covering 1·04 million sq. kms. Even offshore areas along the Indian coast like the Gulf of Cambay and Kutch; off the coasts of Gujarat and Maharashtra, off Coromandal, in the Palk Straits and the Gulf of Mannar; around the mouths of the Ganges and the Mahanadi, areas off Kerala, Andamans and Nicobar Islands are said to be oil bearing.

EXPLORATION

There are three agencies doing exploration work — the Oil and Natural Gas Commission (ONGC), the Assam Oil Company and the Oil India Ltd. — of which the ONGC, a public sector undertaking is the principal one.

The Assam Oil Company and the Oil India Ltd., operate within the areas allotted to them in Assam State while the Oil and Natural Gas Commission is responsible for exploration over the remaining parts of the country.

OIL AND NATURAL GAS COMMISSION

It has its headquarters at Dehra Dun. About 22,000 persons are employed on its staff.

Geological and geophysical surveys are carried out by the Commission in various parts of the country. On the basis of results of these surveys, drilling has been in progress in a number of States of the Indian Union, particularly in Gujarat and Assam. As a result of this, oil and gas have been found in a number of areas of which the most important are at present the Cambay gas field, the Ankleswar, Kalol and Nawagam oil fields in Gujarat, and the Rudrasagar and Lakwa oil fields in Assam.

After exactly a year of drilling by the ONGC off the Gulf of Cambay oil was struck on 19th March, 1970, whether oil can be produced in commercial quantities will be known after tests are completed.

During 1970–71 the ONGC struck gas at Dabka, a new structure in Gujarat and stepped up the production from the north Gujarat fields. The number of wells drilled and completed by the Commission from its inception upto November 1972 was 991, of which 602 were oil/gas bearing, 26 were under water injection and 96 were under test.

Off-shore Operations: By the end of 1973 the ONGC will commence exploratory drilling on certain off-shore structures beginning with Bombay High, the oil-bearing region in the Arabian sea, 112 kms. north-west of Bombay. According to initial estimates Bombay High had a 2,000 sq. kms. oil rich structure, expected to yield 80 to 100 million tonnes of oil.

Iran Off-shore Venture: Exploration for oil in the waters of the Gulf of Persia was taken up for which the ONGC floated a subsidiary company called Hydro Carbons (India) Pvt. Ltd., (D-35, South Extn. Part II, New Delhi 110049) which holds ¼th share in a company called the Iranian Marine International Oil Co. IMINOCO. The other constituents of this company are: National Iranian Oil Company; AGIP of Italy and Phillips of the U.S.A.

The Rostam field went into production in August, 1969. In the first year of production Hydro Carbons (India) Pvt. Ltd. received 131,185 tonnes of crude oil of which 70,438 tonnes was sold to CEPSA, Madrid (Spain), 15,029 tonnes to Cochin Refineries Ltd., Cochin, and 45,718 tonnes to Total International Ltd., Bermuda. It fetched $1,267,374·96 (Rs. 9·6 million) for the country.

IMINOCO has discovered another field called Raksh to the north east of Rostam.

On-Shore Operation: Spudding in the first well at Tripura was achieved by the end of 1971 after sophisticated equipment purchased abroad had been received.

During the period April–December 1970 the Commission drilled 70 wells with a total meterage of 128,393 in Gujarat, Assam, Rajasthan and the Cauvery Basin. This takes the number of wells drilled from 1956 to December 1970 to 862 of which 478 are oil-bearing, 66 gas bearing, 21 water injection and 214 dry wells. 83 wells are still under test.

OIL INDIA LTD.

(H.O. Duliajan, Upper Assam): Next to ONGC this is the other major oil producing organisation. It was set up with a 50:50 partnership of the Government of India and Burmah Oil Company†. It holds mining leases over an area of 1,321 sq. kms. and petroleum exploration licences over an area of 1,219 sq. kms. in north-east India.

During 1972 the company drilled 1 exploratory well and 10 development wells bringing the number drilled up to December 1972 to 307 development and 16 exploratory with a total meterage of approximately 989,978 and 71,007 respectively.

The company plans to maintain 3 million tonne crude production per year. The production of crude for calendar year 1972 was 3·18 million tonnes. Of this the company supplied 3·15 million tonnes to Indian Oil Corporation's refineries at Gauhati and Barauni and the Assam Oil Company's refinery at Digboi.

ASSAM OIL COMPANY

(Digboi, Assam): The Assam Oil Company was formed as a result of the merger of the Assam Railway and Trading Company and the Assam Oil Syndicate. It has drilled 998 wells upto December, 1970 out of which 384 are in operation now. The present rate of production of Assam Oil Company is of the order of 0·11 million tonnes.

PRODUCTION

ONGC, Oil India Ltd., and Assam Oil Company are also the only three agencies doing production work. During the period April to November 1972, the Commission supplied 285·3 million cubic metres of associated and non-associated gas to various consumers.

Price Policy: The new pricing policy of the Government which came into effect from 1st June 1970 maintains that in addition to the eight main ports all the inland refineries be made pricing points, thereby bringing down the cost of petroleum products in the areas near the refineries.

The supplemental report of the Oil Prices Committee concerning prices of lube base stocks produced indigenously and lubricants/greases was submitted to government on 31st July, 1970. It is under examination.

DISTRIBUTION

Petroleum products are distributed through a wide distribution net-work in all parts of India. At present the major oil distributing companies are Indian Oil Corporation (wholly owned by the Government), Burmah-Shell, Esso, Caltex and Assam Oil. These companies obtain their products from the refineries in India and also import certain amount of products for distribution.

INDIAN OIL CORPORATION LTD.

(Regd. Office: 254-C, Dr. Annie Besant Road, Prabhadevi, Bombay 400025). The Indian Oil Corporation comprises two divisions viz. Refineries Division and Marketing Division.

Refineries & Pipelines Division (Indianoil Bhavan Janpath, New Delhi) is responsible for the management of the three public sector refineries at Gauhati in Assam, Barauni in Bihar and Jawaharnagar in Gujarat. Also manages Gauhati-Siliguri, Haldia-Barauni-Kanpur and Jawaharnagar-Ahmedabad pipelines.

Marketing Division with its headquarters in Bombay is responsible for distribution of petroleum products produced by three refineries of IOC and two other public sector refineries at Cochin and Madras.

Started in 1960 it became the largest marketing organisation by 1968. Its market participation in 1971-72 was 54·2 per cent as against 52 per cent in the previous year. In 1971-72 the Corporation sold about 13·68 million kilolitres of petroleum products.

† But subsequently Burmah Oil Co. agreed to reduce its equity in Oil India Ltd. by 10 per cent.

INDO-BURMA PETROLEUM COMPANY LTD.

(Allahabad Bank Building, 17, Parliament Street, New Delhi 1). It became a subsidiary of the IOC after the Corporation purchased 579,400 ordinary shares from Messrs. Steel Brothers & Co. The IBP has a total of one million equity shares of Rs. 10 each. It markets motor gasoline and diesel oil of the IOC refineries.

The company has also diversified into manufacture of sophisticated electronics equipment (both medical and industrial) and special purpose machinery. In 1972 the company took over the management of Balmer Lawrie Group of Companies.

Indian Oil International Ltd.: A wholly-owned subsidiary of the IOC was registered at Kathmandu, Nepal on June 11, 1970 as a foreign company for the sale of Indian Oil products within the territory of Nepal. It has a market participation of 65 per cent.

Indian Oil Blending Ltd.: IOC has a 50 : 50 joint venture with Mobil Petroleum Corporation of U.S.A. to operate two lube blending plants in Bombay and Calcutta and a grease manufacturing plant in Bombay.

REFINERIES

There are 9 refineries in operation and two under construction. Of these four are in the private sector — Burmah Shell Refineries, Esso, Caltex and the Assam Oil Company — and are owned by foreign private oil companies.

The other five — Gauhati, Barauni, Koyali, Cochin and Madras — are in the public sector. The refineries at Gauhati, Barauni and Koyali are owned by the Indian Oil Company whilst Cochin and Madras by two separate refinery companies.

Total Throughput: The total throughput of the nine refineries in 1970 was 18·5 million tonnes — 11·0 million tonnes in the public sector and 7·5 million tonnes in private sector.

Private Sector: The Digboi Refinery of the Assam Oil Company produced a total of 0·46 million tonnes of petroleum products in 1970. Its annual throughput during 1970 was 0·49 million tonnes.

The throughput of the three private sector refineries during 1970 was : Burmah-Shell 3·45 million tonnes ; Esso 2·35 million tonnes ; Caltex 1·18 million tonnes.

BURMAH-SHELL REFINERIES LTD.

It commenced operations at Trombay on January 30, 1955. The crude oil intake is at present about 3·75 million tonnes per annum ; it comes from the Persian Gulf area.

The Refinery manufactures motor spirit, kerosene, aviation turbine fuel, high speed diesel oil, light diesel oil, jute batching oil, fuel oil, bitumen, liquefied petroleum gas, special boiling point solvents, refinery gas, aviation gasoline, naphthas, mineral turpentines, Carbon black feedstock, hot heavy stock and cutbacks.

The total cost of the Refinery was about Rs. 260 million and the total number of employees engaged in the various categories at present is around 1,260.

CALTEX OIL REFINING (INDIA) LTD.

Located at Visakhapatnam its products include Petrol, Aviation Jet Fuel, Liquefied Petroleum Gas, Mineral Turpentine, Kerosene, Diesel Oils and Fuel Oil from the Refinery's two-stage crude oil distillation unit, the fluid catalytic cracking unit with gas recovery facilities, and the propane decarbonisation unit and treating and blending plants. Other products such as Petroleum Naphtha and Asphalt are also manufactured.

The Refinery is capable of processing over 1·5 million tonnes of crude oil per annum.

ESSO STANDARD REFINING COMPANY OF INDIA LTD.

It is situated at Trombay near Bombay and was built at the cost of Rs. 175 million. The refinery is capable of refining 3·5 m. tonnes of crude oil per annum.

Initially, the Refinery was designed to process 1·25 million tonnes of Middle East crude and to manufacture six fuel products. In its 15 years of operation, the capacity has been increased and new products such as asphalt, jute batching oil, solvents and liquefied petroleum gas have been introduced to meet the growing needs of the country, thereby saving considerable foreign exchange.

Public Sector: The first public sector refinery at Gauhati in Assam was commissioned in January 1962. The Rumanian Government have provided the necessary technical and financial assistance for the refinery.

The second public sector refinery at Barauni in Bihar was commissioned in the second half of 1964. The initial capacity of two million tonnes has been expanded to three million tonnes since Jan. 1969. The foreign exchange cost and technical assistance for the Barauni refinery was met out of the Soviet credit.

The third public sector refinery has been constructed at Koyali near Vadodara in Gujarat and was commissioned in October 1965. Its initial capacity was two million tonnes and has been increased to three million tonnes since September 1967. The technical assistance and financial assistance has been supplied by the Soviet Union.

COCHIN REFINERY

(P. Box 1751, Cochin 682016, Kerala). This is a participatory refinery project in the public sector, the principal collaborators with the Government being Messrs. Phillips Company, U.S.A. It was commissioned on 19th Sept. 1966.

The Refinery has been designed to produce annually 2·5 million tonnes of petroleum products.

The expansion programme of the refinery is expected to be completed by the middle of 1973. This programme envisages increasing the processing capacity from 50,000 barrels per stream day to 70,000 barrels. The present investment is Rs. 280 million.

Managing Director: Glandale Betz ; Manager, Tech. Operations: F. W. Fulton.

MADRAS REFINERIES LIMITED

(Regd. Office and Refinery : Manali Madras 600068 : A joint venture of the Government of India (major shareholder), National Iranian Oil Company, Amoco India Incorporated, U.S.A., the Madras Refinery is designed to process 2·5 million tonnes per annum of Darius crude oil from Persian Gulf, Iran (50,000 barrels per calendar day). Products : Motor Gasolene, Superior Kerosene, Naphtha, High Speed Diesel Oil, Light Diesel Oil, Lube Base Stocks, Jet Fuel, Furnace Oil, Liquid Petroleum Gas, Asphalt and Sulphur.

The authorised capital of Madras Refineries Limited is Rs. 135 million.

Chairman: M. Rama Brahmam ; Managing Director: Dr. M. S. Nadkarni.

Refineries Under Construction: The IOC is constructing three more refineries one at Haldia, West Bengal with a capacity of 2·5 million tonnes a year. Its fuel section is expected to be completed by the end of 1973 and the lube section by May 1974. The second refinery will be at Bongaigaon in Goalpara district of Assam with a capacity of one million tonnes per annum. It would be on stream by 1975. The third refinery will be set up at Mathura, Uttar Pradesh with a capacity of 6 million tonnes per annum. This would be the biggest refinery in the country and is expected to go on stream by 1978.

RESEARCH

Research is being conducted in all phases of the petroleum industry. The ONGC has set up the Institute of Petroleum Exploration at Dehra Dun with the help of the U.N. for research and training in the exploration and production phases of the industry.

The Indian Institute of Petroleum in Dehra Dun was set up under the control of the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research to conduct research and training in the refining and marketing phases of the industry.

Allied Companies :

ENGINEERS INDIA LTD.

(PTI Building, 4, Parliament Street, New Delhi 110001). Registered in 1965 in collaboration with Bechtels, U.S.A., it become a wholly owned Indian company in June 1967. It provides engineering and consultancy services for the expansion and planning of refineries, petrochemical and fertiliser plants.

Chairman and Managing Director : M. S. Pathak.

LUBE INDIA LTD.

(Administration Building, Corridor Road, Mahul, Bombay 400074). A 50 : 50 partnership between the Government of India and ESSO. Designed to produce 147,000 tonnes per year of lube base and 17,000 tonnes per year of transformer oil feed stocks, the Refinery went on stream in December 1969. During the startup year 1970 and 1971 the Refinery produced 58 per cent and 90 per cent of designed capacity, respectively.

Managing Director : E. D. Gray.

LUBRIZOL INDIA LTD.

(Thana-Belapur Road, Turbhe, Thana, Maharashtra).

A 51 : 49 equity holding of the Government of India and The Lubrizol Corporation, U.S.A.

In the first phase the plant was to produce 6,000 tonnes of chemical additives per year. Production was started in November 1968. With the success of the first phase the company is now implementing the second phase, the installation of basic chemical processes, utilising indigenously manufactured chemical raw materials.

Chairman : Dr. M. G. Krishna ; Managing Director : V. H. Pandya.

Under a new trade agreement signed with Iraq, India will import one million tonnes of crude oil initially from Iraq which will also finance setting up of a refinery in India based on this supply.

SHIPPING INDUSTRY

BRIEF HISTORY

THE earliest evidence of shipping and ship-building activity is found in the archaeological remains of Mohen jo-daro, in the Indus Valley, dating back to some 3000-5000 B.C. Ever since the shipping and ship-building industry has passed through various periods of vicissitudes.

At the time of the country's independence in August, 1947, India had only 48 coastal vessels with 119,000 GRT (gross tonnage) and 11 foreign-going vessels with 73,000 GRT.

Position Today : As on May 15, 1973, India's GRT stood at 2·667 million comprising 261 ships. Firm orders have already been placed for 86 ships of 2·133 million GRT. The anticipated scrappings during 1972-73 is expected to be about 0·212 million GRT.

Tonnage Carried by Indian Ships: In the liner trades Indian ships are estimated to be carrying a share of 40 to 45 per cent of the overall Indian-Foreign trade but in the tramp and bulk carrier trade their share is estimated to be about 10 per cent.

Ranking in the World : Indian merchant fleet by the total GRT occupies the 16th position in the world.

SHIPBUILDING INDUSTRY

(See chapter on Government Industrial Undertakings where details of Hindustan Shipyard, Mazagaon Docks, and Garden Reach Workshops are given).

Merchant Fleet in Operation : On 1st April, 1972, the total merchant fleet consisted of 258 ships of 2,520,410 GRT. The changes that have taken place since then up to 31st December, 1972, are indicated below :

TRAINING INSTITUTIONS

Shri Narotam Morarji Institute of Shipping : At Calicut Street, opp. Fort Market. Bombay 400001 has been functioning since April, 1969. It imparts training and conducts examinations on matters pertaining to the commercial side of shipping — chartering, ship broking practice, marine insurance etc.

Merchant Navy Training Board : At Jahaz Bhavan, Walchand Hirachand Marg, Bombay 400001, advises the Government on all matters pertaining to the training of merchant navy personnel.

The Government of India has set up six training establishments for the training of merchant navy officers and ratings. The Training Ship. "Dufferin" now replaced by T. S. "Rajendra" provides pre-sea training course of two years for navigating cadets. The new training ship has an intake of 125 cadets, 45 cadets more than the old one. The Directorate of Marine Engineering Training provides a four years' course for engineering cadets. The boys desirous of undergoing training in the two institutions are drawn from all parts of the country through All India Competitive Examination followed by interview and medical and eyesight test.

Rules for Entry into T.S. 'Rajendra' and D.M.E.T. are as follows: Age Limit : A candidate must have completed 16 years of age and must not have exceeded 18 years on January 1 of the year of entry. Eligibility : A candidate is eligible, provided he has passed (1) the higher secondary examination either (a) in the science stream with chemistry, mathematics and physics as elective or optional subjects, or (b) in the technical stream, or (2) the pre-university examination with some science group or any equivalent examination, or (3) the Indian School Certificate Examination, or (4) the first year examination of the Inter-Science or F.Sc. course both again with the same elective subjects.

The present intake in D.M.E.T. is 100 cadets per annum.

The Lal Bahadur Shastri Nautical and Engineering College at Hay Bunder, Tank Road, Bombay 400033, provides post-sea instructional courses for both navigating and engineering cadets and apprentices who are preparing for Ministry of Transport Certificate of Competency Examinations. There is a Life Boat School attached to the college.

Ratings Training Establishments : The Training Ship "Bhadra" (Calcutta), "Mekhala" (Visakhapatnam) and "Naulakhi" (Navlakhi-Gujarat) are ratings' training establishments. These institutions provide a six months' course for deck and engine ratings. Candidates between the age group 18 to 22 with minimum educational qualification of 8th standard pass are eligible for admission, if medically-found fit. An advertisement is published in all important newspapers in India in different languages once in a year or when necessary for selection of candidates for pre-sea training courses and they are selected on merits after an interview at Bombay by the Director, Seamen's Employment Office and at Calcutta, Navlakshi and Visakhapatnam by the respective Captain Superintendents of the training ships according to the number required each year.

Recruitment of Seamen : Seamen's Employment Offices were set up in Bombay in June, 1964, and Calcutta in March, 1965, to regulate the supply of seamen to foreign-going vessels on the principle of rotation.

Seamen's Welfare : The seamen's welfare offices at the ports of Bombay, Calcutta, Madras and overseas at Sydney, London, Liverpool and Glasgow take care of the welfare of Indian seamen. The Principal Seamen's Welfare Officer at London has the additional duties of finding jobs for Indian seamen on foreign-owned ships. His jurisdiction is entire Europe.

FOURTH PLAN

The Fourth Plan target for shipping 4 million GRT with 3·5 million GRT in operation and 0·5 million GRT on order at the end of the plan period i.e. 31st March 1974. As against this, the operative tonnage of 2·6 million has already been achieved and ships aggregating about 1·5 million GRT are under construction or on order.

During the mid-term appraisal of the Fourth Plan, it was decided to take advance action in respect of the Fifth Plan for placing orders for 0·88 million GRT. Hence the total target works out to 4·88 million GRT.

Inland Water Transport : In order to harness all possible modes of transport for easier and faster movement of goods the Government is considering the development of inland water transport system. If the 36 main proposals made by the expert committee under the chairmanship of Mr. B. Bhagwati in its report submitted on October 1970, are to be implemented the expected outlay would be Rs. 124·22 million during the Fourth Plan and Rs. 148·90 million during the Fifth Plan period. The scheme is being studied by the Government.

SMALL-SCALE INDUSTRY

Definition : The official definition of a small-scale industry includes all industrial units with a capital investment of not more than Rs. 750,000 irrespective of the number of persons employed. Capital investment for this purpose means investment in plant and machinery only.

Ancillary Industries : Capital ceiling on ancillary industry has been placed at Rs. 1 million in order to make this important sector more efficient. For this purpose a unit which produces parts, components, sub-assemblies and tooling for supply against known or anticipated demand of one or more large units manufacturing or assembling complete products and which is not a subsidiary to or controlled by any large unit in regard to the negotiation of contracts for supply of its goods to any large unit, is considered an ancillary unit.

Priority Industries : Manufacturers of the following items are accorded priority from the capital goods angle :

Motor cycle, scooters, mopeds and bicycles (including parts); Agricultural machinery and implements including harvestors; Pumps, compressors, industrial fans and blowers; Industrial and mining machinery (other than those specified in key industries); Pipes, pipe fittings; Internal combustion engines; Industrial furnaces; Ball and roller bearings; Power cables and telephone cables and busbars; Storage batteries, dry batteries; Construction equipment; Cranes; Industrial fasteners; Link chains; Commercial vehicles including jeeps and three wheelers; Trawlers, fishing boats, harbour crafts and ancillaries; Tele-communications equipment, wireless and TV transmission and radar equipment; Radio receivers and TV sets; Wagons, shunters and locomotives; Industrial refrigeration equipment and ancillaries; Fire engines, crash tenders and other fire-fighting equipment; Non-ferrous semis and alloys; Electric lamps and lamp components, including miniature lamps; Essential organic and inorganic heavy chemicals; Dyestuff intermediaries; Photographic films, stores and paper; Paper; Synthetic detergents; Tyres and tubes; Industrial explosives; Industrial gases; Refractories, fire-bricks and insulators; Leather and leather-goods industries including footwear Industrial alcohol; Enamels; Packaging industry; Man-made fibre; Matches; Food processing industries; Vegetable oils; Ion-exchange resins; Coal carbonization and coal-tar distillation; Cement; Electric insulating materials; Asbestos Products; Electrodes; Watches and Time-pieces; Ready-made garments.

Reserved Industries : Following is the list of industries reserved exclusively for development in the small-scale sector :

Absorbent Cotton; Automobile Radiators (except for expansion on merits); Barbed Wire; Beam Scale; Bichromates (except for exports); Bolts and Nuts (except high tensile and other special type); Conduit Pipes — Metallic; Domestic Electric Appliances and Accessories such as electric iron, roasters, heaters, washing machines etc., other than vacuum cleaners, industrial washing and dry-cleaning machines etc.; Dyes—(i) Azo Dyes (directs and acids) and (ii) Basic Dyes; (a) Electrical Wiring Accessories, (b) Electrical light fittings (such as chokes, starters, reflectors etc.); Expanded Metal; Fireworks; Formulated Perfumery Compounds; Full P.V.C. Footwear (chappals, sandals and shoes), except for export by predominantly export-oriented units; Glass Holloware by semi-automatic process; Gun Metal Bushes; Hand Numbering Machines; Hand Stapling Machines; Hurricane Lanterns; Hypodermic Needles; Insecticide Dusters and Sprayers (Manual); Laundry Soap; Leather Footwear (except for expansion of the existing units for exports and new units for exports); Machine screws (except for socket head and special types); Machine Shop Vices; Metal Clad Switches upto 30 Amps; Miniature Bulbs—(a) Miniature Vacuum Bulbs, (b) Torch Bulbs, (c) Radio Panel Bulbs, (c) Cycle Dynamo Bulbs, (e) Decoration Bulbs; Paints and Varnishes — Dry Distempers, Red Lead, Red Oxide, Aluminium Paints, Bitumen Paints to ISI specifications, Wagon Blocks, Graphite Paints, all Paste Paints; Palm Rosa Oil; Paper Conversion Products; Pine Oil (except for composite schemes); Plaster Boards; Plastic Processed Products—(i) Bottle Caps, Buttons, Lamp-shades etc., produced by the compression moulding technique; (ii) Plastic articles manufactured from plastic sheets, rods or tubes by the fabrication technique excluding the technique of vacuum forming; (iii) Polyethelene Films (Films with a thickness of less than 0·10 mm) and products from the film such as coloured printed film and bags; (iv) Blow moulded containers and other similar products manufactured by the blow moulding technique (except for captive use, PVC containers and change-over by existing units manufacturing metal containers to plastic containers); (v) Spectacle frames from sheets by fabrication technique or by injection moulding; (vi) Manufacture of polyester sheets for buttons and the processing of the sheets so produced to manufacture buttons; rivets of all types (including bifurcated); Rolling Shutters; Roofing, Flooring and Glazed Tiles (except plastic ceramic tiles of sizes 4″ × 4″ and above); Safety Matches; Steel Wool; Student's Microscopes; Surgical Gloves (except Plastic); Telescopic Aerials (for radio receivers); Thermometers (upto 150°C); Water Meters; Welded Wire Mesh (except for expansion of existing units); Wire Brushes and Fibre Brushes; Wire Products — all Wire products such as Wire Nails, Hob Nails, Panel Pins, Horse Shoe Nails; Wood Screws; Cycle Tyres and Tubes; Electric Horns; Hydraulic Jacks below 30 tonnes capacity; Tooth Paste; Pressure Die Castings (upto 4 kgs.); Drums and Barrels (upto 50-litre capacity); Tin Containers-underprinted (other than CTS cans), upto 18-litre capacity; Flash Light Torch Cases (Plastic); Truck Body Building (Wooden structure); Battery Cell Tester; Pressure Gauges (upto 50 lbs. per sq. inch); Low Tension Insulators; A.A. & A.C.S.R. Conductors (upto and including 19 strands); Electric Transmission Line Hardware (other than those manufactured in malleable castings); Grease Nipples and Grease Guns; Exhaust Mufflers; Zinc Oxide; Auto Leaf Springs; Chaff Cutter Blades; PVC & VIR Wires of Domestic Type; Metal Fittings for garments and leather goods; Weights; Sodium Silicate; Fuel Lines; Fuel Tank Caps; Wiring Harness; Tail Lamp Assembly; Side Lamp Assembly; Step Lamp Assembly; Spot Lamp Assembly; Horn Buttons; Bulb Horns; Seats for buses and Trucks; Ornamental fittings; Rear View Mirrors; Sun shades; Sun Visor; Luggage Carrier; Tyre inflators (both hand and foot-operated); Ash trays; Hub Caps; Wind Shield Wipers (Arms and Blades only); Electrical fuses; Electrical fuse boxes; Battery cables and fittings; Spokes and Nipples; Steering Wheels.

REGISTRATION :

No licences, either from the Central or from the State Governments, are required for starting a small unit, but they are subject to the rules and regulations framed by the State and Local authorities under the Factories Act, Commercial Establishments Act, and Town Planning Act. Rules of the health and sanitation authorities are also applicable.

To get loans from the commercial banks or State Financial Corporations, or for any other governmental assistance, it is essential that the unit be registered with the State Director of Industries.

FACILITIES :

Following additional benefits can also be availed of if a unit is registered.

1. Assistance in obtaining controlled and imported raw material.
2. Electrical power.
3. Accommodation in Industrial Estates.
4. Training facilities.
5. Supply of machinery on hire-purchase basis.
6. Accommodation in Industrial Centres.
7. Preference in Government Purchase Programmes.
8. Priority in telephone connections.

STATE FINANCIAL CORPORATIONS

Following are some of the State Financial Corporations, with their addresses, which are authorised to give loans to medium and small industries and also disburse government funds :

Andhra Pradesh State Financial Corporation, Chapel Rd., Gun Foundry, Hyderabad 500004; Assam Financial Corporation, Gleherquart House, Shillong; Gujarat State Financial Corporation, 5th Floor, Gujarat State Co-op. Marketing Society's Bldg., opposite Relief Cinema, Relief Rd., Ahmedabad 380001; Bihar State Financial Corporation, Fraser Rd., Patna; J. & K. State Financial Corporation, P.W.D. Financial Corporation, 7/154, Swaroop Nagar, Kanpur; West Bengal Financial Corporation, 23, Rajendra Nath Mukerjee Rd., Calcutta; Delhi State Financial Corporation, Saraswati House, Connaught Place, New Delhi.

NATIONAL SMALL INDUSTRIES CORPORATION LTD.

An autonomous agency started by the Central government for the promotion of small industries.

The headquarters of the Corporation is in New Delhi and has branch offices in Calcutta, Bombay and Madras.

There are three Prototype Development and Training Centres at New Delhi, Rajkot and Howrah.

Their addresses with the area covered by each office is given below :

Head Office : NSIC Ltd., near Industrial Estate Okhla, New Delhi. All India plus U.P. Punjab, Haryana, Rajasthan, Delhi, Himachal-Pradesh and J & K.

Branch Offices : NSIC Ltd., Prestige Chambers, Kalyan St., Chinch Bunder, Bombay 400009 — Maharashtra, Goa, Gujarat and Madhya Pradesh.

NSIC Ltd., 20, British Indian St., Calcutta 700001 — West Bengal, Bihar, Assam, Orissa, Manipur, Tripura, Andaman & Nicobar Islands.

NSIC Ltd. 123, Mount Rd., Madras 600006 — Tamil Nadu, Andhra Pradesh, Kerala, Mysore and Pondicherry.

Baltikuri, Howrah, 711101, (West Bengal).

SPECIALISED SERVICES :

Technical Advisory Service; Workshop and Laboratory services; Economic services; management consultancy services; marketing advisory service, managerial and technical training service and other general services which are far too expensive to be privately obtained are given free by the Central Small Industries Organisation.

Addresses of the Small Industries Service Institutes are as follows :

STATE CORPORATIONS :

Almost all the States have their own Corporations to assist small industries. The addresses of some of them are:

The Assam Small Industries Development Corporation Ltd., Industrial Block, Gauhati;

The Bihar State Small Industries Corporation Ltd., S.P. Varma Rd., Patna 800001 ;

The West Bengal Small Industries Corporation Ltd., 45, Ganesh Chandra Ave., Calcutta 700013 ;

The Kerala State Small Industries Corporation Ltd., Pattom Kaudiar Rd., Trivandrum 695001 ;

The Gujarat Small Industries Corporation Ltd., Ambica Niwas, Ashram Rd., Navrangpura, Ahmedabad ;

The Madhya Pradesh Laghu Udyog Nigam Ltd., Bhopal ;

The Mysore Small Industries Corporation Ltd., Administrative Office Bldgs., Ind. Estate, Rajaji Nagar, Bangalore ;

The Punjab State Small Industries Corporation Ltd., P.B. No. 11, Chandigarh ;

The Uttar Pradesh Small Industries Corporation Ltd., 14/40 Civil Lines, Kanpur ;

The Madras State Small Industries Corporation Ltd., Khaleel Mansion, 35/2, Woods Rd., Madras 600002 ;

The Rajasthan Small Industries Corporation Ltd. K-18, Durga Dass Path, Malviya Marg, 'C' Scheme, Jaipur ;

The Andhra Pradesh Small-Scale Industrial Development Corporation Ltd., B-1-174, Fateh Maidan Rd., Hyderabad 500004 ;

The Maharashtra Small-Scale Industrial Development Corporation Ltd., Bombay Life Bldg., 5th Floor, 45, V. Nariman Rd., Bombay 400001 ;

The Orissa Small Industries Corporation Ltd., P.B. No. 85, Killamaidan, Cuttack 753001 ;

The Haryana State Small Industries & Export Corporation C/o Director of Industries, Govt. of Haryana, Chandigarh.

Magnitude of the Sector : The number of units estimated to be under SSIDO programme in 1970, were 400,000. Registration (1969) with Directors of Industry stood at about 282,000 providing employment to 3·67 million people, producing goods worth Rs. 48,600 million and having an investment of Rs. 6,970 million.

Industrial Estate : Factories numbering 6,366 were working in 9,739 sheds (out of the 10,758 constructed by 30-9-72) having an annual production of Rs. 1,620 million and giving employment to 104,132 people.

Plan Provision for Small-Scale Industries : Small-scale Industries programme is estimated to be Rs. 444 million, Rs. 663 million and Rs. 1,042·5 million in II, III and IV Plans respectively. Industrial Estates Programme is estimated at Rs. 116 million, Rs. 226 million, and Rs. 190·8 million during the same periods.

STEEL INDUSTRY

BRIEF HISTORY

ALTHOUGH India occupied a pre-eminent position in iron and steel making in the ancient world, the industry on modern lines is only sixty years old. It came into existence with the launching of the Tata Iron and Steel Works at Jamshedpur, Bihar in 1907. Before this, a number of attempts were made in different parts of India to start the industry by both private companies and the Government, but none of these was even moderately successful.

The Jamshedpur steel works went into operation by stages in 1911-12. In 1919 Indian Iron and Steel Company established a unit near Asansol, West Bengal. Meanwhile the first unit in the public sector was put up in Mysore on the banks of river Bhadra. Production in Mysore Iron and Steel Works began in 1923.

Upto the end of second world war these three were the only main units in India producing 1.7 million tonnes of pig iron and a million tonnes of steel ingots annually. As this production was not enough to meet the whole of India's growing needs, after the independence the Government of India decided to put up three large units in the public sector under the Hindustan Steel Ltd. and also encouraged the expansion of the existing units.

Holding Company. The Steel Authority of India Ltd. was set up under the Companies Act on 24th January, 1973, to provide comprehensive framework of an organisation to ensure co-ordinated development of both the private and the public sectors.

The following companies will become subsidiaries of SAIL :

Hindustan Steel Ltd. ; Bokaro Steel Ltd. ; Salem Steel Ltd. ; National Mineral Development Corporation ; Bharat Coking Coal Ltd. ; Hindustan Steelworks Construction Ltd. ; Manganese Ores Ltd. ; Bolani Ores Ltd. ; (For personnel see "Ministry of Steel & Mines" in Central Government list).

Private Sector

Tata Iron and Steel Company Ltd., (Head Office: Bombay House, Bruce Street, Bombay 1.) produces a variety of semi-finished and finished steel items like blooms, billets, tin bars, skelp, rails, structurals, plates and sheets.

The Government has entrusted to Nippon Steel of Japan to give a feasibility report on doubling the plants capacity from 2 million tonnes of ingot a year to 4 million ingot tonnes. Against the installed capacity of 2 million tonnes the Company produced 1·708 million tonnes of steel ingots in 1971-72 and 1·690 million tonnes in 1972-73. In terms of saleable steel this amounts to 1·387 million tonnes in 1971-72 and 1·458 million tonnes in 1972-73.

Indian Iron & Steel Company Ltd., (Head Office: 12, Mission Row, Calcutta 1) has a rated capacity of one million tonnes of steel ingots. It manufactures billets, bars, rods, rails, structurals and sheets.

The decline in the production forced the Government to take over management for two years from 14th July, 1972.

The production of ingot steel during 1971-72 was 617,000 tonnes and during 1972-73 431,157 tonnes. In terms of saleable steel this amounts to 493,000 tonnes and 351,024 tonnes respectively.

Public Sector

Besides the steel plants at Bhilai (Madhya Pradesh), Rourkela (Orissa) and Durgapur (West Bengal) which come under Hindustan Steel Limited there is the Bokaro Steel Ltd. in Bihar which is being constructed with the help of the Government of USSR since 1966. The agreement was signed on January 25, 1965. The first blast furnace complex was commissioned on October 3, 1972. Upto the end of February 1973, 240,157 tonnes of pig iron has been produced. The entire complex is expected to be completed by 1977-78.

There is also the Mysore Iron and Steel Ltd. at Bhadravati, Mysore.

PRODUCTION

The target of production of steel ingots for 1972-73 was 7·2 million tonnes for the five main producers, as against the actual production of 5·8 million tonnes in 1971-72. The actual production of steel ingots during 1972-73 amounted to 6·1 million tonnes.

Distribution : The new procedure has done away with quotas and ceilings for booking of orders by actual users on the steel plants through the Joint Plant Committee. After the sale/works order is issued by a producer, if priority in despatch is required, the party has to apply to the Steel Priority Committee through the Joint Plant Committee giving details. The Steel Priority Committee would then consider all demands and allocate steel every quarter.

Requirements in small quantities for industries, private citizens and public institutions are generally met from stockyards. Accordingly, the distribution policy for steel materials from producers' stockyards had been amended since March 1, 1971. After providing for distribution of small tonnages allocated to specific parties by the Steel Priority Committee, the amended scheme had earmarked 20 per cent of total arrivals of prime quality materials in the stockyards for allottees of State Directors of Industries.

For compact industry groups like bright bar industry, wire drawing industry, tube mills and fabricators of electric lamination, the stockyards have prepared a list of consumers in consultation with Directors of Industries, materials suitable for these industries are given to them after meeting Government demands and requirements of the building trade.

EXPORTS

Because of the restrictive export policy since 1970-71 there has been a drastic reduction in exports. During 1971-72 only 420·1 thousand tonnes were exported earning a revenue of Rs. 254·8 million. During April 1972 to February 1973 exports amounted to 371·3 thousand tonnes valued at Rs. 156·6 million.

IMPORTS

During 1971-72 the total value of licences issued for imports of iron and steel amounted to Rs. 2,464·60 million. The value of actual imports was Rs. 2,447·90 million. The total quatity imported was 1·38 million tonnes.

Licences issued during April 1972 to December 31, 1972 amounted to Rs. 1,483·90 million. The actual imports during April/August 1972 were 0·579 million tonnes valued at Rs. 961·80 million.

The following table gives the imports for the last three years.

Research : The National Metallurgical Laboratory at Jamshedpur, Bihar since its inception in 1950, has been orienting its research and development programme to suit the requirements of the metal and mineral-based industries and also to meet the broad-based requirements of the country particularly in these areas. To a considerable extent, the National Metallurgical Laboratory has succeeded in the implementation of the techniques and innovations developed, thereby paving the way for the establishment of new industries, minimising the imports — by developing substitute metals and providing indigenous skill and talents in many areas where hitherto dependence on foreign know-how was necessary.

Training : Graduate courses in Metallurgy are available in several universities. For details see the chapter on Education.

Mini Steel Plants : During 1970 and 1971 the Government had issued 19 letters of intent. Under the new policy the industry was delicensed in 1966 and brought back within the scope of Industrial licensing from February 1970.

WOOLLEN INDUSTRY

BRIEF HISTORY

THE woollen industry is one of the few manufacturing sectors which has made rapid strides in recent years. Although the first unit was set up more than a century ago, there was no significant expansion till the beginning of the fifties. From hardly 16 units in the organised sector of the industry in 1950, there are now 102 mills in the country with an installed capacity of 204,818 spindles.

The Indian Woollen Industry comprises of an organised sector and a wide range of decentralised sectors. The latter represents the traditional handicraft skills in design and execution as a domestic industry and the former represents the modern sophisticated production techniques and management.

Public Sector : Out of the 102 organised units there are only 3 units in the public sector, the names and addresses of which are as follows :

1. Rajasthan Government Worsted Spinning Mills, Churu, Rajasthan ;
2. Kashmir Government Woollen Mills, Shirinbaugh, Srinagar, Jammu & Kashmir;
3. Government Spinning Mills, Nowshera, Srinagar, Jammu & Kashmir.

No. of Persons Employed : There are over 100,000 persons employed directly in the industry.

Capital Investment : The national figure is approximately Rs. 9·9 million.

PRODUCTION

India's 42 million sheep produce annually about 31·75 million kgs. of raw wool. About 50 per cent of the raw wool produced in India is below 40s count and a substantial part of this low quality is exported and the rest is used for the manufacture of coarser apparel and floor covering, etc.

The following table gives the overall picture of production of tops, yarn and fabrics :—

EXPORTS

Indian woollen goods account for two per cent of the country's total exports. The net foreign exchange earned under this sector is estimated to be around Rs. 120 million.

Export Incentives : The measures initiated by the Government to boost exports included (1) higher replenishment of raw wool against exports of woollen goods (2) lifting of ban on export of worsted/woollen yarn manufactured from imported wool (3) abolition of export duty on raw wool (4) grant of additional raw materials to units which export more than 10 per cent of their production.

Wool and Woollen Export Promotion Council

Address : Churchgate Chambers, 5, New Marine Lines, Bombay-400020.

IMPORTS

The production performance of the woollen industry is heavily dependent upon imported raw wool and wool tops. The industry was allotted Rs. 120 million of foreign exchange during 1969–70. However, the industry supplemented its raw material requirements by way of National Defence Remittance licences and export promotion entitlements.

The trend in imports of raw wool during 1967–68 to 1970–71 was as follows (Quantity in million kgs. and value in million Rs. respectively) : 1967–68 : 11·92, 113·27 ; 1968–69 : 12·15, 104·68 ; 1969–70 : 18·40, 165·18.

Import Policy: Since November, 1967, all imports of wool either for domestic consumption or for export purposes are canalised through the State Trading Corporation. The 20 per cent share earmarked for the worsted sector is distributed to mills in the organised sector on the basis of their installed and recognised spindleage. The balance of 80 per cent is distributed to various sectors in the proportion of 55 per cent for weaving, 27 per cent for hosiery and 18 per cent for knitting. Units in the decentralised sector get a direct allotment of wool.

GENERAL

Combing capacity in the industry needs to be expanded to meet the demands. Though the present capacity is about 18·14 million kgs. only 13·61 million kgs. was really effective. The combing requirement in terms of quantity works out to about 20·41 million kgs. There is a clear gap of about 6·8 million kgs.

Newly set up Gujarat Sheep and Wool Development Corporation at Krishi Bhavan, Alice Bridge, Ahmedabad, will help the industry to produce quality wool by a cross-breeding programme for upgrading local sheep through regular supply of acclimatised exotic rams. To a great extent this will reduce imports of quality wool and improve prospects of self-sufficiency.

International Wool Secretariat at 41 New Marine Lines, Bombay-400020, is a non-commercial non-profit organisation with headquarters at London. Financed by subscriptions from the largest wool producing concerns round the world it helps the Indian Woollen Industry in all its problems such as economic, research, planning etc.

Research : Central Sheep and Wool Research Institute at Malpura (88 kms. from Jaipur) in Rajasthan, is run by the Indian Council for Agricultural Research and is partly aided technically and financially by F.A.O. Situated on a 1,618 hectares farm, its main programme is research and training facilities in sheep husbandry, better utilisation of land, wool shearing, grading, testing, technology and processing. It also trains key personnel, instructors, supervisors, managers and research workers.

Two sub-stations for sheep rearing and cross breeding are run by the Institute, one at Kulu (H.P.) and the other at Kodaikanal (T.N.).

Wool Research Association at the VJTI Institute, Bombay 400019, is set up by the industry in collaboration with CSIR. It mostly deals with research on wool yarn and fibre and its application to different commodities, improvement of the quality of fabrics etc.

Training : Wool technology diploma course is conducted by the VJTI Institute under the guidance of the Wool Research Association.

Association : Indian Woollen Mills' Federation, Churchgate Chambers, 5, New Marine Lines, Bombay-400 020.

1. Bombay Fine Worsted Manufacturers, Castle Mills, Agra Road, Thana, Maharashtra (170).
2. The Raymond Woollen Mills Ltd., J. K. Building, Morarjee Marg, Ballard Estate, Bombay-400 001, Maharashtra (196).
3. Binny Ltd. (Bangalore Woollen, Cotton & Silk Mills Co. Ltd.), Agraharam Road, Bangalore-560023, Mysore (182).
4. New Egerton Woollen Mills Ltd., (British India Corporation Ltd.), Dhariwal, Punjab (230).
5. Cawnpore Woollen Mills Ltd., Civil Lines, Kanpur, Uttar Pradesh (250).
6. Shree Digvijaya Woollen Mills Ltd., Aerodrome Road, Jamnagar-361003, Gujarat (87).

Raw Material : The average yield of sheep in India works out at about 0·90 kg. as against over 4 kgs. in Australia.

FIFTH FIVE-YEAR PLAN

According to the report of the Working Group during the Fifth Plan the following expansion schemes have been proposed.

64 per cent expansion in installed capacity of worsted spindles ; 34·5 per cent for powerlooms ; 155 per cent for shoddy spindles and 45 per cent for combing sector.

This means the installed spindleage would go up from the present 204,818 to 337,000. Of the proposed expansion priority units would account for 30,000, combing units 33,000, backward areas 38,000 and decentralised units 31,000.

The expansion in the powerloom sector would be from 3,867 looms to about 5,200 looms.

The estimated production of worsted yarn at the end of the Fifth Plan would rise to 30 million kgs., of which weaving yarn would be 16·5 million kgs., hosiery yarn 8·0 million kgs. and grey hand knitting yarn 5·5 million kgs.

The shoddy sector would expand from 24,491 spindles to about 63,300 spindles. The production of shoddy yarn from the expanded capacity would be 14 million kgs.

In the woollen spindles sector the expansion would be from 80,491 to 85,491 and the estimated production of woollen and carpet yarn from these would be 19 million kgs.

GOVERNMENT INDUSTRIAL UNDERTAKINGS

THE total value of production of 105 operating government companies increased by Rs. 3,910 million to Rs. 25,410 million during the year ended March 1971 and total earnings by Rs. 3,560 million to Rs. 24,830 million. The 105 companies — 56 Central Government companies with a total paid up capital of Rs. 14,620 million as on March 31, 1971 and 49 State Government companies with a total paid up capital of Rs. 660 million — account for about 76·5 per cent of the aggregate paid up capital as at the end of March 1971. Among the 105 companies, 30 Central Government companies and 23 State Government companies earned profits during 1970-71 after meeting interest obligations.

Gross profits (profits before tax and interest) improved from Rs. 918·7 million in 1969-70 toRs. 1,018·5 million in 1970-71. The amount of gross profit earned was not adequate even to cover the interest obligations which amounted to Rs. 1,043·8 million in 1970-71. After tax provision and dividend payments the overall operations of the 105 companies in 1970-71 showed a net loss of Rs. 370·8 million, against Rs. 364·7 million in the previous year. The ratio of gross profits to sales fell marginally from 4·2 per cent in 1969-70 to 3·9 per cent in 1970-71 for giant companies and from 4·8 per cent to 4·7 per cent for other companies.

Bokaro Steel Ltd., Bokaro Steel City, Dt. Dhanbad (Bihar).

The work on this project was started as a result of an agreement signed on 25th January 1965 between the Government of India and the Government of USSR. Bokaro is the fourth steel plant in the public sector in the country. It consists of two stages. Stage I for the production of 1·7 million tonnes of ingot steel and 880,000 tonnes of pig iron and stage II for the production of four million tonnes of ingot steel. Stage I is due to be completed by the end of 1973.

Since Bokaro Steel Plant has been conceived essentially as a four million tonne plant and its expansion from the intermediary stage of 1·7 million to four million tonnes capacity is to be done on continuous basis, the major portion of the work of four million tonnes is involved in the construction of the first stage itself. The expansion is being phased in a manner so as to achieve a capacity of 2·5 million tonnes on a crash programme basis by the end of Fourth Plan i.e. March 1974 and four million tonnes by 1978.

According to the detailed project report, Bokaro is expected to just break even at the four million tonne stage. So the question of expanding the capacity beyond the four million tonne stage is now being considered as a matter of urgency. The feasibility report for expansion to 4·75 million tonnes has already been received and based on this a proposal has been put up to the Govt. for approval. This expansion is estimated to cost only Rs. 580 million. The cost per ingot tonne of this additional capacity works out to Rs. 800 only. This will bring down the investment cost to Rs. 2,660 per ingot tonne of steel capacity. A number of plant units, were commissioned during the year 1972.

Central Institute of Plastics Engg. & Tools, Guindy, Madras 600032. (Under Ministry of Petroleum and Chemicals).

It is a training-cum-consultancy-cum-development institute set up to assist plastic industries by carrying out training in mould making and mould design and mould polishing. In course of time other specialised courses to cater to the demands of plastic industry will be introduced.

Chittaranjan Locomotive Works, Head Office & Works: Chittaranjan, Dt. Burdwan, West Bengal. Branch Office : 4, Chittaranjan Avenue, Calcutta 700013.

(Under Ministry of Railways.)

BALANCE OF PAYMENTS & FOREIGN AID

Data on various constituents of the balance of payments are not available beyond September 1971. The latest compilations relate therefore, to nine month period January to September 1971. During this period, the external payment position deteriorated markedly compared to the same period in 1970. Foreign exchange reserve went up by Rs. 500 million against the rise of Rs. 1,160 million in the corresponding period in 1970. Repurchases from the Fund at Rs. 490 million and SDR allocation of Rs. 760 million in 1971 were against Rs. 950 million each in 1971. But the reserves benefited to the tune of Rs. 130 million from valuation changes in major world currencies. If all these transactions of special nature are excluded, the rise in reserves would amount to Rs. 110 million in January-September 1971 and that in corresponding period of 1970 to Rs. 1,240 million. This was caused by the widening of trade deficit because of a sharp step up of imports of steel and raw cotton, larger imports of non-ferrous metals and rise in payment of import of crude. Considering the current account deficit of Rs. 4,345 million, the increase of Rs. 4,885 million in net capital account, and net decrease of Rs. 163 million for errors and omissions, the balance of payments was on the plus side by Rs. 377 million.

Trends in Reserves during 1971-72 (July-June) : Foreign Exchange reserves which registered a decline of $66 million during 1970-71 (July to June) increased by Rs. 590 million to Rs. 8,460 million during 1971-72 (July-June). A part of this improvement, however, reflected the appreciation in the value of some of the reserve assets resulting from changes in exchange rates. Exchanging this, the improvement in reserves would work out to be Rs. 430 million in 1970-71, the reserves declined by Rs. 500 million to Rs. 7,870 million at the end of June 1971 ; however, repurchases from the IMF and the purchase of gold for the payment of additional gold subscription to the IMF, had meant a sizable outgo of Rs. 1,240 million from the reserves in that year. But for these transactions, the reserves would have shown an increase of Rs. 720 million in July 1970 to June 1971, or Rs. 290 million more than the increase this year.

Trade Deficit : Over the period January-September 1971, while the aggregate import bill increased by Rs. 1,980 million to Rs. 14,600 million, exports moved up nominally by Rs. 460 million to Rs. 10,675 million and the trade deficit widened in consequence from Rs. 2,406 million to Rs. 3,927 million.

Current Account Deficit : With a deficit trade balance of Rs. 3,927 million, net official transfer payments of +246 (million rupees) and other invisibles of — 664 (million rupees), the net current account amounted to — 4,345 (million rupees).

External Assistance : In the fiscal year 1971-72*, authorisation totalled Rs. 53,780 million recording a slight rise over the year, in contrast with the fall in the earlier years since 1969 (except in 1970-71). Loans and grants authorised amounted to Rs. 8,490 million, and Rs. 360 million respectively to bring about the rise in total assistance authorisations ; PL 480 amounted to Rs. 90 million in the year. Total utilisation of external assistance during the year 1971–72 was Rs. 56,590 million.

* Rupee values for 1971–72 have been computed at IMF par values prevailing prior to the realignment of exchange rates on December 18, 1971.

That still left Rs. 16,080† million undisbursed at the end of March 1972.

Debt Service Charges: After rescheduling and postponement of debt service charges of Rs. 230 million in 1971-72, the actual servicing payment rose to Rs. 4,460 million. The net utilisation of external assistance thus rose to Rs. 56,590 million. As a proportion to the aid utilised, the servicing payments were 55 per cent, while as a proportion to the exports, they amounted to 29 per cent.

Foreign Aid: External assistance commitments to India during 1972-73 totalled over Rs. 7,420 million against Rs. 7,222 million in the previous year.

The Aid India Consortium has fixed a target of $1,250 million (about Rs. 9,400 million) for the year.

The World group accounted for Rs. 2,770 million out of the Rs. 7,420 million of loans extended to India during the year ending March 1973.

Following table gives an indication of the amount of foreign aid India has received, and how much of it was used from April 1951 to October 1970.

AID GIVING COUNTRIES

United States: The U.S. is the largest source of aid to India's development. The total amount received from the U.S. up to April 1971 is 9,896·3 million dollars or, at the current rate of exchange 74,222·3 million rupees.

The break-up of this figure is as follows:—

Grants (not repayable) 1,943·9 million dollars; Loans repayable in dollars 3,344·4 million dollars; Loans repayable in rupees convertible into dollars at U.S. Government option 432·2 million dollars; Local currency repayments (loans repayable in rupees or dollars at Government of India option; Cooley Fund loans to private enterprises, and amounts under P.L. 480, Title 1, agreements reserved for U.S. Government uses) 4,175·8 million dollars.

The various U.S. Agencies that disburse the aid are as follows, with the amounts sanctioned by each agency up to April 1971.

	Agency	Million Dollars	Rupees at Current rates (million)
1.	USAID Missions Tech. Co-op. Programme:
	(a) Development grants not repayable.. ..	450·1	3,375·8
	(b) Loans (repayable in rupees or dollars) ..	154·1	1,155·8
2.	USAID development Loans:
	(a) Repayable in dollars..	2,633·4	19,750·5
	(b) Repayable in rupees	505·8	3,793·5
3.	P.L. 480, Title I (grants & loans repayable in Rs.) ..	4,787·0	—*
4.	P.L. 480, Title II (donations not repayable)	649·4	4,870·5
5.	Emergency Flood & Famine Relief grants (not repayable)	5·5	41·3
6.	U.S. Export-Import Bank loans (repayable in dollars)	521·3	3,909·7
7.	Wheat Loan of 1951 (repayable in dollars) ..	189·7	1,422·8
	Total	9,896·3	74,222·3

* It is estimated that P.L. 480 deposits under existing agreements will total approximately Rs. 26,660 million.

Switzerland: Swiss development assistance is both multi-lateral and bilateral. Although Switzerland is not a member of the United Nations, it is a member of the U.N. specialised agencies like UNDP, FAO, WHO, UNICEF, UNESCO, etc. through which the Swiss Government channels its multi-lateral assistance.

Bilateral assistance to India

Loans: The Government of Swiss Confederation has so far provided transfer credits to the extent of 210 million Swiss francs or Rs. 362 million.

Grants: From 1961 until 31st March 1971 the Swiss Government has sanctioned a total amount of Sw. Fr. 37,291,000 (Rs. 69 million) for development grants to India. For 1970-71, the total sanction was Sw. Fr. 8,679,000 (Rs. 16 million). Out of this amount, Sw. Fr. 22,526,000 (Rs. 41,710,000) have been spent as of 31st December

† Adjusted for devaluation of Pound Sterling and Danish Kroner in November 1967, of French Franc in August, 1969 and for re-valuation of Deutche Mark in October 1969 except in case of loans from the IBRD and the IDA which are reckoned at the parities prevailing at the time of authorisation and drawals of individual instalments.

1970. For 1970, the amount is Sw. Fr. 4,357,000 (Rs. 8 million). This does not include relief or humanitarian assistance, the amount of which was Sw. Fr. 1,947,000 (Rs. 3,600,000) in 1970.

The main projects covered by the programme are two Indo-Swiss cattle breeding and fodder development projects in Kerala and Punjab, collaboration for rehabilitation of Tibetan refugees, irrigation projects in Mysore and Maharashtra and assistance to a number of technical schools, agricultural high schools and colleges and hospitals. A number of scholarships have also been offered.

Switzerland also contributes substantial amounts to the World Bank and IDA.

New Zealand : India is the second largest single recipient of New Zealand assistance under the Colombo Plan, the total value of official aid provided up to 31st March, 1972 being approximately N.Z. dollars 8 million.

A summary of New Zealand assistance under the Colombo Plan is as follows :

United Kingdom : British aid to India has taken two major forms: Longterm loans granted through the Aid India Consortium since its formation in 1958; and since 1966, these loans have been interest-free and repayable over 25 years with a seven-year grace period. The second type of assistance provided is in the form of grants through the Colombo Plan since its inception in 1951.

Financial Assistance : Following are details of loans extended during the Plan periods.

	£ million	Rs. in million
1. Second Five-Year Plan	80·5	1,449·0
2. Third Five-Year Plan ..	181·5	3,267·0

1970–71 ..	54·5	1,003·9
1971–72 ..
Total ..	520·6	9,413·9

From this table it will be seen that the total value of British Government loans for which agreements have been signed between 1958 and 31st March, 1972, was £520·6 million (Rs. 9,413·9 million).

Of this sum £459·9 million (Rs. 8,227 million) was utilised by 31st March 1972 of which approximately £50·8 million (Rs. 963·0 million) was disbursed during the financial year 1971–72.

Major British Aided Projects

1. Durgapur Steel Plant (£ 72·1 million).
2. Heavy Electricals (India) Ltd., Bhopal (£30 million).
3. Security Paper Mill Project, Hoshangabad (£1·8 million).
4. Oil India Ltd. (£2·8 million).
5. Fertiliser Plant, Namrup, Assam (£ 4·4 million).
6. Sulphuric Acid Plant, Sindri, Bihar (£667,000).
7. Shipbuilding agreements have recently been concluded whereby Britain will provide £23 million for the construction of two 75,000 tonne bulk carriers for the Shipping Corporation of India, one 75,000 tonne bulk carrier for the Scindia Steamship Company, and one 25,000 tonne products tanker for the Great Eastern Shipping Company.
8. Fertilisers : Britain has signed agreements to help Finance the following fertiliser projects.

Indian Farmers Fertilizer Corporations Kandla/Kalol £7 million.

Southern Petrochemicals Corporation, Tuticorin £7·7 million.

Mangalore Fertilizer and Chemicals, Mangalore, £105 million.

Canada : Economic assistance to India began in 1951 with a grant of Rs. 105 million ($15 million) which was used for the purchase of Canadian wheat, electrical equipment for the Mayurakshi Hydro Electric and Irrigation Project, West Bengal, vehicles and radios for the Locust Control Programme and road transport equipment for the Maharashtra Transport Commission. Since then Canada had extended Rs. 7,650 million ($1,071·5 million) in assistance which has been used in many aspects of India's development programme. Fifty per cent of this took the form of outright grants.

Much of the balance was made up of loans of the softest terms available to India from any source — no interest, service or commitment charges, repayment in 50 years with a 10-year grace period. Canada ranks second after the United States in total bilateral net aid i.e. disbursements (less repayments) that has been provided to India. Currently Canada is directing about 30 per cent of its global bilateral assistance programme to India ; Rs. 677 million ($94·8 m.) in 1971–72.

* Two food loans extended in 1957. Loans were originally Rs. 231 million ($33 million) but Rs. 70 million ($10 million) outstanding in 1966 and 1967 were written off.

1971-72 Programme : In addition to projects started in previous years Canada and India during 1971 entered into agreements on several new projects and programmes. Among the ongoing ones, Canada during 1971 provided Rs. 280 million ($40 million) of gift Canadian wheat and Rs. 280 million ($40 million) of industrial commodities and fertilisers. Among the latter were aluminium zinc, lead, asbestos, woodpulp, newsprint, rubber, sulphur, NPK, potash and urea. The three new projects started this year were (1) a development loan of Rs. 21 million ($3 million) to the Oil and Natural Gas Commission for the purchase of oil exploration equipment ; (2) a Rs. 71 million ($10 million) development credit through which purchasers in the public and private sectors can buy direct from Canadian suppliers machinery, equipment and services. It is expected that most of the loan will be used for the supply of sophisticated electronics and mechanical equipment for Indian airports ; (3) a third development loan of Rs. 7 million ($1 million) provides for the purchase in Canada of machinery for the fertiliser bulk handling facilities to be constructed at the port of Kandla. The construction of these facilities will permit considerable savings in foreign exchange since fertilisers purchased in bulk are cheaper than specially packaged or bagged fertilisers.

Australia : Australian bilateral aid to India from 1951–1971 totalled $A 88·5 million. This has been in the form of outright grants under the auspices of the Colombo Plan. It has consisted of commodities such as wheat, fertilisers, copper and milk powder and wool ; capital equipment for development projects ; and technical assistance. During this period, the number of Indians trained in Australia came to 1,175 ; 94 Australian experts came to India. Some of the important projects assisted by Australia are : Tungabhadra and Ramagundam Projects, AIR, Railways, Modern Bakeries, Rajasthan Canal Project and sheep and cattle.

Upto December 1971, Australian expenditure totalled $88·5 million (Rs. 803 million) ; viz. Emergency Food Aid $A 47·4 million ; Economic Development $A 35·9 million ; Technical Assistance $A 5·2 million.

Budget and Foreign Aid

The budget for 1973-74 assumes credit for external loans totalling Rs. 6,618·0 million.

No credit is taken for any receipts under the PL-480 account.

The external debt repayment liability during the coming financial year will be of the order of Rs. 2,621·9 million inclusive of Rs. 76·4 million in respect of PL-480 rupee loans.

After allowing for the repayments the net receipt of external loans has been placed at Rs. 3,996·1 million.

According to the budget papers there would be no rupee loans to the Government next year out of the PL-480 reserves, and the encashment of special securities in which these funds are invested will be less because of smaller grants out of these for the Rural Electrification Corporation.

These will result in a net accretion of Rs. 371·6 million on this account.

The largest single receipt or external assistance in the coming year will be from the IDA totalling Rs. 2,223·6 million and new credits totalling Rs. 1,880 million.

The second largest will be from Japan and Britain totalling Rs. 490·7 million and Rs. 496·2 million respectively.

Canada, West Germany and France among the consortium countries and the Soviet Union outside it come next in order.

FOREIGN INVESTMENT IN INDIA

Background : After World War II, foreign enterprise came to consider India as a potential market, and not so much as a place for undertaking production activity. The processing units in India, hitherto, had been set up by the ruling country. After independence other countries also entered the Indian market with technical collaborations. India did not have much foreign exchange problem then. Due to the foreign exchange shortage in the fifties and sixties the capital transfers out of India became difficult. In spite of that, foreign investment continued to grow and brought in the much needed know-how as regards markets, technology etc., which is more important than capital.

Statistics : There are about 752 corporate bodies in India controlled by foreign enterprises (excluding 32 shipping and air companies). More than 541 are registered in foreign countries and have established places of business in India. These are registered as 'foreign companies', under Sec. 591 of the Companies Act. And nearly 223 corporate bodies are functioning as subsidiaries of foreign enterprises. The value of assets of these corporate bodies is now over Rs. 24,000 million against Rs. 80,000 million for the entire private corporate sector. The value of these undertakings aggregate roughly upto Rs. 25,000 million and contributes nearly 33 per cent of the total production of the entire private corporate sector.

Following items mainly fall under manufacturing and processing :—

Cigarettes, footwear, motor vehicles, bicycles, electric lamps, electrical machinery, apparatus etc., aluminium, medical and pharmaceutical operations, washing soap and allied preparations, paints and varnishes, chemical products, kerosene and petroleum refineries, asbestos cement products, rubber and rubber manufacture, pulp, paper and paper pulp, bakery and confectionaries, dairy products etc.

The most important of these are the pharmaceutical companies, petroleum and oil, cigarettes, rubber tube and tyres with a total Indian and foreign investment of Rs. 1,110 million, Rs. 2,100 million, Rs. 740 million and Rs. 710 million respectively.

In the pharmaceutical industry 11 foreign companies (as defined in Sec. 591 of Companies Act), and 20 majority foreign-owned companies have 40 per cent of the total assets of pharmaceutical industry in India. In the cigarette industry, out of the total seven companies operating in India, 2 majority-owned foreign companies and 5 with foreign share participation, control nearly 70 per cent of cigarette production in India. In the petroleum and oil industry, the corporate bodies in India (controlled by multi-national corporations like ESSO, Shell group, Caltex, Assam Oil, British Burma etc.) control nearly 38 per cent of the assets of the entire industry. The rubber tyre and tube manufacturing is almost fully controlled by companies whose assets are owned by multi-national giants (like Firestone Tyre and Rubber Company, U.S.A., Goodyear Rubber Company, U.S.A., Dunlop Company, U.K., and Ceat Tyres, Italy).

Country-wise Distribution : The total number of foreign companies (as defined in Section 591 of the Companies Act, 1956) in India as on 31st March 1972 was 541. The countrywise distribution is given below :

United Kingdom 325, U.S.A. 89, Japan 17, West Germany 12, Pakistan 12, Switzerland 10, France 8, Canada 7, Hong Kong 8, Italy 5, Sweden 5, Netherland 6, Australia 3, Belgium 3, New Zealand 3, Panama 2, Yugoslavia 3, Bahama Island 2, Thailand 2, Sri Lanka 1, Kenya 1, Kuwait 1, Lebanon 2, Liberia 1, Luxumbourg 1, Philippines 1, Singapore 2, Tanzania 1, Uganda 3, Iran 1, Nepal 2, Aden 1, Greece 1. Total 541.

INVESTMENT AND REMITTANCES

Investments : Direct investment of foreign enterprise in corporate bodies in India which are under their effective control (excluding companies in which they have minority participation) is about Rs. 5,000 million, which is about 20 per cent of the aggregate value of their assets in India amounting to Rs. 24,000 million. Thus, nearly Rs. 19,000 million have been raised by the foreign enterprises in India from Indian sources. Out of this Rs. 1,000 million was by equity participation by Indian subscribers and Rs. 18,000 million were borrowed from banks, financial institutions, deposits from public and sundry credits.

Remittances: The total amount remitted by foreign firms out of India, profits, dividends, royalties, etc. rose from Rs. 763 million in 1969-70 to Rs. 992 million in 1970-71. The figures for the first nine months of 1971-72 were Rs. 638 million.

Profits remitted by the top nine foreign firms during 1971-72 are given below :

Malayalam Plantations (U.K.) Rs. 10,906,380 ; National and Grindlays Bank (U.K.) Rs. 9,088,493 ; First National City Bank (U.S.A.) Rs. 9,047,781 ; Coca-Cola Export Corpn. (U.S.A.) Rs. 6,057,512 ; American Express (U.S.A.) Rs. 3,656,555 ; Bank of America (U.S.A.) Rs. 3,524,165 ; Assam Frontier Tea Co. Calcutta (U.K.) Rs. 2,865,708 ; Cadbury Overseas (U.K.) Rs. 2,599,218 ; Chese Borough Ponds Inc. (U.S.A.) Rs. 2,268,283. EID Parry was the only foreign incorporated Company which made remittances on account of royalty and the amount remitted was Rs. 18,516.

Policy : In spite of the significant role played by foreign capital and know-how in the rapid industrial growth of India in the fifties and sixties, Government of India has placed certain restrictions on foreign collaborations, e.g. :

1. Majority foreign equity participation is not encouraged, except in fields where India has made little or no progress or where development is urgently needed. The Government tries to ensure that effective control remains in the hands of Indians.
2. The principal of wholly-owned subsidiaries is discouraged.
3. Where majority foreign participation is approved, the remittance of royalties is on a reduced basis.
4. In collaborations having high profit margins the remittances are related to the foreign exchange earned by the foreign collaborators.
5. Stress is laid by Government on rapidity of growth and equitable distribution of income generated by such ventures and that Indian personnel be trained to replace foreign technicians as early as possible.

Joint Ventures : After the foreign exchange crisis of 1958, the system of joint ventures was recommended to secure equity capital. Before this foreign enterprise was allowed to take equity participation to provide foreign exchange for machinery and equipment. Even for the technical collaboration, the collaborators were allowed to accept equity instead of royalties and fees.

However, foreign investors prefer to operate in India through wholly-owned subsidiaries rather than joint ventures. It makes it easier for them to part with their know-how ; sell the products at preferential prices ; provide working funds without interest payments ; strengthen their international net-work ; bring down the unit cost ; and thus increase exports.

Hence Indian industrial growth is based partly on foreign equipment and know-how and partly on its own man-power and money. (Data furnished here does not include corporate bodies in which foreign enterprises hold minority interest, as it is not readily available.)

Five Year Plan : Average annual inflow of foreign capital during the Fourth Five Year Plan is envisaged at Rs. 600 million. However, the gross inflow of foreign investments during 1969–70 (the first year of the current Plan) was Rs. 810 million out of an overall total outstanding foreign private investment which stood at Rs. 15,420 million upto March 1968.

Overall Trends : Growing interest of foreign investors and industrialists in India is apparent from the number of proposals for collaborations approved by the Government of India which stood at 257, 245 and 183 during 1972, 1971 and 1970.

BANKING

As many as 1,612 (936 in unbanked centres) new branches were opened between July 1971 and June 1972, (against 1,890 during July 1970 and June 1971). Of these, 821 branches were opened by 14 nationalised banks, 439 by State Bank of India and its subsidiaries, 340 by other scheduled banks, and 12 by non-scheduled commercial banks. The total number of bank offices stood at 13,620 on 30th June 1972. Of 5,375 offices opened since nationalisation, upto end June 1972, 3,416 branches were in unbanked centres.

Data released by the Reserve Bank of India in September, 1972 reveals that as many as 988 and 335 branches were opened in the rural and semi-urban centres respectively, during this period, while 138 and 146 new branches were opened in urban and metropolitan centres respectively.

In the allocation of credit to the priority sector, the advances of the scheduled commercial banks to the agriculitural sector had risen from Rs. 3,820 million at the end of June 1971 to Rs. 3,950 million at the end of December 1971. Advances to the small industrial units increased from Rs. 5,000 million to Rs. 5,450 million ; other priority sectors including retail trade increased from Rs. 1,440 million to Rs. 1,630 million ; large and medium industry, wholesale trade and others from Rs. 33,530 to Rs. 35,840 ; exports increased from 3,810 million to Rs. 4,590 millions ; and food procurement operations Rs. 3,790 to Rs. 3,650 million. The total bank credit went up to Rs. 50,520 million in Dec. 1971 from Rs. 47,580 million in June 1971.

National income in 1971-72 fiscal year was expected to around Rs. 195,050 millions (at 1960-61 prices) and Rs. 368,00 (at current prices). The deposits aggregated at Rs. 75,235 millions on end June 1972, showing an increase of Rs. 13,073 millions during the year. The credit deposit ratio was much lower during the year. It was 73·1 per cent against 77 per cent in the previous year.

With all these achievements the nationalised banks have touched only the fringe of the problem of becoming the reliable and suitable ally of the most needy in the urban and rural areas. India is still far behind countries like Japan, USA and Canada where deposits as a proportion of national income is 84 per cent, 56 per cent and 49 per cent respectively.

Another disappointing feature of banking in India is the fact that the average population served by commercial banks' offices though improved from 65,000 to 46,000 per bank office (at the end of May, 1971) and to 40,000 (at the end of June 1972), is yet very high against 4,000 in Britain, 7,000 in the US, 15,000 in Japan and 11,000 in Iran.

Working Results of Public Sector Banks : An analyis of working results of 22 public sector commercial banks (i.e. State Bank of India, its seven subsidiaries and 14 nationalised Indian banks) reveal, that their profits at Rs. 128 million, for the year 1971 showed an improvement of Rs. 27 million (26·2 per cent) over that for 1970. The total income of these banks increased by Rs. 1,010 million (24·5 per cent) during 1971 as compared to a rise of Rs. 763 million (22·7 per cent) during 1970. The increase in the income during 1971 was mainly due to the rise in earnings from interest and discount, which rose by Rs. 916 million in 1971 as compared to a rise of Rs. 715 million in 1970. The rise in interest income was mainly due to the stepping-up of the rates of interest on advances following the rise in Bank rate from January 9, 1971 and the increase in the level of their advances. The total expenses of these banks increased by Rs. 983 million (24·5 per cent) in 1971 as compared to an increase of Rs. 752 million in 1970. Interest paid on deposits and borrowings showed an increase of 27·0 per cent as compared to a rise of 19·9 per cent in 1970, partly owing to the rise in interest rates on deposits and borrowings. The rise in the expenditure on salaries and allowances amounting to Rs. 359 million (21·7 per cent) in 1971 was, however, lower than that in 1970, when it had increased by Rs. 365 million or 28·4 per cent, reflecting smaller increase in the number of banking offices in 1971 than in 1970.

State Bank Group : Total income of the State Bank of India improved from Rs. 1,127 million in 1970 to Rs. 1,421 million in 1971. Income from commission, exchange and brokerage increased by Rs. 34 million in 1971 as compared with a fractional increase of only Rs. 6 million in 1970. The Bank's expenditure also increased by Rs. 283 million (25·7 per cent) in 1971. In 1970, the rise in total expenses was of the order of Rs. 214 million or 24·1 per cent. The profits of the State Bank of India, at Rs. 38 million in 1971, recorded an increase of Rs. 11 million (40·0 per cent) as against a small decline of Rs. 1 million in 1970. Out of these profits, the Bank transferred Rs. 20 million to Reserve Fund and provided Rs. 13 million for dividend to shareholders.

The seven subsidiary banks of the State Bank increased their income from Rs. 325 million in 1970 to Rs. 402 million in 1971 mainly on account of larger interest earnings from loans and advances. Since their expenditure also increased by almost the same extent as the income, their profits showed a marginal decline of Rs. 0·2 million in 1971 as against a rise of Rs. 1 million in 1970. Out of the profits, these banks transferred Rs. 1·2 million to reserves and provided Rs. 3·6 million for payment of dividend.

Nationalised Banks : The fourteen nationalised banks, after meeting all their expenses and providing for usual provisions, transferred to the Government of India Rs. 44·3 million in 1971 as compared to Rs. 41·7 million in 1970.

The working results of the fourteen nationalised banks for 1971 reveal an improvement in their profits from Rs. 69 million in 1970 to Rs. 85 million in 1971. This improvement in profits occurred despite a sharp rise in their expenditure.

The total income of these banks increased by Rs. 638 million to Rs. 3,306 million in 1971 ; in 1970, it had increased by Rs. 494 million. Interest payment on deposits and borrowings increased by Rs. 344 million in 1971 as compared to a rise of Rs. 213 million in the preceding year. However, the increase of establishment expenditure was only Rs. 211 million in 1970. The profits of these banks, therefore, rose by Rs. 16 million in 1971, as compared to a rise of Rs. 11 million during the preceding year. Out of the profits during 1971, the nationalised banks transferred Rs. 394 million to reserves and Rs. 44·3 million to Government of India.

Working of Scheduled Commercial Banks other than Public Sector with Deposits of over Rs. 100 million:

The working results of 25 private sector scheduled commercial banks (including foreign banks) with deposits of over Rs. 100 million as at the end of December 1971 showed an improvement in their profits from Rs. 39 million in 1970 to Rs. 46 million in 1971, i.e., an increase of 163 per cent. The total income of these banks went up by Rs. 187 million (26 per cent). The increase in income was mainly due to an improvement in earnings from interest and discount, which rose by Rs. 155 million to Rs. 744 million in 1971. The rise was mainly due to higher rates of interest charged by them on advances, following the rise in Bank rate from January 9, 1971 and an increase in the level of their advances. The interest paid on deposits and borrowings showed an increase of Rs. 85 million (27·4 per cent) in 1971 partly due to the rise in interest rates on deposits and borrowing and partly due to increase in interest bearing deposits. There was also a rise in the expenditure on salaries and allowances by Rs. 450 million an increase of 22·8 per cent over 1970. A part of the rise in the expenditure on salaries and allowances was accounted for by an increase of 249 in the number of offices in 1971.

Private Sector Indian Scheduled Banks : The total income of private Indian scheduled banks with deposits exceeding Rs. 100 million improved from Rs. 270 million in 1970 to Rs. 356 million in 1971, an increase of 31 per cent over the year. The increase in income was mainly due to interest and discount earned at Rs. 308 million in 1971 as against Rs. 232 million in the previous year. The substantial increase in the income was not, however, reflected in a corresponding increase in net profits, which increased only by Rs. 4 million during the year. The increase in gross income was more or less offset by increase in interest on deposits and borrowings and salaries and allowances, etc. Some of the banks in this group, however, showed a better performance mainly due to a higher level of advances and consequently improved earnings from interest.

Foreign Banks : There was an increase of Rs. 103 million (22·9 per cent) in the gross income of six foreign banks in 1971. Their establishment expenses during the last three years expressed as percentage to gross income have declined from 27·1 per cent in 1969 to 25·2 per cent in 1971, the comparable ratios of 14 major nationalised banks being 32·9 per cent and 30·9 per cent, respectively. The published net profits of these banks showed an improvement from Rs. 28 million in 1970 to Rs. 31 million in 1971, a rise of 10·7 per cent over the year. The percentage of net profits of these banks as a group to working funds was higher as compared with the Indian scheduled commercial banks due to the following factors : (a) the foreign banks operate mostly in metropolitan cities, (b) they deal mainly in foreign exchange business, and (c) they generally have large-scale transactions. The Indian banks, on the other hand, deal not only with these types of business but also make advances to farmers, small industries and other small borrowers both in urban and rural areas.

BULLION

Gold : Quest for gold is centuries old, but, it has been available in any real quantity only for the last hundred and twenty years. The gold mined between 1492 and 1970, is estimated to be 73,000 tonnes. But more gold had been mined from 1800 to 1970 than in the preceding 5000 years, due to more discoveries in Brazil, Russia, California (U.S.A.), Australia and South America. Three quarters of the total had been mined in the 20th century, and nearly two-thirds of it, since 1931.

International Price of Gold : International price of gold is $38 per troy ounce.

Except France all other countries followed the 1944 Bretton Woods Agreement by which gold could be replaced by U.S. $ as the basis for international trade and finance.

The dollar and sterling hold less than 34 per cent of all countries' gold holdings and the European 'six' hold about 43 per cent.

Consumption of Gold : India's consumption of gold is estimated to be around 0·33 gms. per person.

Absorption of non-monetary gold has been estimated differently by different authorities. However, according to a recent study (by Lloyd-Jacob and Fells of Consolidated Goldfields Ltd.) the major consumer, jewellery, absorbs about 959 tonnes per year (or 73 per cent of total production) ; electronics absorb 111·5 tonnes ; dentistry claims 91·5 tonnes ; and coins, medals 81·5 tonnes and other industrial and decorative uses 69·5 tonnes of gold per year. Averages for 1968–69–70 show that 1,361 tonnes of private gold is absorbed out of which 48 tonnes is retained in the form of bars, and the rest is fabricated. It has also been estimated that 60 per cent of gold is bought by fabricators for 'pure consumption' and only 6·5 per cent is acquired for 'pure hoarding'. The rest of the purchases fall in between including speculation.

Gold Standard : The true gold standard existed only in the 50 years preceding World War I. Till the 19th century most countries were on silver or bi-metallic (silver 15 or 16 part, gold 1 part) standard. Britain went onto a formal gold standard in 1816, Europe followed in 1870s and U.S.A. started after 1900 — same time as India. However, gold standard was only a phase and was over by 1914. Today International Gold Exchange standard prevails. This means a country's monetary authority responsible for determining and managing the supply of gold supplement their reserves with key currencies (notably dollars and sterling) which can be redeemed for gold.

India and Gold : Indian gold market is quite different from the international market. India has the world's largest stock of privately hoarded gold. The mobilisation of this gold could effect the international market also. But this is unlikely to happen unless a social revolution takes place. As long as gold prices continue to rise and gold continues to be smuggled into India, India's economy will remain in the dread of devaluation. As a protective measure, India's hoarded gold should be coaxed into the market and also India's gold output of 120,000 oz. per year should be stepped up.

SILVER

Production of silver in India is only around one tonne a year. Considering the consumption of 16 million ounces per year of silver and almost 20-million ounces that are smuggled out of the country, it is obvious that the demand is being met by floating stocks. No accurate estimate is possible, but such stocks are likely to be around 2,000 million ounces.

Consumption : Internal consumption of silver has been consistent around 16 million ounces a year. The annual contraband export amounts to more than 20 million ounces which is sold at a lower price abroad presumably to pay for certain other smuggled items like gold, synthetic yarn, watches etc. which fetch a higher premium in India.

NATIONAL INCOME

INDIA'S real national income rose by 5·3 per cent in 1969–70 over the previous year against an increase of 2·8 per cent in 1968–69 over 1967–68. The net output from agriculture in 1969–70 registered a rise of 5·1 per cent over the preceding year. The corresponding increase in manufacturing sector (including large and small-scale manufacturing) was only 4·9 per cent. Per capita income at Rs. 339·4 increased by 2·9 per cent as against a very small rise of 0·2 per cent (at Rs. 329·9) in 1968–69. The per capita income at current prices also showed a rise in 1969–70 at Rs. 589·5 (Rs. 554·7 in 1968-69).

During the period 1960–61 and 1969–70, India's real national product rose from Rs. 132,940 million to Rs. 179,550 million. Except for a sharp fall in 1965–66, there was a general increase in the net national product, the annual rise ranging from just 1·5 per cent in 1966–67 to 5·3 per cent in 1969–70 (vide Table I).

Growth Rate: The average annual rate of real national income between 1960–61 and 1969–70 was of the order of 3·5 per cent. As against this, the Third Plan visualised a higher growth rate of 6 per cent per annum, which was scaled down to 5·5 per cent in the Fourth Plan (1969–74).

The growth rate of real national income so far has thus been well below the target set in the Second and Third Plans which envisaged a doubling of per capita income in the course of 20 years. In reality, however, the per capita income in 1969-70 (at 1960–61 prices) is only a little higher than that in 1964–65 (335·8).

Sectoral Structure: The pace of structural transformation of the Indian economy evident during the past decade has become more pronounced during the year ended March, 1970, with the gross domestic product registering further rise of about Rs. 9,500 million to Rs. 193,500 million in 1969–70. In particular, agricultural sector has been steadily losing ground in favour of secondary and tertiary sectors.

This is borne out by Table II which shows that in 1960-61 primary sector accounted for as much as 51 per cent of the domestic product while secondary and tertiary sectors contributed only 20·1 and 28·9 per cent respectively. In 1969–70, however, the share of agricultural and allied activities has shrunk to 43·7 per cent while that of the secondary sector has risen to 22·9 per cent and tertiary sector to 33·4 per cent.

Another striking development has been the growing importance of the public sector in the Indian economy. In 1960–61, public sector accounted for Rs. 15,340 million, i.e. 10·9 per cent of the gross domestic product, which has now increased to Rs. 42,900 million in 1968–69 (14·0 per cent). Both direct and indirect taxes have shown a phenomenal rise between 1961 and 1969–70. The revenue from the former has more than doubled to Rs. 9,080 million in 1968–69 and that from indirect taxes to Rs. 29,680 million.

A similar striking improvement is visible in the rate of capital formation of public authorities. The gross fixed capital formation rose from Rs. 7,160 million in 1960–61 to Rs. 13,300 million in 1968–69. The savings of the public authorities showed a mixed trend. It reached a peak of Rs. 5,980 million in 1964–65 and thereafter declined to touch Rs. 3,630 million in 1968–69.

The annual income data (for the period 1960–61 to 1969–70) from the Central Statistical Organisation (CSO) provides excellent statistical material which helps in delineating the structure of Indian economy in terms of various sectoral activities. Seen from Table II we come to the conclusion that the agricultural and allied activities which accounted for 51 per cent in 1960–61 dropped to 43·7 per cent in 1969–70. Secondary and tertiary sectors which accounted for 20·1 and 28·9 per cent respectively in 1960–61 have increased their shares in 1969–70 to 22·9 and 33·4 per cent respectively. In other words, between 1960–61 and 1969–70, there has been a shift in the economy in favour of the manufacturing and other activities resulting in a striking change in the sectoral composition of the net domestic product.

In particular, the contribution of agricultural products to the domestic products, which was as high as 52·2 per cent at the end of the First Plan has shrunk to 41·6 per cent in 1969–70. Amongst other items, the share of manufacturing and mining has increased from 15·0 per cent in 1960–61 to 17·2 per cent in 1969–70, likewise, the share of "Transport and communication" and public administration and defence increased from 4·3 per cent and 4·0 per cent in 1960–61 to 5·2 and 6·2 per cent respectively in 1969–70.

National Accounts: The White Paper on national income published by the CSO has given a set of inter-sectoral accounts prepared in accordance with the principles of double-entry book-keeping, which, taken together, gives a complete picture of the generalisation of National Product and its disposal, as also the transactions in the economy with the rest of the World. In the latest edition of the CSO White Paper, we find that the domestic savings during the period 1960–61 to 1967–68 increased from Rs. 12,250 million to Rs. 24,370 million which were lower than the estimated savings of Rs. 24,770 million in 1965–66. The gross fixed capital formation rose from Rs. 20,210 million to Rs. 45,590 million during this period

Quick Estimates: Even though the rate of growth of the agricultural sector in 1970–71 was better than in the previous year, slower growth in the non-agricultural sector has resulted in the fall of the overall rate of growth of national income to 4·7 per cent at constant prices, compared with 5·3 per cent achieved in 1969–70.

The major factor that contributed to this fall was a sharp decline of 1·2 per cent in the mining and quarrying sector as against an increase of 6·2 per cent in the previous year.

Slower growth rate in the organised manufacturing sector was also responsible for the fall in the national income growth rate. The growth rate of the non-agricultural sector in 1970–71 was only 3·6 per cent which was less than that in the previous year.

On the other hand, the rate of growth of the agricultural sector in 1970–71 was slightly higher at 5·2 per cent. It was 5·1 per cent in 1969–70.

CENTRAL BUDGET (1973-74)

THE Budget for 1973-74 envisages a revenue surplus of Rs. 3,292 million and a deficit on capital account of Rs. 4,144 million, thus leaving a gap of Rs. 852 million. The additional tax proposals are expected to net in Rs. 2,926 million including States' share of Rs. 427 million. There is no increase in the basic rates of direct taxes either in personal income or corporate income.

Plan Outlay: A provision of Rs. 19,240 million is being made for 1973-74 which will be Rs. 1,370 million larger than 1972-73 budget provision. Another Rs. 5,180 million would be available from internal resources of the public sector enterprises and contributions from financial institutions, thereby raising resources for the total Central Plan to Rs. 24,420 million.

Central assistance to State plans would be of the order of Rs. 8,100 million, an increase of Rs. 350 million over the current years provision. Taking the Central Plan with its internal resources as well as the State and Union Territories Plans, the total outlay in 1973-74 will be Rs. 43,500 million as against Rs. 40,110 million in 1972-73.

Defence: Defence expenditure in 1973-74 is retained at the same level as in 1972-73; Rs. 16,000 million which is Rs. 1,920 million more than the budget provision for 1972-73.

Capital Account: Total capital receipts placed at Rs. 24,602 million in 1973-74 are expected to be lower by Rs. 1,911 million from the 1972-73 level. Net receipts from market borrowings show a decrease of Rs 1,518 million, and external aid (excluding PL 480) estimated at Rs 3,996 million, i.e. Rs. 697 million more than during 1972-73. Receipts under provident funds are expected to be higher by Rs. 117 million. Net collections under small savings at Rs. 3,253 million show an improvement of only Rs. 250 million; while repayment of loans by States, Union Territories and others, placed at Rs. 11,450 million, are lower by Rs. 1,100 million.

Capital Disbursements : Budget for 1973-74 provides for civil expenditure of Rs. 5,230 million as against Rs. 4,940 million in the revised budget for 1972-73. The P & T capital outlay met from the Central Budget will be Rs. 370 million less because of larger internal resources. The provision for loans and advances to States and Union territories is Rs. 13,420 million i.e. Rs. 6,000 million less than 1972-73 mainly due to the fact that revised estimates include Rs. 4,210 million on account of assistance for clearance of State's overdrafts. The special accommodation including assistance for specified projects is Rs. 1,980 million (against Rs. 2,830 million in the 1972-73 revised), loans for relief towards natural calamities Rs. 600 million (Rs. 1,400 million in 1972-73 revised) and short term loans for purchase of fertilizers Rs. 600 million (Rs. 1,000 million in the revised). Loans to Foreign Governments public enterprises, port trusts, municipalities etc. are placed at Rs. 6,310 million as against Rs. 7,820 million in 1972-73 revised.

CIVIL AVIATION

INTRODUCTION

CIVIL Aviation in India is regulated and administered in the Ministry of Tourism and Civil Aviation, Government of India. Dr. Karan Singh is at present holding this portfolio in the rank of Cabinet Minister. The present Secretary to the Ministry is Sri N. Sehgal. The administrative Head of the Department of Civil Aviation is the Director General of Civil Aviation, who is responsible for various regulatory functions including the provision of the necessary infra structure for Civil Air transport operations — this office is currently held by Shri S. Ramamritham.

The necessary legal framework is provided by the Indian Air Craft Act 1934, the Indian Carriage by Air Act 1934, the rules framed thereunder and the Air Corporations Act, 1953, as amended from time to time. India was re-elected as a member of the Council of ICAO for a period of three years at the 18th Session of the General Assembly of the organisation held in Vienna in June/July 1971. India's two Public sector airlines Air India and Indian Airlines are also members of IATA.

The total public sector outlay for Civil Aviation Department for the Fourth Plan (1969–74) is Rs. 700·015 million.

International Airports Authority India : Based at Delhi, IAAI was created as a statutory Corporation under legislation enacted by the Parliament with effect from 1st February 1972. The management of the four international airports was vested in the authority with effect from 1 April 1972 ; each international airport has been placed under the charge of a Director.

Members of the Authority : B. Israni, (Chairman) ; S. Ramnathan, (Chief Executive) ; Managing Director, Air India ; Managing Director, Indian Airlines ; Director-General of Civil Aviation, Ex Officio ; Director-General of Tourism ; Joint Secretary, Ministry of Finance, Ex Officio ; S. Madhusudan, Labour Representative.

Directors of International Airports : Bombay, Shri A. V. Limaye ; Calcutta, Shri B. B. Roy ; Madras, Shri K. S. Rajagopalan ; Delhi, Shri V. N. Kapur.

AIRPORTS

At the end of December 1971, 85 airports were maintained by the Civil Aviation Department. By categories these are :—

International Airports (4) : Bombay, Calcutta, Delhi and Madras.

Major Airports (11) : Agartala, Ahmedabad, Amritsar, Begumpet, Delhi (Safdargunj), Gauhati, Jaipur, Lucknow, Nagpur, Patna, Tiruchirapalli.

Intermediate Airports (38) : Aurangabad, Balurghat, Vadodara, Behala, Belgaum, Bhavnagar, Bhuntar, (Kulu), Bhopal, Bhubaneshwar, Bhuj, Bombay (Juhu), Coimbatore, Gaya, Indore, Junagadh (Keshod), Kailashahar, Kamalpur, Kandla, Khajuraho, Khowai, Kota, Kumbhirgram, Madurai, Mangalore (Bajpe), Mohanbari, Nagargul (Nadirgul) (Gliderdrome, Hyderabad), North Lakhimpur (Lilabari), Pantnagar (Phoolbagh), Porbandar, Port Blair, Rajkot, Ranchi, Trivandrum, Tulihal (Imphal), Udaipur, Varanasi (Banaras), Vijayawada, Visakhapatnam.

Minor Airports (32) : Akola, Bilaspur, Chakulia, Cooch-Behar, Cuddappah, Donakonda, Hadapsar (Gliderdrome, Pune), Jhansi, Jharsuguda, Jabalpur, Kanpur (Civil), Khandwa, Kolhapur, Lalitpur, Malda, Muzaffarpur, Mysore, Palanpur (Dessa), Panagarh, Panna, Pasighat, Raipur, Rajahmundry, Ramnad, Raxaul, Rupsi, Satna, Shella, Sholapur, Tanjore, Vellore, Warangal.

Extensive development works at the international airports are in progress. A new terminal building is proposed for Bombay Airport, Santa Cruz, in the fifth 5-year Plan. Two new domestic airports at Tirupathi and Shillong (Barapani) had been constructed and land for the third airport at Calicut had been acquired in the year 1971. Plans were also drawn up for category II of approach lighting, central line lighting, touchdown zone lighting, and threshold lighting at Bombay, Delhi and Calcutta airports to handle Jumbo Jets introduced in the same year.

TRAINING CENTRES

The Civil Aviation Training Centre, Allahabad, comprising of an Aerodrome School and Communications School is the principal training centre in the country, where basic training and refresher courses are conducted for departmental officers. As on 31st December 1971, 21 trainees were undergoing training in various courses.

Facilities exist for training of Glider instructors and Winch operators at the Government Glider Centre, Pune. Facilities are available at the Fire Services Training Centre, Calcutta, for training of departmental candidates for courses in crash and fire rescue. Facilities for training foreign nationals are also available at Allahabad and other centres under various aid schemes. 10 Nepalese and 8 Afghan nationals were provided training in 1971 in different courses and at the end of the year, 7 Afghan nationals were still under training.

FLYING CLUBS

At present there are 25 subsidised flying clubs in India with their headquarters at Amritsar, Hyderabad, Gauhati, Banasthali, Patna, Bombay, Coimbatore, New Delhi, Bangalore, Vadodara, Lucknow, Hissar, Jamshedpur, Karnal, Trivandrum, Indore, Nagpur, Madras, Jullundur Cantt., Bhubaneshwar, Patiala, Jaipur, Behala (Calcutta), Raipur and Ludhiana.

During the period 1 January to 30 November 1971, the flying clubs logged a total of 38,000 instructional hours. An expenditure of Rs. 26,06,928 was incurred on payment of subsidy and subvention to the flying clubs during the period.

Gliding Clubs : Besides the Government Centre at Pune, there are 13 subsidised gliding clubs/wings at Agra, Ahmedabad, Amritsar, New Delhi, Deolali, Hissar, Jaipur, Jullundur, Kanpur, Pilani, Raipur, Patiala and Patna. Out of these, the Eastern Madhya Pradesh Flying and Gliding Club has not been included in the subsidy scheme for 1971–72.

Duringt the period from 1 January to 30th November 1971, the Government Gliding Centre at Pune and the Gliding Clubs carried out a total of 39,500 launches. Rs. 4,61,535 were given as subsidies and subvention to the gliding clubs/wings of the flying clubs, during the period 1 January to 31, December 1971.

Aeronautical Communication Services : The Aeronautical Communication Service continues to play its important role in meeting the fast changing demands of Civil Aviation.

On 31st December 1971, the Aeronautical Communication Service was operating and maintaining 91 Aeronautical Communication Stations, providing 258 Aero Mobile Channels in the Aeronautical Mobile Service, 239 radio circuits in the Aeronautical Fixed Telecommunications Network and 178 Radio Navigation facilities.

AIRCRAFT

At the end of December 1971, 690 aircraft held current certificates of registration and 260 aircraft held current certificates of airworthiness. Of these, 143 aircraft belonged to scheduled and non-scheduled commercial operators. During the period from 1, January 1971 to 31 December 1971, 35 new aircraft were registered and the registration of 9 aircraft was cancelled. In all, 315 aircraft were inspected for the issues/renewal of certificates of airworthiness during the period.

The number of gliders registered at the end of December 1971 was 102, of which 25 held current certificates of airworthiness.

On 31, December 1971, 85 aircraft were engaged in aerial work and agricultural operations.

RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

Research and Development is undertaken by the Research and Development Organisation of the Civil Aviation department at the Technical Training Centre, Safdargunj, New Delhi. During 1971, the following programmes were undertaken :

(1) Improvements on second prototype of REVATHI MK-II — a trainer cum personal (2/3 seater) aircraft.

(2) Eighth prototype of KARTIK KS-II Glider was completed.

(3) Completed flight testing of MRIGASHEER HS-I Sailplane — 1st prototype's design work on HS-II nearly complete.

(4) Research project on fatigue life of aircraft components.

(5) Study of operational problems of a number of agricultural aircraft.

(6) Early studies in measurement of noise levels around Delhi airport initiated.

(7) Development tests were carried out on a number of indigenous materials used for aircraft manufacture.

(8) Development of four prototypes of ARJUN IV Glider launching vehicles, out of indigenous material.

ACCIDENTS

During the period 1 January to 31 December, 1971, there were 32 notifiable accidents in India involving 31 Indian and 1 foreign aircraft. Five of the accidents to Indian registered aircraft involved the death of 9 crew members and 32 passengers.

Of the 31 Indian registered aircraft involved in accidents five were engaged in scheduled passenger services, three in non-scheduled passenger services, ten in training flights/joy rides, nine on cropspraying operations, one in a training flight by Air India, one in emergency relief operations, and two in private flights. The only foreign aircraft involved in an accident was on an aid mission.

Fourteen out of 31 accidents to Indian registered aircraft have been investigated ; 15 are under investigation by the Civil Aviation Department and two by a Court of Inquiry appointed by the Central Government. The accident to a foreign registered aircraft is being investigated by the Civil Aviation Department.

Brief particulars of the aircraft involved in 5 fatal accidents :—

Pushpak aircraft VT-DZJ belonging to the Patiala Aviation Club.

DC-3 aircraft VT-ATT, belonging to Jamair Co. Private Ltd.

Saab Safir VT-CZS owned and operated by Hon. Secretary, Northern India Flying Club, Jullundur.

Avro HS-748 aircraft, VT-DXG, belonging to Indian Airlines.

Bell 47-G-5 Helicopter, VT-DZS, belonging to Agricultural Aviation (P) Ltd., Bombay.

NON-SCHEDULED AIR TRANSPORT

As on 31 December, 1971, there were 11 non-scheduled air transport operators who held permits for the operation of purely non-scheduled air services. These are :—

(1) Airways (India) Ltd. ; (2) Air Survey Company of India (P) Ltd. ; (3) Bharat Commerce and Industries Ltd. ; (4) Cambata Aviation (P) Ltd. ; (5) Jamair Company (P) Ltd. ; (6) J K Chemicals Ltd. ; (7) Kalinga Airlines (P) Ltd. ; (8) Kasturi & Sons ; (9) Helicopters Services (P) Ltd. ; (10) Mahindra and Mahindra ; (11) Pushpaka Aviation (P) Ltd.

In addition, the following two airlines hold permits for the operation of joy rides only :—

(1) Daver Aviation and (2) Aero Advertisers.

During the year 1971, approximately 10,898 hours and 3,298,420 Kms. were flown on non-scheduled operations, against the previous year's figures of 14,356 hours and 3,082,137 Kms. The number of passengers and the amount of freight carried over were approx. 88,127 and 5,497 tonnes respectively, as against the previous year's figures of 137,635 and 9,197 tonnes of freight.

SCHEDULED AIR TRANSPORT

Air India as the national flag carrier and Indian Airlines as the main domestic carrier are the two scheduled airlines. Both these companies came into being when air transport was nationalised under an Act of Parliament — Air Corporation Act, 1953. The table above provides a brief overview of the operations of these two airlines for the year 1971, compared with 1970.

AIR INDIA

Head Office : Air India Building, 218 Backbay Reclamation, Nariman Point, Bombay 400020. Tele : 292728.

Air India has 35 online stations and 93 offline offices and sales representation covering 5 continents.

AI at present operates a daily 747 service to New York via London. London is also served with two additional terminator services, via Middle East and Europe. In addition, AI operates four Gulf Terminator services, and two Moscow terminators. Besides there are four services a week to Tokyo, two to Osaka, three to Nairobi, one of which is extended to Entebbe, and three to Singapore, one of which is extended to Jakarta. Of the remaining two services to Singapore, one is operated to Nandi via Perth and Sydney. In addition, a twice weekly service is operated to Mauritius and Dacca.

Air India today has a fleet of four Boeing 707–437 intercontinental jets, three Boeing 707–337Bs, two Boeing 707–337Cs and four Boeing 747–237Bs. Three wide body jets are also planned for 1975–76.

Finance : The Corporation received from the Government of India additional capital of Rs. 100 million in March 1972 ; half being "equity" and half "loan" capital. The total capital as at 31st March 1972 stood at Rs. 418·2 million, divided equally between equity and loan capital.

Operating Results 1971-72 (Rs. in million) : Operating Revenue : Rs. 785·6 ; Operating Expenses : Rs. 777·8 ; Operating Profit : Rs. 7·8 ; Net Surplus/(Deficit) Rs. (16·6).

Holding Companies : Air India set up a wholly owned charter company called "Air India Charters Ltd." on 9th September 1971. It is a non-IATA Charter Company set up with a capital of Rs. 0·5 million. It operates 3 flights a week on India–U.K. and India–Europe route, but the complexion of its operations is likely to change from 1st April 1973.

Another wholly subsidiary company called "Hotel Corporation of India Ltd." came into being on 8 July, 1971. Two "Centaur" hotel projects are planned ; work on one at Santa Cruz Airport has already started, while the second is proposed to be at Bombay, Juhu Beach.

INDIAN AIRLINES

Head Office : Airlines House, 113, Gurdwara Rakabganj Road, New Delhi 110001.

The fleet as on 31 January 1972 consisted of seven Boeing 737's, seven caravelles, six Viscounts, twelve Fokker Friendships, thirteen HS-748's and eight DC-3's. A Boeing 707 aircraft has been operating daily services between Bombay/Bangalore, Bombay/Madras and Bombay/Calcutta ; it has been chartered from Air India since 15th January 1972. The airlines services extend over the entire sub-continent, including Nepal, Burma and Ceylon. The operations of the airlines have been divided into four regions : Delhi, Bombay, Calcutta and Madras.

It has set up training establishments for its flying engineering and traffic personnel.

Finance : As at 31 March, 1972, the total capital of Indian Airlines stood at Rs. 427·7 m. divided equally between "Equity" and "Loan" capital. This included amounts of Rs. 20 million and Rs. 10 million received from the Government of India towards a "ways and means" advance and additional capital, respectively.

Operating Results 1971-72 (Rs. in million) : Operating Revenue : Rs. 559·1 ; Operating Expenses : Rs. 571·0 ; Operating Profit/(Loss) : Rs. (11·9) ; Net Surplus/(Deficit) : Rs. (4·55).

PORTS

THERE are eight major ports in India, 21 intermediate ports and 144 working minor ports. Mangalore and Tuticorin are being developed as major ports.

Technically a major port is one which is capable of taking in ocean-going steamers with a registered tonnage of 4,000 or more and berth them along wharves.

The eight major ports are Bombay, Calcutta, Cochin, Kandla, Madras, Mormugao, Paradeep and Visakhapatnam.

State-wise distribution of intermediate ports and the number of minor ports respectively are :

Mysore : Karwar, Mangalore & 19 minor ports. Tamil Nadu : Cuddalore, Nagapattinam, Tuticorin & seven minor ports. Maharashtra : Ratnagiri, Redi, and 47 minor ports. Gujarat : Okha, Porbander, Bhavnagar, Navalakhi, Bedi, Veraval, Bharuch, Mandvi, Sikka, Surat, and 40 minor ports. Kerala : Alleppey, Kozhikode, and nine minor ports. Orissa : There is one minor port. Andhra Pradesh : Masulipatam, Kakinada and five minor ports. Pondicherry : There is one minor port of Pondicherry only. Andaman & Nicobar Islands : There are 15 minor ports.

All the major ports are administered by Port Trusts, which are statutory bodies.

The intermediate and minor ports are administered by State Governments.

The National Harbour Board : The Board advises the Central Government on matters of general policy relating to port management and development including the effects on industry, commerce, shipping, railways etc. so as to ensure integrated consideration of all important port matters.

LIGHTHOUSES

Lighthouses are divided into general and local according to the utility of a particular lighthouse to navigation. The superintendence and management of general light houses are vested in the Union Government while local lighthouses are managed by the local lighthouse authorities such as State Governments, Port Trusts, etc.

There are 293 lighthouses, 9 lightvessels, 156 lightbuoys, 300 lighted and unlighted buoys, 233 beacons, 12 fog signals, 7 M. F. radio beacons, 2 harbour radars, 2 Decca navigator chains, 299 land marks, 716 other marks, making a total of 1,965 aids to navigation strewn over the coastline of approximately 6,950 kilometres including Andaman, Nicobar, Laccadive and Minicoy Islands.

Programme for the year 1972-73 : The programme includes the construction of lighthouses at Madras, Tuticorin, Beypore, Krishnapatnam, Gopnath, Pondicherry, Manacur, Cochin, Periyar, Cannanore, Mount Delly, Sao George, Aguada, Kiltan, Kalpeni, Suhelipar, Ross Island, Rutland Island, South Button Island, Middle Button Island, Strait Island, North Point, Pullo Mills Island, Fatchall East Bay, Luhara Point, Waasi Borsi, Umbergaon etc. and the commissioning of Fog Signal at Okha and new lighthouses and Pygmallion Point, Port Blair — North Point, Saratkal Point, Nogayalanka and a new light vessel at Perigee Rocks.

BOMBAY :

The Port of Bombay owns landed estates extending over 761 hectares from Pilot Bunder to Wadala and the docks cover an area of 283 hectares. Sassoon Dock has a water area of 1½ hectares and limited facilities for five ships of 1,000 tonnes.

Besides the docks there are a number of "Bunders" or open wharves along the harbour front with a total quayage of about 12 kilometres. These bunders handled 8·82 million tonnes during 1970-71.

Repair facilities for shipping are provided at two drydocks — Hughes and Mereweather.

The Port maintains its own railway system which serves the docks, ten local stations and a large number of sidings on the Port Trust estates. It also connects the main line railways.

Chairman : S. Y. Ranade ; General Manager : Govind H. Seth ; Secretary : J. J. Parakh.

CALCUTTA :

There are two docks, known as Kidderpore Docks and King George's Dock. The third and subsidiary deep water dock at Haldia meant for handling bulk carriers and bigger vessels is under construction. An oil jetty, a part of the Haldia Dock Project is already in commission. There are five dry docks — two in King George's Docks, and three in Kidderpore Docks.

There are nine jetties at the Strand Bank in Calcutta of which only five are available for ocean-going steamers. Five river-side jetties are also available at Garden Reach for sea-going vessels.

There are petroleum wharves at Budge Budge about 22·53 kms. from Calcutta.

Anchorages are available at Saugor Road, Haldia, Kalpi, Diamond Harbour, Royapur, Uluberia, Budge Budge and Garden Reach of which Royapur, Uluberia, Budge Budge and Garden Reach are available only for outward bound deep-laden vessels or in emergency. The other anchorages are used by ships on passage to and from the Port.

Kidderpore Dock No. 2 has six coal berths.

The port can handle over 14 million tonnes of traffic annually.

The chief exports from Calcutta are coal, tea, sugar, gunnies, bone and bone-meal, bunker oil, iron and steel manufactures, lac, scrap, ores and mica. The principal imports are salt, foodgrains and flour, sulphur, tinplate, machinery, petroleum, iron and steel, metals other than iron and steel, lubricating oil, cement, soda, timber, fertilisers, bricks, chemicals, oils, railway material.

About 90 ships can be given working accommodation in jetties, docks and river moorings.

Chairman : K. K. Ray ; Dy. Chairman : P. C. Mittra ; Secretary : T. R. Raghupathi.

COCHIN :

The Port of Cochin is open for deep water traffic in the worst monsoons and provides a splendid anchorage at all times of the year. Any ship drawing upto 30 ft. draft can enter the port even in the roughest weather.

The Cochin Harbour Railway is connected with the broad gauge and metre gauge systems of the Southern Railway. Inside the Harbour there are 12 stream berths, 2 coal berths, 8 wharf berths, 1 boat train pier jetty with facilities for discharging and loading bunker oil, two tanker berths and an open berth.

The principal imports are foodgrains, mineral oils (crude), cashewnuts, hardware, chemicals and manure. The principal exports are coir and coir products, tea, rubber, cashew kernels, seafoods, coconuts, spices, and mineral oil products. Fourth Plan development outlay of Rs. 180 million will be spent to provide modern facilities.

Chairman : P. S. Padmanabhan, I.A.S.

KANDLA :

The major port of Kandla has now the following main facilities :—

A cargo jetty with (a) 823 m. of quayage and designed depth of 9·8 m. of water alongside to accommodate four large size ships or five liberty type oceangoing vessels ; (b) Three single storeyed transit sheds, each 137 m. long and 43 m. wide, with a total storage capacity of about 15,000 tonnes of general cargo ; (c) Broad wharves served with three dual gauge (BG & MG) railway lines and roads ; (d) 21 electric quay cranes, the most modern type of 3 tonnes, 6 tonnes and 10 tonnes capacities ; (e) Spacious open stacking grounds served with railway and road sidings ; (f) Four double storeyed warehouses, each 152 m. long and 37 m. wide with storage capacity of 60,000 tonnes, with overbridge connections to the roofs of the transit sheds, and provided with modern cargo lifts, chutes and loading platforms ; (g) 'Grinnel' automatic sprinkler and fire alarm system has been provided in one warehouse as a measure for protection against fire, for the storage of cotton cargo in the warehouse ; dangerous cargo sheds of 320 tonnes capacity and a calcium carbide shed of 48 tonnes capacity ; 3 vegetable oil tanks with a total capacity of 650 tonnes ; 3 sheds for storage of 10,000 tonnes fertiliser ; (h) The construction of an additional 343 m. of quay, designed for a depth of 9·45 m. of water at L.W.O.S.T. has been completed except for the work of dredging alongside ; (i) 26 vacuator pumps to discharge bulk foodgrains cargo from the tankers ; (j) Night navigation ; (k) 60 tonne gantry crane in Bunder for heavy packages ; (l) Fishing jetty with 2 tonne crane with cold storage facilities.

The port is equipped with V. H. F. communication network for maintaining contact with pilot launches, survey launches and ships calling at the Port.

The port is connected to its hinterland by broad gauge rail connection via Jhund-Ahmedabad and metre gauge rail connection via Dessa-Palanpur. Also a national highway connects Kandla to Ahmedabad.

A Free Trade Zone has been established at Kandla.

The chief imports are mineral oil, vegetable oil, foodgrains, fertilisers, muriate of potash, sulphur, and machinery. Exports are salt, bone materials, tea, rice bran and engineering goods.

Chairman : Z. S. Jhala.

Secretary : Dr. R. P. Bhargava.

MADRAS :

Berthing Facilities : At present there are 18 quay berths. Of these 10 are equipped with sheds. There are four moorings of which three are oil mooring berths.

Bharathi Docks : The Rs. 240 million Madras outer harbour was commissioned on 4th February, 1973 by the Union Minister of Shipping, Mr. Raj Bahadur. The dock is designed to take 100,000 tonne tankers. The first tanker to move in was the 88,000 DWT "Jawaharlal Nehru". The dock is named after Tamil Nadu's famous poet and patriot, Subrahmanya Bharathi.

The alongside berths include special berths for handling of iron ore. These berths are equipped with necessary mechanical appliances and storage facilities. There is a separate yard for storage of iron ore intended for shipment. The yard is equipped with two transporter cranes for stock piling and for feeding the ore to the berth by means of steel trays placed on ore platform trucks. The mechanical equipment for handling iron ore has a rated capacity of loading 8,000 tonnes per day at Jawahar Docks.

Cargo Handling Equipment : Level Luffing electric cranes of various capacities have been provided at each berth in addition to an adequate number of mobile cranes, forklifts, platform trucks, tractor, trailers etc.

In addition, the Centre Berth has a static crane with hoisting capacity of 60 tonnes for handling heavy packages and machinery. The Floating Crane "VAIGAI" of 120 tonnes capacity also helps the handling of heavy packages overside. Palletisation on an extensive scale is also among other factors helping to achieve quicker turn round of vessels. Pre-slinging method in cargo handling has also been introduced.

Storage Facilities : There are 16 warehouses comprising a covered area of 76,720 sq. mts. with rail and road access available for rental at moderate rates. Bonding facilities and separate stacking area for hazardous goods are also available. In addition 200,000 sq. mts. of open area for stacking is also available. Apart from this 5 storage tanks of varying capacities 200 to 10,000 tonnes with shore to ship and vice versa pumping facilities are available to handle commodities like mutton tallow, molasses, edible oils etc. There are also three storage tanks of 10,000 tonnes capacity each for storage of phosphoric acid.

Types of cargo handled : The main imports are coal, foodgrains, mineral oils, fertilisers, phosphate, sulphur and phosphoric acid. Under general cargo, machinery, hardware, iron and steel, cotton, metals and timber form the major imports.

The principal exports are iron ore, hides and skins, refined oil products, tobacco, oil cake scrap and twist and yarn.

Chairman : R. Balasubramanian, I.A.S. ; General Manager : C. R. Govindarajan ; Secretary : J. Cyril Raj.

MORMUGAO :

The Port of Mormugao is a major port of India providing modern facilities in handling both ore and general cargo traffic.

It is foremost among Indian ports in the export tonnage of ore and in the combined export tonnage of all items.

It held second position in total traffic tonnage handled during 1971-72.

During 1971-72, the Mormugao Port broke all its previous records in annual traffic by handling more than 11·7 million tonnes during the year, which was 0·7 million tonnes more than its own all-time record of traffic during the previous year of 11 million tonnes. The traffic in 1971-72 consisted of over 10·6 million tonnes of iron ore, 0·6 million tonnes of manganese ore, 6,000 tonnes of bauxite and 63,474 tonnes of oil-cakes — all in exports, and 0·44 million tonnes of imports consisting of mineral oils, fertilisers and general cargo.

Development project of the port : A massive project costing over Rs. 440 million for developing the port facilities is now under execution and is scheduled to be completed in 1974.

Chairman : V. Srinivaschari, I.A.S. ; Secretary : Shivakumar Dhindaw.

PARADIP (ORISSA) :

Declared as a major port on 18th April, 1966 and opened to traffic from 1-11-1966, the Port handled traffic to the extent of 1·239, 1·532 and 2·157 million tonnes during the years 1968-69, 1969-70 and 1970-71 respectively. The main traffic is export of iron ore.

VISAKHAPATNAM :

Ships drawing upto 10·05 m. and having a length upto 195 m. can enter the harbour.

The inner harbour consists of a turning basin, six quay berths, two wharf berths for export of iron ore, an oil wharf consisting of two berths, one fertiliser berth, three jetty berths and four mooring berths. It can accommodate 14 ships alongside and 4 in the moorings.

All the six quay berths with a quay length of 1,083 metres are equipped with portal electric cranes, transit sheds, railway lines, etc.

A Dry Dock of 137 metres long and 18·44 metres wide with a depth of 5·63 metres below low water, which can take in ships of 128 metres in length and 4·9 metres draft is in use for docking of vessels.

There are 5 transit sheds capable of accommodating 36,450 tonnes of cargo. There are 2 storage sheds with a total capacity of 13,200 tonnes. For stacking mineral ores, a vast area of about 80,000 sq. metres which can accommodate about 300,000 tonnes at a time, is also available. Open space measuring about 36,400 sq. metres is available for the storage of pig iron, rock phosphate and sulphur.

The most important of the development works taken up in the IV Plan period is the construction of an outer harbour, at a cost of Rs. 370 million. The cost of the project is likely to increase to Rs. 580 million. After completion of the project, the Harbour can accommodate ore carriers upto 100,000 DWT. The capacity can be increased upto 200,000 DWT by undertaking additional works.

Chairman : H. Sambamurti. Secretary : T. S. Narasimhan.

GUJARAT PORTS

There are 48 ports in Gujarat State of which Kandla is a major port. Diu and Daman are still centrally administered. Besides these there are 11 intermediate ports and 34 minor ports.

NEW PORT DEVELOPMENT

Provision of Rs. 130 million has been made in the Fourth Plan for development of certain new ports.

The name of the port, the State and the amount allocated are given in that order: Gopalpur, Orissa, Rs. 4 million; Kakinada, Andhra Pradesh, Rs. 10 million; Cuddalore, Tamil Nadu, Rs. 8·90 million; Beypore, Kerala, Rs. 10 million; Karwar, Mysore, Rs. 75 million; Nurya Bay, Maharashtra, Rs. 10·70 million; Porbundar, Gujarat, Rs. 69·20 million; Spill-over schemes from Third Plan: Rs. 9·90 million.

RAILWAYS

HISTORY: First railway (consisting of 14 four-wheeled teak coaches carrying 400 passengers) in India ran over a distance of 33·6 kms. from Bombay to Thana on 16th April, 1853. Development of rail communications, however, took place after 1858. Upto the revolt in 1857, railway was practically unknown, except for a few miles around Bombay, Calcutta and Madras.

The revolt opened the eyes of the Government to the need for proper communications. Thus by 1871 a general system connecting the different provinces and the hinterland of each province with its ports was completed.

The Government of India took under direct management: The East India Railways — 1st January, 1925; Great Indian Peninsular Railway — 30th June, 1925; Burma Railways — 1st January, 1929; Southern Punjab Railway — 1st January, 1930.

Zonal Administration: The entire Government Railway system is now grouped into nine administrations (Headquarters within brackets): Southern Railway (Madras); Western Railway (Bombay); Central Railway (Bombay); Northern Railway (Delhi); Eastern Railway (Calcutta); South-Eastern Railway (Calcutta); North-Eastern Railway (Gorakhpur); North-East Frontier Railway (Pandu); South Central Railway (Secunderabad).

There are six non-government railways. The route kilometrage is given in brackets after the name:—

Arrah-Sasaram Light (104·86); Dehri-Rohtas Light (66·75); Futwah-Islampur (43·45); Howrah-Amta Light[1] (70·31); Howrah-Sheakhala Light[1] (27·16); Shahdara (Delhi)-Saharanpur Light[1] (148·87).

The highest administrative authority for the Railways is the Railway Board.

New Construction : A 15 year perspective plan has been drawn up for the Indian Railways for converting about 3,000 route kms. of metre gauge to broad guage. The civil works connected with this project are estimated to cost Rs. 1,750 million. Rs. 150 million are included in the current Plan for the purpose, out of which half has been spent.

About 724 route kilometres have been doubled so far and the doubling of another 800 kilometres is likely to be completed by the end of the Plan. Conversion of 326 route kilometres (Pune-Miraj-Kolhapur) from metre gauge to broad gauge has already been completed. New Conversion Schemes notably Viramgam-Okha-Porbandar, Ernakulam-Trivandrum, Guntakal-Bangalore, Barabanki-Gorakhpur-Samastipur totalling about 1,600 kilometres has been sanctioned. New lines connecting Obra-Singrauli, Hindumalkot-Sri Ganganagar, Maliya-New Kandla, Jammu-Kathua and Singrauli-Katri have been opened for traffic. Others including the Cuttack-Paradeep line and the Trivandrum-Kanyakumari-Tirunelveli line are making good progress.

Traffic : Passenger Traffic on the Indian railways has shown an increase of 15 per cent during December, 1972 in comparison with that of the last year. The revenue-earning freight traffic of the railways in Dec. 1972 was 15·5 million tonnes which indicates an increase of 0·90 million tonnes. The total revenue-earning tonnage lifted by the railways from April 1, 1972 upto December 31, 1972 was 128·5 million tonnes representing an increase of 4·72 million tonnes as compared to the previous year.

Electrification of Railway Lines : The total route length of railway line electrified on Indian Railways since the commencement of the 1st Plan aggregated to 3,195 route kms. on the 25 KV AC system, by the end of 1969-70. The total route length electrified, including 358 route kms. which already existed on 1500 V. DC system of traction on the Central and Western Railways was 3,553 route kms. as on 31st March 1970. During the IV Plan, 1,707 kms. of rail track are proposed to be electrified at a cost of Rs. 1,030 million.

Staff: Total staff (1969-70) — 1,361,542 (including non-government Railways staff of 4,633). Total cost of staff on Indian Government Railways (including those on loan from Indian Audit and Accounts Service) in 1969-70 was Rs. 4,208·1 million. Per capita annual cost of staff in 1970-71 worked out to Rs. 3,417. Railways have earmarked Rs. 300 million in the current Plan for staff amenities and staff quarters. About 520,000 residential quarters have so far been provided to the staff by the Railways. The number is increasing every year.

A total of 650 hospitals and health units with over 10,000 beds are run by the Indian Railways for railwaymen and their families. 700 recreation centres are maintained for the use of railwaymen in different railway centres. There are also 749 schools (primary and higher secondary) run by the railways, where railwaymen's children and wards are given preference in admissions. Numerous other welfare amenities are granted through a Staff Benefit Fund to which Railway administrators contribute Rs. 450 per head of staff per annum.

Loss Incurred by the Railways: As their contribution towards a welfare state Indian Railways incur an expenditure of Rs. 520 million in carrying low-rated cargo like foodgrains, coal, fodder, salt etc.; Rs. 590 million on suburban, passenger and parcel services; Rs. 10 million on freight concession to export articles; and Rs. 80 million on the maintenance of unremunerative branch lines.

Ticketless Travel: Costs the Railways about Rs. 250 million.

The Claims: Arising from theft and pilferage cost them another Rs. 49·5 million. The total compensation claims amounted to Rs. 140 million in 1970-71.

Railway Accidents : The total number of accidents on the railways had increased from 4,918 during 1970–71, to 4,959 during 1971–72.

Failure of the human element continued to be the largest single factor "responsible for accidents" like collisions and derailments which numbered 707 during 1970-71.

Railway Modernisation: The International Development Association, has announced a 75 million dollar credit (on a 50 yr. terms credit, including 10 years grace period) to the Indian Railways to help it improve and modernise the system. This credit will help the Railways to finance a 3-year Rs. 1,100 million investment programme which covers the manufacture of diesel and electric locomotives and rolling stock, line electrification, and track renewal.

The railways will spend, between April 1971 and March 1974, about Rs. 7,300 million for modernisation. This will enable in putting into service (during the 3 year period) about 700 locomotives, 570 EMUS, 30 rail cars, 4,000 other passenger cars, and 21,000 wagons (in terms of four wheelers), including about 17,000 broad gauge wagons. There will also be provision for track renewals, and bridge works, line capacity works and signal electrification, new lines, special stores, workshop machinery, plant and staff and passenger amenities.

Rail Surcharge: The railways collected about Rs. 187·531 million during 1971–72 and 1972–73 as refugees relief tax by enhancing railway fares consequent on the influx of refugees from Bangladesh.

Tariff charged on Indian Railways compared to other Railways : The railways charged 2·50 paise per passenger kilometre and 5·43 paise per tonne kilometre in 1969-70.

The British Railways charged 13·31 paise (passenger) and 14·20 (freight), the French National Railways 12·42 and 11·75, the German Federal Railways 14·75 and 16·80, the Canadian National Railways 15·39 and 6·86, the U.S. Class I Railroads 16·74 and 7·28, the Japanese National Railways 8·50 and 8·26 and the Pakistan Western Railways 3·78 and 7·08.

India has the largest network of national highways in Asia.

The overall provision for roads of all types including those in the States' sector is Rs. 8,710 million in the Fourth Plan.

Express Highways : Five express highways have been built for fast movement of traffic. Two are in Bombay the Eastern and Western Express highways. The third runs between Calcutta and Dum Dum airport, the fourth between Sukinda mines to Paradip port in Orissa and, the fifth, almost 160 kms. long will connect Durgapur to Calcutta. Work on the last is in progress.

International Highways : There are two categories of International highways. The first are the main arterial routes linking the capitals of the countries and, the second, routes joining main cities, ports etc. with the arterial network.

The main arterial highway links India with Lahore in Pakistan and Mandalay in Burma running through Amritsar-Delhi-Agra-Calcutta-Golaghat-Imphal. The two link highways are one through Agra-Gwalior-Hyderabad-Bangalore to Danushkodi and the other from Barhi to Kathmandu. The other links will be Agra-Bombay ; Delhi-Multan ; Bangalore-Madras and Golaghat-Ledo.

Border Roads : A Border Roads Development Board was formed in 1960 to develop communications in north and north-eastern border areas.

World's Highest Road : The road from Manali in Himachal Pradesh and Leh in Kashmir runs at an average altitude of 4,267 metres (14,000 feet) and negotiates four very high passes varying from 4,876 metres (16,000 feet) to 5,486 metres (18,000 feet).

Revenue from Motor Transport: The 1970-71 expenditure on roads was about Rs. 2,569·6 million. This is made up of Rs. 1,421·1 million on road construction or improvements and Rs. 1,148·5 on maintenance.

During the same period the Central and State Governments earned Rs. 6,475·3 million which is made up as under :

Central Revenue : Motor spirit and diesel oil duties, tyre excise and import duties and vehicle parts import duties Rs. 4,345·3 million.

State Revenue : Vehicle taxes and passenger and goods taxes and sales taxes on motor fuel Rs. 2,130 million.

Nationalised Transport : Nationalised bus services cover almost the major parts of Gujarat, Maharashtra, Orissa, Manipur and Himachal Pradesh.

No nationalisation has taken place in Tripura, Goa and Pondicherry, but in the remaining parts of the country the extent to which services have been nationalised varies from one State to another. Some having started only experimental nationalisation as in Rajasthan while in some others such as Maharashtra and Gujarat, over 72 and 82 per cent respectively of the passenger buses are owned by the nationalised sector. Uttar Pradesh and Mysore have 74 per cent of buses under State ownership and Punjab 62 and Delhi and Orissa 42. In the rest of the country comprising Andhra Pradesh, Assam, West Bengal, Tamil Nadu, Jammu & Kashmir, Madhya Pradesh and Kerala State-owned buses vary from 16 to 36 per cent. In the country as a whole the number of nationalised buses increased from 26,494 in 1966 to 40,571 in 1972 and accounted for 42 per cent of passenger services in the later year.

Freight transport is operated by certain State Transport organisations such as those in Assam, Orissa, Uttar Pradesh, Jammu & Kashmir and Himachal Pradesh and also by the Central Road Transport Corporation. While these freight lorries as a rule operate on charter basis or on scheduled parcel services without monopoly, the State Transport in Assam has a monopoly of the truck traffic on a small part of the road system. Again, goods traffic in Himachal Pradesh is a virtual State monopoly. The number of goods lorries operated by nationalised concerns is, however, less than one per cent of the total goods vehicles in India.

Road Traffic : The number of motor vehicles in use in India is shown in a table in the section "Automobile Industry".

Road traffic in 1972 was more than 5 times that of 1951 in the passenger bus field and nearly 10 times in the field of goods haulage. The extent to which the road system needs to be enlarged and improved to cater to traffic demands can be seen from the fact that during the 5 years of the Fourth Plan ending 1974, passenger traffic is further expected to grow by over 40 per cent while goods traffic is expected to double itself. The table shows trends of traffic growth :

COMMUNICATIONS

POST AND TELEGRAPH

History : The first postal system was introduced in 1766 by Lord Clive, for official purposes only. In 1837, it was opened to the public and the first issue of postal stamps was made in Sind in 1852. The basis of authority of the existing postal system in India, is Act 6 of 1858. The first official airmail flight was taken on 18 Feb. 1911, by M. Pequet, a French aviator.

The first experimental telegraph line from Calcutta to Diamond Harbour was laid by Dr. William B. O. Shanghnessy. The first telegraph line was opened for traffic in October 1851. Telegraph circuits were gradually extended to all parts by 1867.

Administration : The Indian Posts and Telegraphs Department, the second largest civil employer in the country, comes under the administrative control of the Government of India, in the Department of Communications. The Secretary of the Department holds charge of the office of the Director-General, Posts and Telegraphs as also that of the Chairman of the Posts and Telegraphs Board.

The Department has been divided into Territorial Units — or Post & Telegraph circles — in Andhra Pradesh, Assam, Bihar, Gujarat, Jammu & Kashmir, Kerala, Madhya Pradesh, Tamil Nadu, Maharashtra, Mysore, Orissa, Punjab, Rajasthan, Uttar Pradesh and West Bengal.

Staff : The total staff at the end of 1971-72 was 605,089.

Traffic Statistics

The volume of business in respect of money orders and postal orders earned the Govt. Rs. 126 million and showed an increase of 8·4 per cent over the previous year. One thousand and twenty four million money orders (value Rs. 6,517 million) were issued. The department handled 7·7 million postal orders (value Rs. 37 million). There were 108,429 post offices which held 22 million saving bank accounts with a total of Rs. 10,250 million. The amount in saving certificates was Rs. 8,835 million.

Pin Code : Postal Index Number code was introduced on 15-8-72. This is a 6 digit code which identifies and locates every departmental delivery office. The first digit indicates the region, the second district the sub-region and the first 3 digits taken together the central sorting office. The last 3 digits indicate a particular delivery post office in the area served by this district.

Foreign Post : Insured air mail letter service was introduced to the following countries from December 1, 1970 — Bahrain, Dubai, Iran, Iraq, Italy, New Zealand, Portugal, Poland, Singapore, Spain and the U.S.S.R.

In April, 1971 Air Parcel Service was introduced to the following countries : Abu Dhabi, Burundi, Central African Republic, Chad, Dahomey, Guinea, Malagasy Republic, Mali, Mauritania, Muscat and Oman, Niger, Qatar, Bawanda, Senegal, Swaziland, Togo, Tunisia and Upper Volta. Also Insured Air Parcel Services were started to Abu Dhabi, Chad, Mali, Mauritania, Muscat & Oman, Niger, Senegal, Togo and Upper Volta.

No. of Post Offices : There were 113,232 post offices on December 31,1972 as compared to 103,410 in December 1969.

A post office today serves an average area of 28·65 sq. kms. and a population of 4,901 as against 142·08 sq. km. and a population of 16,134 at the time of Independence. The Fourth Plan target of 16,700 new post offices is likely to be achieved. During the first 3 years of the Plan 10,262 new offices have been opened. Of these 3,757 were opened during 1971-72.

There are 101,120 letter boxes in the country.

Night Post Offices

There were 132 Night Post offices at the end of 1972. From 15-2-72 these are open on postal holidays and Sunday. From the same day a late fee of 10 P. has been introduced on articles presented for Registeration during the extended hours, i.e. from 4-40 p.m. to 8-30 p.m.

Service in Villages : At the end of 1970 — 340,144 of India's 500,000 — odd villages were receiving their mail daily. 47,525 villages get their mail once a week.

Mail Between India and Bangla Desh : An ad hoc arrangement has been made since 20-12-71 for the exchange of mails between India and Bangla Desh.

Commemorative Stamps : The following postage stamps have been issued during the year 1972, (with their name, denomination and date of issue respectively):

Silver Jubilee of ISI — 20P. — 29-5-72 ; Golden Jubilee of the International Union of Railways — 20P. — 8-6-72 ; India's participation in Olympic games — 20P. — 10-8-72; Silver Jubilee of 25th Anniversary of India's independence — 20P. — 15-8-72 ; Birth Centenary of Sri Aurobindo — 20P. — 15-8-72 ; On Defence services — 20P. — 15-8-1972 ; In Memory of V.O. Refugee Relief Stamp : Refugee Relief Stamps of 5 Paise to be fixed on all postal articles from 1-12-71 were discontinued on 1-4-72.

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

Telegraph Offices : There are 15,968 telegraph offices.

Nearly 58·4 million telegrams were booked during 1971-72 against 55·6 million in the previous year. Out of this 3·6 million were foreign telegrams. The inland telegrams yielded a revenue of Rs. 177 million and foreign telegrams Rs. 18 million. The photo telegrams between Calcutta, Bombay, Delhi and Madras and New Delhi and between India and foreign countries during the year were, 1,289 inland and 397 Foreign. The incoming photo telegrams increased by 7·6 per cent to 2,634. There are 279 telegraph offices in the country which deal exclusively with telegram.

Radio Telegrams : 68,534 R.T.s from Ships and 34,964 to ships netted Rs. 2·4 million.

Phonograms : Booked during the year were 8·6 million. The Service was available to 2,269 stations at the end of 1971-72.

Teleprinters : There were 15,993 teleprinters in use in the country, as on 31-12-70. This figure includes 600 Devnagri teleprinters.

Telex : The number of telex subscribers went up by 1,056 to 6,490 at the end of 1971-72. The increase in number of subscribers was 19·4 per cent. The telex revenue went up by 35·7 per cent to Rs. 77·9 million. During the year five more telex exchanges were commissioned raising the total to 39.

This most important development in the subscriber-to-subscriber transmission of printed messages took place when teleprinter exchanges were commissioned at important cities on June 24, 1963. The installed capacity on 30-12-72 was 9,810 lines. The Service is available to 165 countries.

Telephones

In 1971-72, 76,000 new connections including Junctions were provided bringing the total to 1·12 million by the end of 1971.

The number of telephones, which include extensions, went up by 103,000 to 1·48 million. Waiting list moved up from 310,000 to 314,000 despite expansion. With the expansion of existing exchanges (3,967) and the 238 new ones, the installed capacity in the country increased by 83,000 lines to a total of 1,330,000 lines. From August 1971, OYT was extended to all the exchanges in the country. Since its inception, 232,462 connections have been given under this scheme bringing the revenue to Rs. 655 million, by 15-10-72.

Subscriber Trunk Dialling : In this system, a subscriber can himself directly dial the number of the distant exchange subscriber. This facility is now available on the following routes, viz., Lucknow-Kanpur, Delhi-Agra, Delhi-Jaipur, Agra-Kanpur, N. Delhi-Kanpur, N. Delhi-Lucknow, N. Delhi-Patna, N. Delhi-Jullundur, N. Delhi-Meerut, Madras-Bombay, Madras-Bangalore, Kanpur-Varanasi, Delhi-Simla, Delhi-Ahmedabad, Delhi-Jammu, Delhi-Srinagar, Srinagar-Jammu, Madras-Tiruchirapalli, Srinagar-Baramulla, Srinagar-Anantnag, Srinagar-Sopro and Bombay, Ahmedabad, Madras-Chingleput, N. Delhi-Amritsar, Amritsar-Chandigarh, Delhi-Jullundur, Shillong-Gauhati, Jullundur-Amritsar and Dehra Dun-Mussooree, Bombay-Pune, Bombay-Surat, Patna-Muzaffarpur, Bangalore-Hubli.

Trunk Automatic Exchanges : Till about 5 years ago, the STD was available only on point to point basis. The department has since installed Trunk Automatic Exchanges (TAXs) which provide the facility to subscribers of one station to dial the suscribers of other stations which are connected to the same TAX. Such TAXs have been installed at Madras, Bombay, Delhi and Kanpur stations.

Microwave Radio Relay Systems : Communication by microwave system was available on a route length of 2,270 kms. Work is in progress on various other routes.

OVERSEAS COMMUNICATION SERVICE

India's Overseas Telecommunications network has four gateway centres at Bombay, Calcutta, New Delhi and Madras. It consists of wireless telegraph, photo-telegraphs and radio-telephone system from all the four centres.

The Satellite connection with Bombay started early in 1971 and since then most of the circuits have been transferred to satellite medium from H.F. radio.

Satellite Operation : Since 26th February, 1971 certain services have been transferred to Satellite operation. These are :

Switched Telex Service: with 146 other countries.

BROADCASTING

History: Organised broadcasting was started in India in 1927 by private, Indian Broadcasting Company from Bombay and Calcutta. This lasted till 1930. Government of India decided to run radio stations in 1932. In 1935, broadcasting was constituted into a separate department. All India Radio replaced the earlier Indian State Broadcasting Service on June 3, 1936.

Commercial Services: Started in November 1967 it is now broadcast by 18 stations and has earned a gross revenue from the time of inception to 31st March, 1970, of Rs. 33,174,141. "Sponsored Programmes" are now broadcast from Bombay, Calcutta, Pune & Nagpur, on an experimental basis.

Vividh Bharati: The service entered its 16th year on October 3, 1972. It is broadcast on medium wave, from 34 centres and has an out put of 12 hours 25 m. daily.

News Bulletins: AIR broadcasts 207 news bulletins a day. Of these 160 are in home services and 47 in the external services. Total duration of news bulletins from AIR comes to 30 hours 18½ m. a day.

Correspondents: AIR has 129 correspondents of whom 75 are on a part-time basis.

Broadcast Receiver Licensing (as on 30th June 1972): There were 10,814,261 B.R. licences and 56,997 for television sets. Nearly 190,000 unlicensed sets were detected during the year. During 1-1-72 to 30-6-72, the department collected Rs. 144 million as licence fee and surcharge.

External Services: The External Services Division of All India Radio, broadcast programmes round the clock in 21 languages (6 Indian, and 15 foreign languages) for a total duration of 46 hours and 12 minutes every day.

Monitoring Service: During 1971-72, monitoring service continued as a source of news and information regarding the propaganda trends of neighbouring countries. On an average 101 transmissions from 24 stations covering 19 countries were monitored daily in 11 languages, and monitored material was supplied to different government departments. At present there are 11 minitoring stations.

Transcription and Programme Exchange: The Library of Sound Archives set up in 1954, forms part of the office of the Transcription and Programme Exchange Service. Tape recording discs and stampers of recordings of different programmes are preserved in the archives' library.

The Programme Exchange Unit (Internal) maintains a continuous supply of recordings and scripts to AIR stations to enable them to give quality programmes at minimum cost.

TELEVISION

Television at Delhi started as an experimental service in 1959 and since then it has grown considerably. The duration of the general television programme in the evening transmission has been increased to 3 hours from July 1970. Bombay television station started on 2-10-72 It started with programme time limited to 2 hours and 15 minutes daily, which has been increased to 3 hours on week days and 3½ hours on Saturdays.

In the next three years it is proposed to open TV centres at Pune, Srinagar, Madras, Calcutta, Lucknow, Nagpur Bangalore, Hyderabad and Kanpur.

T. V. Licences: Up to the end of June, 1972, about 56,997 licences were issued.

PRESS IN INDIA

History: Press had its beginnings in India, when the first newspaper, a weekly double-sheet called "Bengal Gazette" was started by James Augustus Hickey on January 29, 1780, at Serampore near Calcutta. Many other newspapers followed in quick succession (19 were started before the end of the century). Most of these were in English, and were published, edited and read by Englishmen. In spite of their interesting editorial contents which consisted of political and private scandal, the newspaper circulation did not exceed 100. The first Indian owned newspaper "Bengal Gazette" was published by Gangadhar Bhattacharjee in 1816 (Price Re. 1).

Many independent and well-conducted papers flourished during the administration of Governor-General Lord Hastings, as he adopted a liberal policy of self-censorship for the press in 1818. One such magazine was "Calcutta Journal". This bi-weekly enjoyed a circulation of 1,000. A revision of policy by John Adam in 1823, necessitated the closing of "Calcutta Journal". However, press in India enjoyed considerably more freedom under the liberals William Bentick who replaced John Adams in 1828, and Sir Charles Metcalfe who replaced him.

Many other Indian language newspapers were started between 1816–1822. "Shri Mumbai-na-Samachar", started as a Gujarati weekly in 1822, by Fardoonji Marzban became a daily in 1832 and is perhaps the forerunner of the oldest living newspaper today, the " Bombay Samachar ". Best records however, are of Bengal press which between 1818–1855 turned out 99 newspapers and periodicals. The average life of each publication was 5 years. During the same period 10 more newspapers were published in the north and many Tamil and Telugu papers in Madras.

A great step in the history of Indian press was the establishment of the first railway line (1853) and first telegraph line in (1851). This and the submarine telegraph between India and England enabled the press to have a wider news coverage and nation-wide circulation.

After the mutiny of 1857 regulation and restraint of press was reimposed by Act XV of 1857. Out of 35 publications of 1853, six survived till 1857. Act XXV of 1867 was designed for the regulation of printing presses and newspapers. With little alteration this Act is still in force. In 1878 Vernacular Press Act was passed which put restraint on the vernacular press. This Act, however was repealed four years later. Indian Official Secrets Act was passed in 1889.

Some of our big newspapers were started in the latter half of the 19th century. In 1861, editor Robert Knight of "Bombay Times" combined with "Standard" and the amalgamated "Telegraph and Courier" to form the "Times of India". In 1865 "Pioneer" was started in Allahabad. In 1868 "Amrit Bazar Patrika" was started. "Civil and Military Gazette" followed in 1872. In 1872 Robert Knight started the "Statesman" in Calcutta, and "Hindu" was founded in Madras in 1878. In 1881, Bal Gangadhar Tilak started the "Kesari" (Marathi) and "Maharatta" (English).

In 1915 Press Association of India was formed. In 1935 photogravure process was first used in India by the "Illustrated Weekly of India". And in 1938, the Associated Press of India sent its first message on a teleprinter circuit. In 1937 when popular ministries were formed in 7 provinces, freedom of press became a reality. In September, 1939, World War II was declared and the Defence of India Rules were framed. Rule 41 reimposed controls on the press.

However, with the freedom of the country in August, 1947, came the Indian Constitution which guaranteed freedom to the press under Article 13 and 19. Important events of the post-independent press were the formation of Audit Bureau of Circulation (1948), starting the Press Trust of India (1949), Newsprint Control Order (1952), Press (Objectionable Matters) Act No. LVI (1951) and the appointment of a Commission to make an inquiry into the state of the press in India. The recommendations of this Commission are being implemented at present.

THE PRESS COUNCIL BILL

Was passed in Nov. 1965. The object of the Council is to preserve the liberty of the press and maintain and improve the standards of newspapers in India.

The Press Council was set up in Nov. 1966 with Justice J. R. Mudholkar as Chairman and 25 members.

The new Chairman Mr. N. Rajagopala Ayyangar took over on May 4, 1968. The Press Council's first annual report was presented to the Parliament on Aug. 30, 1968 by the Minister for Information and Broadcasting.

MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS (1973)

CIVIC rule in India is a little over a hundred years old. By now Municipal Councils in India number 1,500; and Municipal Corporations are functioning at: Agra, Ahmedabad, Allahabad, Bangalore, Vadodara, Bhopal, Bombay, Calcutta, Calicut, Chandranagore, Cochin, Delhi, Gwalior, Hubli-Dharwar, Hyderabad, Indore, Jabalpur, Kanpur, Lucknow, Madras, Madurai, Nagpur, Patna, Poona, Raipur, Sholapur, Surat, Trivandrum, Varanasi, Simla, and Bhubaneshwar.

As a general rule the Municipal Councils and Municipal Corporations are established in towns having a population of more than 20,000 and cities having a population of more than 300,000 respectively.

The State Government makes an assessment of the revenue and population of the town/city through the district collector prior to the establishment of the Municipal Council/Corporation.

When a city's revenue exceeds Rs. 20 million, the Council representing the city is upgraded with the concurrence and approval of the State Government.

In fact it is the responsibility of the States to establish Municipal Councils and Corporations. Schedule 7 of the Constitution of India, elucidates this point. The rules and regulations and powers of the Municipal Councils and Corporations vary from State to State.

The following table gives vital statistics of the four major Corporations — Bombay, Delhi, Calcutta and Madras. The column for Calcutta has been kept blank because all attempts to get the details failed. Perhaps, the reader would like to fill in whatever details he may succeed in obtaining.

KIRLOSKAR BROTHERS build a unique compressor in a versatile range—a sturdy heart that gives long lives to many types of units:

and air-conditioners and water coolers
and bottle coolers
and deep freezers
and (you name it!)

Every unit has a 'heart'. That's the vital compressor which keeps the unit running! The strongest, most reliable heart a unit can have is the unique hermetic compressor made by Kirloskar Brothers.

Unique?

Kirloskar Hermetic Compressors are unequalled for cooling capacity, low power consumption, compactness of design, and smooth, quiet running. They are made in collaboration with Tecumseh Products Company, U.S.A.—the world's largest manufacturers of hermetic compressors.

KIRLOSKAR BROTHERS also produce machine tools, pumps, valves, and other equipment—products of advanced modern technology, widely trusted in industry and agriculture.

RIGID ACCURACY!

THE KIRLOSKAR
25 mm PILLAR TYPE DRILLING MACHINE

Used for its high-quality performance by renowned companies in India, the Kirloskar drilling machine offers more in operation than its competitors.

Special features:

- Extra heavy, internally ribbed, close grained cast-iron column.
- Close grained cast-iron head for heavy duty. Bearing surfaces are precision bored.
- Precision ball bearings for spindle.
- Power transmitted through internally splined sleeve to the top of spindle, for greater efficiency as compared to single-key drives.
- Base also provided with tee-slots for machining jobs of greater height.

Main Technical Data:

Drilling capacity in steel	25 mm
Drilling capacity in cast-iron	32 mm
Column dia.	100 mm
Centre of spindle to column	250 mm

Speeds: 370 to 2230 rpm (std.) 215 to 1480 rpm (optional).

Bench & Gang Type machines also available

In the world of the computer...

Additions at the rate of 100,000 a second! Pulses travel over eight inches of wire in less than one billionth of a second!

There's no denying the computer is here to stay It can sing, play chess and even start a war! Soon it will be used as casually as a telephone. Microminiaturization ? Nanosecond ? What do they mean to the lay man ?

Baffled by the complexity ? Deterred by the technical terms ? Not. if you read Science Today
